Village endorses both referenda

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

After presentations by the Antioch High School referendum committee and Dr. Dam of the Waterway Agency, village trustees voted to endorse both referenda slated for the March ballot. While the voting of the Waterway endorsement breezed through, some trustees had a more difficult time endorsing the school referendum.

"This is one taxing body authorizing another to increase taxes. I do not believe this is proper," said Trustee Wayne Foresta. "However, I am taking a different stance this year. This one time, I am changing my mind. I feel the funds are needed."

Foresta was not the only trustee not exactly comfortable with the issue.

"I still think people need to make up their own minds," said Trustee Ron Cunningham. Nevertheless, he too voted yes.

However, Mayor Marilyn Shineflug and the other trustees seemed to have no qualms about endorsing the school referendum.

"The passage of this is vital," said Shineflug. "It is our responsibility to pass this."

The school referendum presentation prior to the board meeting was given by school board members Joanne Osmond and Phillip Delaney. Before the vote, the board asked some hard questions of the two regarding the school's deficit and the impact on homeowners.

Waterway Agency Chairman Dr. William Dam's presentation of the upcoming Waterway referendum was to-the-point. Assisted by Wayne Black, the Lake County director, they quickly reviewed the good works of the agency and distributed fact sheets.

Both referenda were passed unanimously by the board.

Officials, candidates debate zoning plan

Power without representation a concern

MARY FOLEY

Opinions vary regarding the intergovernmental agreement section of the proposed Lake County Framework Plan.

One controversial aspect of the plan is the suggestion that in exchange for the acceptance of the plan and its boundaries, the County would enter into an intergovernmental agreement that would delegate zoning authority of unincorporated lands to the local municipality.

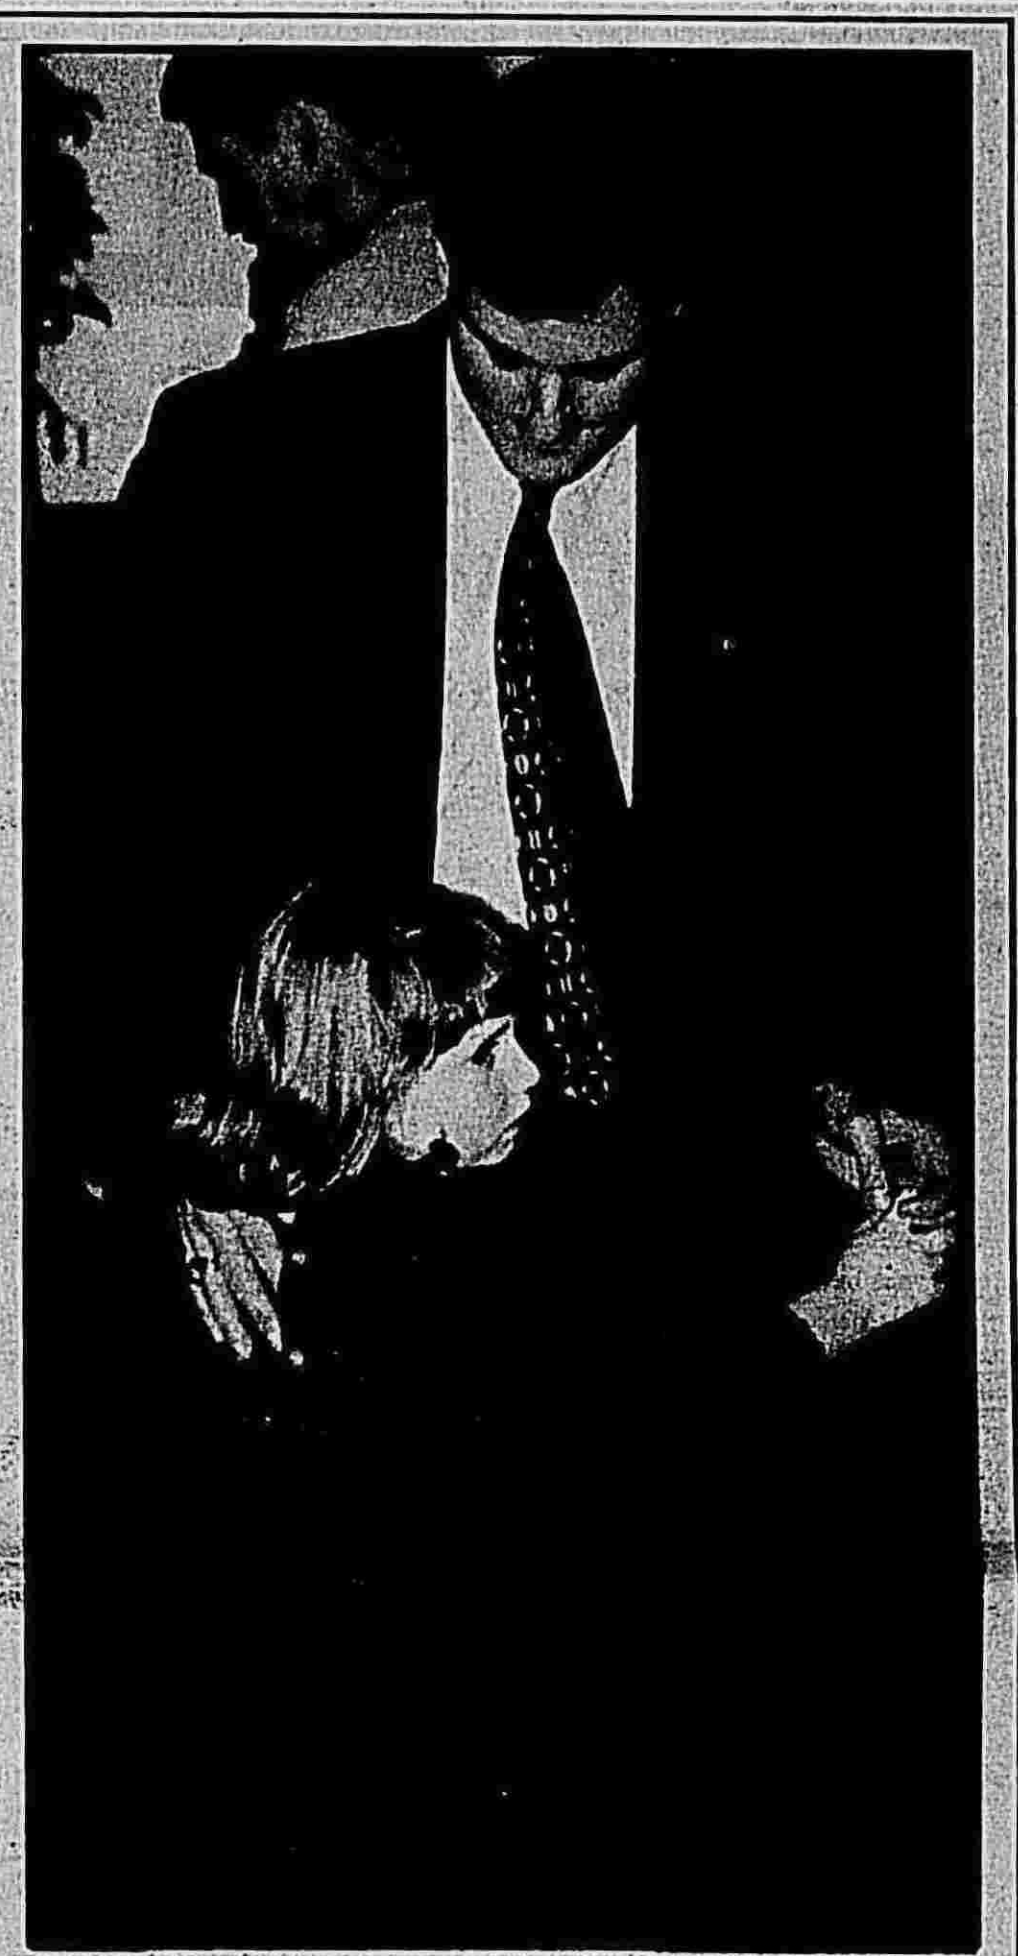

"It wasn't a surprise. I think that the state legislature should have done this 20 years ago," said Robert Silhan, Antioch Village Planner. "More cooperation between governments is good. This is the next evolutionary step to bring Illinois into the twentieth century."

However, county board candidates have a different view regarding this proposal. Judy Martini, Republican board candidate, would like to see the

Snowmobiler nabs loot in snowstorm

MARY FOLEY

The Bank of Waukegan branch office on the corner of Route 59 and Grass Lake Road in Antioch was robbed by a man driving a snowmobile. Both the Lake County Sheriff's Office and the FBI are investigating the matter.

On Tuesday, Feb. 8 at approximately 5:50 p.m., during what may be the worst winter storm of the season, an unidentified man approached the drive-thru window at the bank. He told the teller he had a bomb and laid what resembled a pipe bomb on the sill of the drive-up window.

After the robber took an unspecified amount of money, he fled in a northerly direction. The item he placed on the sill turned out not to be a bomb.

The robber had the advantage over police in a number of ways. According to reports, as a result of the snowstorm, the police were unable to reach the bank as quickly as they wished. The robber, on a snowmobile, was able to make a quick get-away. Another problem facing police is the fact the robber was wearing snowmobile gear. This may make identification of the robber See ROBBERY page A10

St. Peter's open house, a success

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

On Sunday, Feb. 6, St. Peter School celebrated Catholic School Week with an open house and registration for the '94-'95 school year. The school enjoyed a large turn-out of parents, parishioners, students, and potential students.

The St. Peter School Choir sang a number of selections, followed by a brief presentation by St. Peter School Band. Then it was on to the refreshments sponsored by the St. Peter Family Association.

Visitors were then treated to the children's artwork displayed in each homeroom and throughout the school. The faculty and staff were on hand to answer questions about the school and programs.

A registration table was set up in the gym for new students hoping to get a classroom spot. While most registration took place on Sunday, there may still be some openings in certain grades. Call the school at 395-0037 for more information.

St. Peter School continues to be a leader in the Archdiocese of Chicago in providing a quality Catholic education. While many Catholic parishes have lost their parish school as a result of financial problems, St. Peter School has a number of successful fundraising activities that subsidize school income such as Footlights, Market Day, Auctioneers Night, Open Door, Matching Gifts, the Council of Catholic Women, as well as gifts to the school.

A table was also set up at the open house to provide information regarding the Parental Choice in Education legislation, House Bill 0890. The bill would provide for the issuance by the State Board of Education of vouchers ($1,000) to the parents or guardians of pupils in any Illinois public or private school.

Parks plan improvements for '94

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The 1994 Park Improvement Plan was presented to the Antioch Village Board at its last meeting. The plan is the second year of a 5-year plan.

The plan, which is not final, will be sent to committee for review. Carol Todd of the Parks Department presented the plan to the board.

The highlights of the plan include two tennis courts at Centennial Park. Initially, a softball field was slated to be put in Centennial Park this year. However, parking issues have delayed that action. It is felt that tennis courts would not cause increased parking problems.

The Park's Department also plans to complete, in conjunction with Heron Harbor, the new park located on Routes 173 and 59. This park is expected to have soccer fields, a pavilion, two grills, and portable restrooms.

If the plan is approved, residents will see improvements in the village pool as well as repairs to the Hiram Buttrick Saw Mill. New play equipment and two permanent picnic tables are proposed for Osmond Park.

Homeowners' group to sponsor Waterway meeting

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Alliance for Better Government will sponsor several informational meetings regarding the upcoming referendums voters will be facing this March. The first meeting concerns the Waterway Management Agency's retention referendum.

The Waterway informational meeting will be held at the State Bank of the Lakes on Feb. 15, 7:30 p.m. The Waterway Agency had placed an advisory referendum on the March ballot to determine the future of the agency. The question, "Shall the Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway Management Agency continue to exist", initially was an advisory referendum, which was not binding. However, in an action by the state legislature, the referendum will no longer be advisory, but binding.

Since the motion was passed by both houses of the legislature and signed by Governor James Edgar, further action by area legislators will not be required. Which now makes the upcoming referendum a do-or-die proposition for the Waterways Agency.

The Alliance hopes that as many people from Antioch as possible will attend the meeting. Representatives from the Waterways Agency will provide information and allow for questions from the audience.

Radon program to begin in Antioch

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Lake County Health Department is about to embark on a public information program to educate county residents about the potential danger of radon in residences. While no definitive studies have been done, county officials are recommending everyone have their homes tested for radon.

The Village of Antioch has recently set up a testing program to assist citizens. For a $25 fee, the Village of Antioch Public Works Department will send a representative to your home to take a screening test for radon.

"Everybody should test for radon," said Chris Carter, associate sanitarian for the Lake County Health Department's Environmental Health Division. "We are a zone 2, which means there is a moderate potential for radon."

Radon is a radioactive gaseous element formed by the disintegration of radium in the soil. Uranium is a naturally occurring element in soil. As it disintegrates in the soil underneath homes, the gas then seeps up into the house. While you can't see it or smell it, radon is estimated to cause thousands of deaths a year.

Breathing air that contains radon can cause lung cancer. According to the Surgeon General, radon is the second leading cause of lung cancer in the United States. Smokers with radon in the home are at particular risk.

To allay any fears regarding exposure, the Village of Antioch will be offering the new service. In addition, Lake County will be initiating informational programs.

"We are going to start a radon awareness program in the county," said Carter. "The program is directed toward recognition of the problem and providing information."

YMCA holds registration

The Hastings Lake YMCA Community Center holds spring registration through Feb. 14. Spring classes begin on Feb. 20, sign up early to ensure classes are available. For more information call 356-4006.

Lower Grade to hold Fun Fair

On Saturday, Feb. 12, the Antioch Lower Grade School PTO will be sponsoring a fun fair at the Antioch Lower Grade School from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. This event is targeted for elementary aged children.

The fair is free and will feature games, children's crafts, and food. The tickets for the games will cost 25 cents each.

Bring the children on by for hot dogs, pizza, and a whole lot of fun.

Carnival plans in the making

The 885 Civic Club of Antioch has received approval from the Antioch Village Board to hold their annual carnival on May 4 through May 8. The proceeds of the carnival go to numerous charities and organizations in the community. These include the Lake County Girl Scout Troops, The Order of the Rainbow Girls 23, Antioch Fire Department, Antioch Rescue Squad, PADS, Antioch Food Pantry, Lake County Historical Society, Junior Police Cadets, and the Antioch Chamber of Commerce. The 885 Civic Club, in association with the Antioch Sequoit Masonic Lodge and the Order of the Eastern Star also host an annual Lake County Handicapped Children's Picnic every year with at least 200 in attendance.

Candy Days scheduled for April

The Misericordia Heart of Mercy has received permission to hold their Candy Days on April 29 and 30. Events like the Candy Days help make it possible for the group to provide good lives for the 450 children and young adults with mental disabilities who call Misericordia home.

Cookie time again

The Girl Scouts will be selling cookies to the public in Antioch from March 4 through March 21. The proceeds of the sale of cookies helps to fund local troop programs and support council services.

Armchair Mysteries at library

On Thursday, Feb. 17, the Antioch District Library will offer a program by Alvina Stone Dale on Armchair Mysteries. The event will be held in the meeting room of the library. The program is free but please register at the library or call 395-0874 if you plan to attend. The library is located on Main Street in Antioch, south of North Street. Everyone is welcome to this event.

Pre-school screenings at Emmons

Emmons School District 33 has scheduled pre-school screenings for children living in the Emmons District. Parents who are concerned about their pre-school child's speech, general progress, or other developmental skills may have their child screened by the Emmons staff on March 18, in the afternoon. The screening is for 3- and 4-year-olds, not children who will be entering kindergarten in the fall, unless there is a concern. Call Emmons School by March 11 if interested (395-1105).

Women's Club offers scholarship

The Antioch Junior Women's Club is offering a $500 scholarship to anyone residing in Antioch Township who is, or will be, a full-time student at a two- or four-year college. Applications for the scholarship are available at the Antioch Village Hall, Antioch Township Library, Antioch Community High School guidance office, and the College of Lake County financial aid office. The deadline to return the applications is April 15. A committee will anonymously select the recipient based on scholastic ability, merit, and financial need. The winner will be notified in May. The Antioch Junior Women's Club is an organization which serves the Antioch community through charitable and philanthropic activities, while promoting intellectual development and sociability among its members.

Library has novel idea

The Oakland School has a way to enhance the school library with Library Book Club. For $10, a library book will be purchased and dedicated in the student's name. Best of all, the student then has first crack at checking out the book. For more information call Cheri at 838-1519.

ACHS teacher goes to Washington

Sue Schmitt, an English teacher at Antioch Community High School, will be representing the teachers of Illinois in Washington, DC on Feb. 23-27 at the meeting of the National Education Association Resolutions Committee. Schmitt was elected by the Illinois Education Association delegates to serve on this policy making committee and will serve for a year as one of five people representing the 80,000 IEA members. The work the committee completes in February is reviewed by the delegates and will be voted on in July at the next assembly meeting in New Orleans. Schmitt will represent Illinois at the summer meeting of the committee.

Students in Science Olympiad

For the first time, Antioch Upper Grade School students will be participating in the Illinois Science Olympiad. This is a contest that matches science and problem solving skills of students against other participants from other schools. AUGS teachers Mr. Brown, Mr. Marshall, Mrs. Segersten, and Ms. Walker are coaching the students for the regional contest at Hawthorn Junior High School on Feb. 12.

AUGS to host band contest

The Antioch Upper Grade School will be hosting the District 8 Illinois Grade School Music Solo and Ensemble Contest. This all day event will take place on Feb. 26 and 16 school, including AUGS will be participating. Catherine Miller, choir director, and Earl Bush, band director, will be preparing students for the contest.

Emmons PTO dinner dance

The 17th annual PTO dinner dance will be held on Saturday, Feb. 19 at Maravela's in Fox Lake. Chairpersons Kitty Wiegel and B.J. Dille are looking for willing volunteers to help them with this exciting event. Ticket sales will begin soon. There are many great raffle items, but more are needed.

Millburn Library is going high tech

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Millburn School is seeking to connect its library with other libraries across the state and eventually across the nation.

The plan is for the library to take a three-step process. The first step is to put all the books on computer software, step two is to provide students with the computers and the software to access the information, and step three is to eventually connect with other libraries across the state and the nation.

"We are going to computerize the card catalogue so students can access it on computer," Librarian Carolyn Pittman said. "We will be able to access a nationwide computer network. We want to be in the big leagues."

The school has already received a library grant from the North Suburban Library District to input the books on a centralized computer network. The books will be coded by Pittman and three volunteers which will save the district $3,500 because the library won't have to send out to get the books coded.

"Luckily we have dedicated volunteers. We have a real commitment to do this," Pittman said.

Pittman said she hopes to be completed with step one by September. She estimates the software necessary to put the information in a usable form will cost about $2,500. The computers to let the students use the software also needs to be purchased.

Pittman expects the library has an excellent chance of receiving another grant for the software. The library still needs the IBM compatible computers to run the software.

Donations are needed to fund the hardware and possibly part of the software cost. The district residents have been supportive in providing new technology last year by giving the necessary funds for a computer lab.

The final step involves connecting the software to other libraries across the state and eventually across the nation. Pittman said the state has a system called Illnet which is a computer network of all state libraries.

The time frame on the final two steps depends on the ability of the library to obtain the funds and equipment necessary and the pace of technology itself.

Antioch not interested in Grass Lake merge

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

After a lengthy discussion, the Board of Education at Antioch Community Consolidated School District 34 has declined the invitation by Grass Lake School District to discuss the possibility of annexing the smaller district. The board is planning to letter to Grass Lake School explaining their decision.

Consideration of the consolidation of Grass Lake School was only in the very early discussion stages when the school approached District 34. Grass Lake had just begun to discuss the pros and cons of such a move.

One of the major stumbling blocks in the consolidation proposal is the problem of space. Grass Lake District includes grades kindergarten through eighth. If the school combined, Grass Lake would be the only District 34 school which would house sixth-, seventh-, and eighth-graders. Antioch Upper Grade School, the middle school for the district, is already facing space constraints and would have great difficulty accommodating junior high school students from Grass Lake.

It is not known if Grass Lake will approach any other district in the area. The closest school, Emmons, currently has a building referendum as a result of space constraints in that school.

Persons charged with a crime are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

ANTIOCH

Man charged in store theft

A McHenry man, Brent Broihahn, age 32, was arrested for theft when the manager spotted him in the parking lot of a local store with a Budget Gourmet frozen dinner on Feb. 5. Broihahn, an employee of the store was stopped, and found to be in possession of a Panasonic shaver, a bottle of cologne, and a bottle of skin care lotion in his coat. According to the report, Broihahn admitted to prior thefts that included a Kodak camera worth $39, more cologne valued at $17, pens valued at $4, and Q-tips valued at $2. Broihahn promised to pay restitution and was released on bond.

Fight breaks out at restaurant

In the early morning hours of Feb. 6, a melee occurred between security staff and three allegedly intoxicated men in snowmobile suits at the Waterfall Restaurant. Because there were no eyewitnesses and the alleged offenders were sporting injuries and refused to cooperate with police, no charges were brought. However, police did recommend to the security staff to call police the next time patrons refuse to leave the premises.

Antioch man caught in the act

Roy Raymond Watrows, age 39, of Antioch, was arrested for burglary at an Antioch business. Watrows, a former employee, was observed removing a VCR from a warehouse office. The complainant tackled Watrows to the ground when Watrows attempted to flee. When officers arrived, the complainant had pinned Watrows to the ground.

Door broken in domestic dispute

On Feb. 6, during a domestic dispute, a man kicked a locked door, breaking the door jamb into pieces and forcing the door open. Damage was estimated to be $400.

DUI arrest after accident

Steven T. Shipway, age 19, of Antioch, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol after becoming involved in an accident on Main Street. Shipway was released on bond.

Man hits woman with putty knife

Robert Weber, age 22, of Antioch, was arrested after breaking into his home with a putty knife after a dispute, and hitting the victim on the hand with the same knife. As the victim attempted to call police, a shoving match ensued and the victim was hit in the face. After his arrest, Weber was released on bond.

LINDENHURST

Caught with marijuana

Police reported Paul Caliendo, 27, 38828 Deep Lake Road, Lake Villa, on Feb. 2, was arrested for possession of marijuana, driving under the influence of alcohol, and improper lane usage. The officer was going south on Deep Lake Road and saw the Caliendo's vehicle in driving in the wrong lane and had to swerve to avoid him. The officer stopped him and he failed field sobriety tests. He refused a breath test and was found to have 2.5 ounces of a green leafy substance on a pat down search tested positive for marijuana. He was released on a $100 bond and is scheduled to appear in court at Waukegan on March 8.

Caught drinking and driving

Police reported Dieten Schmidtke, 1813, Burr Oak, Lindenhurst, on Feb. 6, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol. Schmidtke's vehicle made a left turn on to Old Elm Road and was driving in towards the wrong lane. Another car avoided his vehicle and he was stopped by police. He failed field sobriety tests and had a blood alcohol reading of .20. He was released on a $100 bond and is scheduled to appear in court on March 8 at Waukegan.

Police reported Rick Camellino, 26, 32270 Route 83, Grayslake, on Feb. 2, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol, failure to signal, driving too fast for conditions and no seat belt. The officer spotted Camellino's vehicle driving out of RJ's and spinning on the ice on Verona Ave and driving in the middle lane. Camellino said to the officer "Yes I had a lot to drink but I would have made it home OK." He failed field sobriety tests and had a blood alcohol content of .20. He was remanded to jail because he refused to be bonded and wouldn't cooperate with police.

Truck damaged while parked

On Feb. 1, a Mazda pick-up truck was damaged while it was parked in the lot of the State Highway Garage. Damage was done to the right front fender directly above the wheel well. Repair costs are estimated to be $250.

Dishwasher stolen from home

A theft occurred on Feb. 1 when person(s) unknown removed a dishwasher from a home under construction on Tylerton Circle. The dishwasher was still in its original carton and the replacement cost is $211.43.

Woman demands to be arrested

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Lori Jefferson-Van Fossen, age 30, of Antioch was arrested for disorderly conduct, criminal trespass, and resisting a peace officer after demanding Antioch Police arrest her.

Initially, police were called to an Antioch residence and found a woman kicking the door and yelling threats at 3 a.m. on Feb. 1. Fortunately for the woman, the victim refused to press charges.

However, police did notice that the woman seemed to be under the influence and took away her car keys for her own protection. The officers then offered to arrange a ride home for the woman.

These arrangements did not please the woman and she became combative and irrational, demanding the return of her keys. After heroic efforts to convince the woman to accept a ride, she began kicking the police station door yelling, "Arrest me, I'm not going."

Police were forced to grant the woman her wish and charged her with disorderly conduct and resisting a peace officer. But, the fracas was still not over.

After being placed in a cell, Jefferson-Van Fossen continued to curse the officers. When given a cup of coffee, according to the report she threw it at them.

Later, she began to complain of pain, telling officers she had mixed alcohol with pain killers she was taking for a pre-existing medical condition. The night ended when Jefferson-Van Fossen was finally transported to Victory Hospital.

Village officials help Kevin and Julie Hucker celebrate the grand opening of Ultimate Body Health & Racquet Club.

Ultimate Health Club ready for business

CLAUDIA M. LENART

Regional Editor

After extensive remodeling and cleaning, the Ultimate Body Health & Racquet Club has opened on Route 83 in Antioch.

Owners of the club, Kevin and Julie Hucker, said they plan to operate a comfortable, spa-like club, rather than a hard-core gym.

"We're not Mr. and Mrs. fit," said Kevin Hucker. "But sometimes we go to Lake Geneva to a nice resort where everybody works out and feels comfortable. We want this to be a spa atmosphere, rather than a gym."

and Ruth Hucker, were long-time owners of the Lake Villa Chrysler-Plymouth and supported him in this venture. Kevin and his wife also formerly owned Ultimate Body Tanning Salon in Lake Villa.

The club offers circuit training, stairmasters, treadmills, free weights, a variety of aerobic classes, wallyball, basketball, racquetball, whirlpool spas, dry saunas, child care, tanning and more.

Kevin said he plans to offer safety classes in fire prevention and CPR training for a minimal fee. He also has an instructor who will teach woman's self defense classes.

The Huckers, with the help of friends, have transformed the building into a very clean and comfortable club, but they have plans for further expansion. Kevin said he would like to eventually add a pool and a running track.

Individual memberships run from $200 to $400 depending on the plan. However, early birds can get $50 off a year membership through Feb. 15. The club also offers corporate memberships and the Antioch village board has already signed up.

Hours at the club are 5 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Friday; 6 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturday; and 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., Sunday. For more information call 395-9200.

Doug, Karen, and Jennifer Schreiber welcome Kelsey

New Arrival

Doug and Karen Schreiber proudly announce the birth of their second beautiful daughter, Kelsey Lynn was born on Friday, Jan. 21. She made her way into the world weighing 7 lbs. 13 oz. at Lake Forest Hospital. Kelsey is very lucky to have a terrific, five year old big sister named Jennifer. Congratulations, everyone and Jennifer, I know you'll make the best big sister ever.

AUGS

The Antioch Upper Grade School recently received a grant from the State Board of Education. It is a school improvement grant and will give AUGS the opportunity to learn about the Middle School concept. As this concept is researched, parents will be informed of any changes that will better serve the students. The AUGS has organized a chapter of the National Junior Honor Society. It will be open to grades seven and eight, who have demonstrated academic excellence, for leadership, citizenship and service. The AUGS math student of the month is Kelly Kuatz for achieving the

PM&L

The cast of the PM&L production "Nunsense" includes Dolores Finley, Christina Heilgeist, Donna Badtke, Gigi Willding and Bert Johnson. The director is Marke Badtke and Peter Pintozzi is the stage manager. Remaining show dates are Feb. 11, 12, 13, 18, 19, and 20. Seating is limited and the theatre urges all theatre patrons to call 395-3055 for reservations.

Congratulations

If the following is a sign of old age, give me more. The list of my friends and acquaintances who are experiencing granny/grampa hood is growing and I think this is wonderful. My dear friends Ceilia and Victor Bennett of Oxford, Georgia (formally of Antioch) joined the ranks of Grandparents on Thursday, Jan. 20, when their beautiful daughter Cari Maloof presented the birth of little Nicholas Joseph Maloof Jr., who weighed in at 7 lbs. 8 oz. and was 22" long. He was born at 5:05 p.m. and made his entry into the world on Jan. 20. Congratulations everyone and believe me when I say you are truly blessed.

Belated birthdays

A little birdie told me that four-year-old Amy O'Quinn was rather upset with the "Lizard" when her name was not included in my January birthday list. Sorry Amy, I will try to do better next year. I now extend you a very Happy January 5 belated birthday wish. Daniel Cleven turned one year old on January 20. On his first birthday he came into Camp Crayon with his cousin Tiffany Mihovilovich. Tiffany was very excited and proud to tell everyone it was his first birthday. Little Daniel was happily clutching a helium birthday balloon as he toddled in and out of camp.

No control

As a result of our severe cold spell, my daughter Karen's car would not start. In an effort to get it going, we put it in our heated garage overnight. The next day my hubby worked on it and soon the engine kicked over and it was ready for a trial run. He drove it out of the garage and slowly made his way out of our sub-division. A patch of ice on Elime Road caused the car to swerve and spin, it eventually came to a halt in the ditch and deep snow on the side of the road. With the assistance of a neighbor, a tow rope and our truck, Karen's car was soon in business and none the worse for wear. However, knowing her car was/is her baby, hubby was reluctant (more like scared) to tell her of his mishap with her treasured vehicle. On the other hand I "sang like a canary" at the first opportunity. Sorry, Jim, the devil made me do it!!

Baby makes three

Mike and Tami Gofron of Antioch are very happy to announce the birth of their first child. Little Lindsey Marie Gofron made her way into the world on January 18 at Lake Forest Hospital. She tipped the scales at 8 lbs. 3 oz. Although Lindsey Marie has no older sisters or brothers to spoil her, many cousins from both sides of the family are waiting in the wings to perform this vital service. Congratulations everyone!! Mike, I just want to tell you that little girls like to fish too. It looks like you have yourself a new fishing partner and maybe it is time for a bigger boat.

Lotus/Forest schools

The following students participated in the St. Jude Math-A-Thon and raised over $700 for the worthy cause: Amber Davey, Mathew Janowicz, Megan Lukeer, Stephanie Minkalis, Jeff Mohr, Samantha Rivera, Jessica Schaff, Brian Wilson and Alexis Wittlieb. A team of teachers are looking into a different report card system for grades 1 to 3 beginning with the 1994-95 school year. They are considering the possibility of not using letter grades and replacing it with a different type of system. If you have a child in these Lotus/Forest grades and have any thoughts on the subject, contact the Principal, JoAnn Fleshman at 587-7331 or 587-8275.

Six more weeks of winter

It's official, six more weeks of winter are before us. This isn't a statement from the National Weather Bureau, but rather from our national groundhog who saw his shadow last week. Here are some ideas to help beat those winter blues that are setting in:

Four Squires is offering tremendous savings on business and casual apparel. With their personal service and guidance, you're sure to find that special outfit for him or her.

If you're looking for a large size range, try Flo's. Offering petites through size 20, it's easy to find something special. With prices cut way down on their clearance racks, some great buys can be snatched up in dressy and casual wear.

There are still deals to be found at BJ's Fashions for Men. Sweaters are just one way of beating this cold weather. You'll find a great selection at appealing prices.

If your child is starting to look a bit ragged around the edges in their winter wardrobe, spruce it up with unique apparel from Choosey Child. Prices have been slashed for final clearance. If you have an infant or toddler, try thinking ahead to next winter. Winter sports is one way of tackling winter head on. If ice skating is on your list of must do's, keep in mind that Antioch Family Sports buys and sells used figure and hockey skates. You'll also find ski masks and neck warmers still in stock.

For those of you who worry about your outdoor feathered friends, Floral Acres is running a special on birdseed in their lawn and garden department. Those of you who are railroad enthusiasts should stop by and see their selection of model railroads. Or if blooming plants would cheer up these bleak days, visit their greenhouses, where out-of-season and in-season plants are grown. There are just a couple of days left before Valentine's Day, but still time to order a special bouquet or plant.

Another local florist is Laco's, located on Main Street. They pride themselves as being Antioch's oldest retail established, having opened in 1945. Operating as a full-service florist, they provide everything in the floral range.

If pampering yourself appeals to you, call Electrolysis By Barbara, located at Flo's, for safe and permanent hair removal. She's happy to answer any questions you have regarding electrolysis.

Remember to order your Valentine ice cream cakes at Baskin Robbins, located on Orchard Street. February's flavor of the month is "Chuck A Cherry Burning Love," perfect for the holiday. Hot chocolate, cider, and coffee is also available to help warm you up.

Hearts and bunnies can be found at Kathy's Cottage for Valentine and Easter gifts. A spring arrangement of silk flowers can brighten any room.

New furnishing can always brighten a home. Patricia's Fine Furniture, located on Lake Street, displays beautiful Amish designed and handcrafted furniture and gifts. They just expanded their shop to create more room for hutches, dining room sets, sofas, bedroom furniture, etc. Custom orders are welcome from the wide range of woods and stains available.

Editor's note: Shop Antioch is a weekly newsletter prepared and written by Barbara Porch of Choosey Child.

Emmons School gets ready to blast off

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Emmons School District is preparing for its 4th annual space simulation on Feb. 15-16. The Space Simulation Program will be a 24-hour event this year in which students will man a simulated mission control, a space station, and a space shuttle.

Parents and students have constructed self-contained habitats to house the astronauts. They will be linked by radio and computer to Mission Control, which will be staffed by classmates. The astronauts will conduct experiments and monitor their vital signs throughout the mission.

Some of the experiments will include creating their own biosphere and growing things in space. The students will be taking snails into "space" and record scientific data.

The program is coordinated by the Lake County Business Industry and Education Consortium (LCBIEC). Several years ago, a small group of educators and business leaders decided to address the growing need to improve science, math, and technology literacy. Realizing that space exploration not only captured the imagination of children, but was also an interdisciplinary wonderland of teaching possibilities.

In the past three years, 31 schools and 3,000 children in grades one through 12 have participated in this program. Major funding of the program comes from the Illinois State Board of Education science literacy project provided by the Illinois State Legislature. Additional funds and support is provided by local donations and equipment from individuals, schools, and businesses.

"It is a way to do cooperative training," explained Cindi Vandrush, one of the teachers involved in the program. "It integrates math, science, and English."

Students, however, learn a great deal more from the space simulation. In order to have a position in the mission, students are required to fill out an application. Along with the application, they must include letters of recommendation. This teaches students both business writing skills as well as job seeking skills.

Computer skills are also taught to students in the program. A centralized computer is installed in Waukegan and coordinates the Bulletin Board Service (BBS). Through the BBS, each participating school can communicate with other schools. Students will do the actual operating of the communication equipment. Several middle school students have been selected to work at the "County Mission Control."

The "blast off" assembly will be Monday, Feb. 14 at 2 p.m. Tours of mission control will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. February 15.

Prevention is key to fire safety

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

An ounce of prevention is more than an old saying in Antioch. The members of the Antioch Fire Department Fire Prevention Bureau endorse it 100 percent.

The Fire Prevention Bureau are active 365 days-a-year conducting tours and educational programs to teach fire prevention. Captain Rich Frankson and firefighter Chris Lienhardt have some very strong feelings about fire prevention.

"Firefighting is mainly reactive," said Frankson. "We respond when we are called to a fire or any other emergency activity. Public education however, gives us the opportunity to be proactive in an effort to fight fires."

The program itself has expanded to include the Antioch Rescue Squad. A concerted effort is being made to enable residents to gain a better understanding of both the fire department and rescue squad activities. Rescue Squad members Don Burnett and John Ruffin offer educational tours of one of the squad's ambulances.

The educational programs are not just for children, however. Last week the Antioch Woman's Club toured the facilities.

Any group interested in scheduling a tour can contact Chris Lienhardt or Capt. Rich Frankson at 395-5511 or 395-8437.

Defensive driving rescheduled

The "Third Overflow" session of the "55-Alive" defensive driving program co-sponsored by the American Association of Retired Persons and First Chicago Bank, Antioch, set for Tuesday and Wednesday, Jan. 18 and 19 had to be postponed due to the extreme cold weather which hit on those days. It has now been rescheduled for the same days of the week, Tuesday and Wednesday, four weeks later: Feb. 15 and 16, 1 to 5 p.m. at the Antioch Senior Center, 817 Holbek Dr.

"It was booked beyond capacity for the first two-day session, Nov. 16 and 17," says First Chicago Bank, Antioch President Carl McWherter. "The second, held Nov. 30 and Dec. 1 was also over-booked. Then the third (and final for at least a year) was almost full, when we had to postpone on account of the weather."

"Everyone already registered for the Jan. 18 and 19 session is automatically registered for the Feb. 15 to 16 session, at the Antioch Senior Center, 1 to 5 p.m.

each day. Participants must attend both sessions to receive credit on their existing insurance premiums. The reduction in premiums for participating drivers is mandatory in Illinois, and valid for three years. In Wisconsin, the reduction is optional for each insurance company. Reductions vary according to amount and type of insurance coverage, but can be significant.

Eighth District Congressman Philip M. Crane applauded Texas Congressman Henry Gonzales, chairman of the House Banking Committee, for his decision to hold committee hearings this year on the Whitewater Development Corporation of Arkansas. The Texas congressman also agreed to hold hearings this month on the handling of failed savings and loan institutions by the Resolution Trust Corporation.

"The mandate of a Special

Counsel is very different from that of a congressional committee," Congressman Crane noted. "The Special Counsel is looking into criminal activities in the Arkansas mess, while a congressional probe would examine public ethics, public policy and public losses."

"I certainly hope the Chairman will soon see the necessity of a congressional probe into Madison, whose failure cost U.S. taxpayers some $50 million," Congressman Crane declared.

Children found in filthy apartment

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

The story of 19 Chicago children living in wretched conditions made headlines across the nation. Although the incident hit a nerve, it still seemed far removed from the world of north Lake County.

Yet, when Lindenhurst Police went to a Grandwood Park apartment to serve a search warrant, they found a filthy area not fit for kids to live in.

Unfortunately for two girls, 9 and 11, they were living there, a place with half-eaten food on the floor, cockroaches and garbage bags not being taken out. The children were taken to the custody of the grandmother as the Department of Child and Family Services investigates the case.

Arrested on a warrant for theft charges was Patricia Patten, 28, 36137, Grandwood Park, Gurnee. She was charged with theft from Four Star Video in Lindenhurst. Patten was unable to post bond and was taken to Lake County Jail. One of the girls was her's and another was her sister's.

"It was awful," said Lindenhurst Police Chief Jack McKeever. "In 20 years this is up there as one of the worst cases I've ever seen. There were clothes all over the floor up about a foot thick."

According to police reports, the apartment was completely filthy and covered with clothes some of which were soiled. The report goes on to describe half-eaten food laying on the ground and around the TV.

In the kitchen there were at least four full garbage bags. The officers noticed a group of cockroaches in the kitchen area and the smell of the garbage bags gave out a strong pungent odor.

"She said she didn't see anything wrong. She was just didn't get around to folding the laundry," McKeever.

McKeever said the issue of child neglect is prevalent with the Chicago incident. He said people are more willing to speak out against this kind of abuse.

The decision was made by police to place the children with the grandmother pending a DCFS investigation. The DCFS agreed with the decision, according to McKeever.

The arrest was made in an unincorporated area in Lake County but Lindenhurst Police made a report and took their own pictures. The case is being turned over to DCFS and Lake County Police.

Fire claims business

TPI Air Freight Inc. was completely destroyed by an early morning fire Feb. 6. Libertyville Police Officer Chris Hein was cruising the area on a routine patrol when he discovered the fire at 5:20 a.m. Flames were already through the roof when the Fire Department arrived two minutes later.

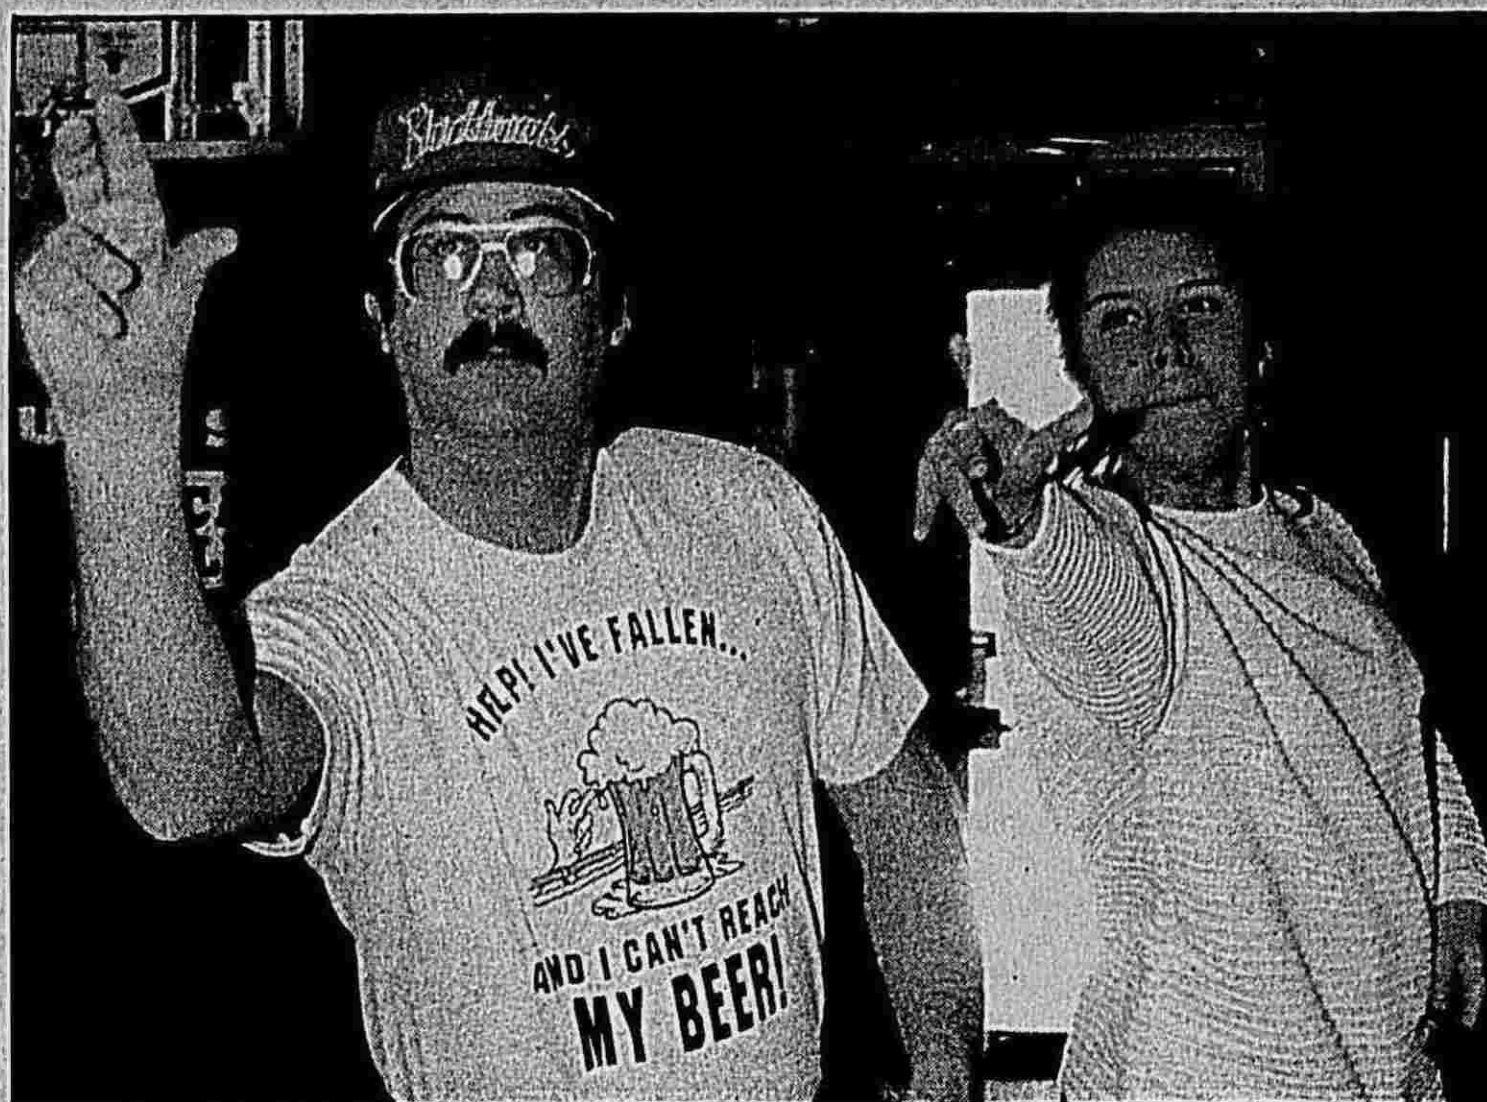

"We went to a second alarm," said Lt. Gerald Nellessen of the Libertyville Fire Department. "There was a substantial wind from the south."

Neighboring units responding to the alarm included Knollwood, Countryside, Mundelein, Vernon and Gurnee. They were covered by Grayslake, Lake Villa-Long Grove and Lake Zurich.

The 3,500-square-foot building, located at 530 North Ave., was a total loss, estimated at $300,000. Kaskor Industries, only 1 foot away at 510 North Ave., sustained between $2,000 and $3,000 damage to the coping around the roof.

Firefighters were at the scene cleaning up until 7:30 a.m. Investigators worked until 2 p.m., but no cause has yet been determined. The business is owned by Paul Battershell.

Former officer indicted for murder

SPENCER SCHEIN

Staff Reporter

Former Island Lake Police Officer Rena Jensen was indicted by a Lake County grand jury on five counts, including attempted first degree murder, in the shooting of her boyfriend last summer.

Jensen, 30, of rural Fremont Township, was arrested Feb. 2 and has remained in custody at the Lake County Jail in Waukegan on $250,000 bond. Lake County Assistant State's Attorney Matthew Chancey said the other charges included armed violence, aggravated battery with a firearm, aggravated discharge of a firearm and obstruction of justice.

Her indictment came more than six months after James E. Johnson, also 30, was found the early morning of July 13 shot once in the side of his head in the trailer they had been sharing for the past week. Officials said the bullet used came from a .45-caliber handgun owned by Jensen.

Johnson was believed to have been fatally wounded, but has made a miraculous recovery after having been in a coma for a few weeks. He regained consciousness after being taken off of a life-support system at Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge, and has since been moved to a rehabilitation center in Milwaukee.

If convicted, Jensen could be sentenced to 6 to 30 years in prison, Chancey said.

She allegedly shot him during an argument the two were having, but initially told police officers on the scene Johnson had been shot accidentally while cleaning the gun.

In previous interviews, Lake County Assistant State's Attorney Jeffrey J. Pavletic said her statements did not make sense with two bullets lodged in the ceiling.

Jensen resigned from the Island Lake Police Department this past October after facing disciplinary charges. She had been on the force for two years and was the village's first female officer.

Johnson had worked part-time on a horse farm and as a fire fighter and paramedic in Wauconda.

Jensen continually filed motions to delay both the Island Lake and grand jury proceedings, most recently claiming to have been kicked by a horse.

Jensen's arraignment was to have taken place Feb. 8, but was moved to the next morning after she filed a motion for a substitute judge, Chancey said.

The case was to have been heard by Judge Henry S. Tonnigan III, and will now be presided over by Judge Raymond McKoski.

Attempts to reach Robert Hauser, Jensen's attorney, for comment, were unsuccessful.

Wauconda Fire Fighter Bill Hoover, Johnson's close friend, speaks with him frequently and said he is doing pretty well and is still improving.

He was also glad the indictments came down. "I am very excited that the grand jury came down with the charges they did," he said. "She has caused a lot of pain to a lot of people, (including family and friends), and I don't think people realize that."

Geo-Karis urges donations

State Senator Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion) is encouraging Lake County residents to help the homeless by voluntarily designating some of their state income tax refund money for the Homeless Assistance Fund when they file their returns this year.

"Using the tax form check-off is an easy way to contribute to a better life for families and individuals in this state who are without homes," Sen. Geo-Karis said. "All money donated helps to support local agencies that provide shelter, food and other services to the homeless."

Sen. Geo-Karis said taxpayers can write in a contribution of $1 or more in the Homeless Assistance Fund space (Line 15d) on their state income tax forms.

Zoning

county and municipalities incorporate a public hearing process into the implementation of zoning authority in unincorporated areas.

"Also, I'd like to see a special planning committee made up of township and municipal delegates so the township can have a voice," said Martini. "Particularly, if the municipality requests a deviation on unincorporated land."

Democratic candidate Grant Farrell is also concerned with the representation of unincorporated areas in the zoning process.

"I would hope there would be somebody to represent the unincorporated areas," said Farrell. "I would like to see more specific language in the intergovernmental agreements. This needs to be followed up."

Kenneth Domanchuk had some stronger language regarding this suggestion in the framework plan.

"I think it is good idea to get the governments together," said Domanchuk. "However, I cannot accept this. People would be telling us what to do and we would not even have the right to vote them in or out of office."

Jim Fields discussed the proposed section of the plan in terms of his position as Antioch Township Supervisor.

"This does not affect the township in that it is not a municipality," explained Fields. "Several years ago we tried to exercise veto power over zoning issues and the state said no. It would affect the Village of Antioch which is a municipality."

At this time, a local municipality has the right to object, within a 1/12 mile radius of the municipality's boundaries, to a county zoning approved plan. The adoption of this proposal would change the Village of Antioch's zoning power over unincorporated areas from reactive to a more directive power.

It must be emphasized that the plan has not yet been approved by the Lake County Board and is expected to come to a vote in April or May.

Robbery

more difficult.

"He was wearing a snowmobile helmet," said Lt. Chet Iwan. "We have a few difficulties with this one."

According to Bob Long of the FBI, the man is described as a white male, in his 20s, with either a sandy or brown colored mustache. He was wearing a black or blue covered face mask and a black helmet.

"Someone wearing a mask or helmet makes it much more difficult," explained Long. "Amazingly, we catch three out of four anyway."

Another problem is the fact that the robber was outside.

With no eyewitnesses, and with the teller only really seeing the robbers head, police will have their hands full.

"The less we have, the tougher is it," said Long. "Still, it amazes me how many we catch."

The Bank of Waukegan has refused to comment at this time.

NICC derby, fun for a good cause

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The 34th annual Ice Fishin' Derby and Winter Festival, sponsored by the NICC is only a week away. On Feb. 12 and 13, thousands will be out on the Chain for kids games, ice skating, raffles, ice bowling, carnival games, penny raffle, pony rides, ice shanty contest, an auction, food and refreshments, and, of course, the fishing.

All the proceeds of the derby and festival go to the Northern Illinois Conservation Club (NICC). The club was founded in 1960 by a few sportsmen. As the numbers of member grew, the group has become more conservation oriented. The NICC has worked closely with the Illinois Department of Conservation and has even rented equipment to them.

"We were the major agent in saving the Spring Grove Hatchery," said Aileen Pientka, president of the organization. "It was one of the two major fish hatcheries in Illinois. It supplies the fish in the waterways around here."

Originally, the NICC rented property on Route 173. Eight years ago the group purchased a 62-acre wildlife preserve off Route 83 on Loon Lake.

"It is a pristine piece of property, 96 percent wetlands," said Pientka. "It has been categorized as a superior wetland. It helps keep the waterways clear and protects the wildlife. We are very proud of it."

The group's focus is sensible conservation which takes into account that not everything in life can be saved. NICC emphasizes education and sponsors several youth programs. The property itself is a wonderland 12 months a year with roughly 20 miles of walking trails chuck full of wildlife.

"With the hectic pace of modern life, sometimes the pressure gets to much," Pientka explains. "Some people come out here, grab a sandwich, and enjoy nature. It is wonderfully restorative."

Membership dues are very reasonable. A family membership is priced at $35 while an individual membership is $25. To join call 395-NICC or 395-3916.

The annual fishing derby, a must-attend event, has a low registration fee of only $2. Fishermen and fisherwomen can win thousands of prizes. The purchase of a ticket gives the buyer a chance to win one of 19 Grand Prizes with a combined value of $5,000. There will be winners of big and small fish with $1,550 prize money for derby winners. There will be a timed fishing challenge, and over 1,000 hourly fishing prizes.

Along with fishing, there will be an auction at derby headquarters, Wasz's Resort and Marina on Channel Lake. Included in the auction will be two mystery boxes with a minimum value of $250 each, fishing equipment, collectibles, a car (donated by Raymonds Chevrolet and Olds), and a boat (donated by Lake County Sheriff Clint Grinnel).

There will be food and refreshments available at all locations, which include the headquarters at Wasz's, and the satellite locations Pink Harrison's Resort on Pistakee Lake and Kempf's Resort on Petite Lake.

All festival activities will take place at the derby headquarters, which is located nine miles west of I-94 off Route 173. Turn right on Lake Avenue and head north to Woodbine. Then, head east to Wasz's Resort and Marina.

The 34th annual derby and festival promises to be the best ever. Derby tickets can be obtained from local businesses. The drawing of the main ticket will be on Sunday, Feb. 13 and will be drawn by Miss Antioch, Kelly Sullivan. The derby and festival hours are 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday and 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday.

Residents get gang related hate mail

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

Round Lake Heights Police are investigating a flyer which has been distributed throughout the village by a group calling themselves the "Guardian Angels."

Round Lake Heights Police Chief James Smith said he doesn't believe the group poses an immediate threat to residents. Also possibly related to the hand-out was a message in Lakeland Newspapers Lipservice which said: "This is a message to the gangs. There is a righteous new order and guess who is the target?" Signed, G.A."

A message was received by approximately 35 to 40 people in the village. "Mess with the best 'Guardian Angels' die like the rest."

"We don't know why anyone would do something like this," Smith said. "We do feel it's an anti-gang message. We don't know what the significance of it is."

Smith said the gang officer in the department John Meredith will be investigating the matter. He said the newly formed Lake County Gang Task Force will also assist in the investigation.

Smith confirmed he talked with the well-known national vigilante group the Guardian Angels' representatives who said they were not involved in sending the message.

"The gang problem in the village is not significant. We don't have any hard core gang bangers," Smith said.

Village residents shouldn't be concerned with the letters at this point. Smith doesn't think it poses an immediate threat.

"It's not directed at them specifically. It seems to be directed at gangs. There is no other indication it is other than that," Smith said.

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

A Hainesville Police officer attempting to apprehend a suspect was accidentally shot with his own gun.

The incident took place last Saturday with Officer Clarence Hodges only suffering minor injuries. Arrested was Martin Valadez, 18, of Round Lake Park for resisting arrest.

"As the officer was wrestling with the suspect his weapon got caught in the fence and it discharged," said Cpl. Curt Corsi of Lake County Sheriff's Department who were called in to investigate the shooting. "As he was caught in the fence, and he pulled away, the hammer went down and it discharged."

The incident started at the J&L Food Mart in Hainesville. Witnesses called 911 as they saw Valadez slap a woman and take her in his car. The police knew the address because they had assisted the couple earlier in the day, according to Hainesville Police Chief Joseph Policky.

Two officers responded to the call. One was in plain clothes and found the couple in the Round Lake Park address. Valadez refused to be taken by police and the incident began.

Corsi said the gun is going to the state for inspection. All evidence indicates it was an accidental shooting.

Hodges suffered bleeding but has no major injury from the wound. Round Lake Park Police Chief Gene Kelly said the county was sent in at their request to investigate the shooting.

"They came in at our request. We requested the county do it (investigate). They are able to bring in more manpower quickly," Kelly said.

Church puts family first

An evening focusing on how to build joyful family relations will be held at 7 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 13. The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is hosting the event at 315 McMinnley in Lake Villa.

The church, with its strong orientation toward happy families, has named 1994 the year of the child, and is sponsoring a special one evening program, free to the public, centering on ways to create joyful family living. The program includes a 30 minute video on building happier family relations. Each family in attendance will receive a complimentary 30 page manual containing lessons, suggestions and tips for greater family harmony.

Special education to be discussed

"Current Issues in Special Education" will be discussed by three distinguished Lake County Special Educators on Feb. 10, at Laremont School, 18182 Gages Lake Road, Gages Lake, at 7 p.m.

Interested persons are invited to hear the following speakers: Robert E. Abbott, Member of Illinois State Board of Education Sounding Board on Special Education, Dr. John Anderson, superintendent for SEDOL, and Myron Dagley, associate superintendent for special education, Waukegan Unit Schools.

AAUW topic is communication

The Mid-Lake County Branch of the American Assn. of University Women (AAUW) will hold its next meeting on Feb. 17 at 7:30 p.m. at the Libertyville Twp. Hall, 359 Merrill Ct.

"She Says He Says—Communication Between the Sexes" will be the focus of guest speakers from Youth and Family Counseling, Marty Friedman and Barbara Green. For information call 362-0472.

Lincoln's Day dinner to feature Republican leaders

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

This year's annual Lincoln's Day dinner sponsored by the Grant Township Republican Club is playing host to a number of endorsed candidates with a sit-down dinner of prime rib and entertainment.

On Feb. 12, beginning at 6 p.m., cocktails will be served at Maravella's Banquet Hall in Fox Lake, and at 7 p.m. the dinner will be served.

The event, open to the public will feature guest speaker Congressman Don Manzullo of the 16th district, as well as dancing after dinner by music from a disc jockey.

Among the invited candidates are Governor Jim Edgar, Secretary of State George Ryan, state Senator of the 26th district, William E. Peterson; Lake County Treasurer Jack "Red" Anderson, Willard Helander, candidate for Lake County Clerk; Clint Grinnell, Lake County sheriff and many others.

Grant Township Supervisor

Gordy Kiesgen has been heading the annual dinner/dance along with committee members Marge Tylkowsky, Lorraine Scharlow, Jan Forester, Diane Kiesgen, and Betty Niemi.

In charge of decorating the event are Kim Keisgen and Cindy Irwin.

Tickets are $20 each and are still available. For more infor-

Frosh Cherwa surprise qualifier to Barrington

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

When the 1993-94 wrestling season started at Grayslake High, Jason Cherwa was very much at the bottom of the depth chart.

"He was third string and fourth string for a while," Coach Eric Skoog said.

On Saturday night, the 103-pounder earned a trip to the Barrington sectional by beating Richard Troxel of Waukegan 9-3. The freshman will join juniors Ed Kerns, champion at 135, and second-place finisher Ed Pak at 160 pounds at Barrington. The top three Waukegan regional qualifiers advanced in each weight class to Barrington Feb. 12.

"He wrestled a lot in summer camps and it paid off. He has done everything we have asked him to do," Skoog said.

Cherwa benefited from the fact that some wrestlers at the lighter weights chose not to participate in Skoog's new system and left the team. "He has unbelievable hip control," Skoog said of Cherwa.

Skoog saw Cherwa's potential last year as he coached Grayslake Middle School.

Kerns earned a major decision with a 10-1 win over Julio Farfan of Waukegan in the 135 pound final. He had pinned Warren's Holden Bixler earlier. Kerns jumped to an early lead in the final.

"It helps me stall him," Kerns said.

Kerns, with more than 30 wins, is hoping for another chance at unbeaten Palatine wrestler Dan Collins.

"Kerns keeps the pressure on the opponent," Skoog said.

Pak lost a hard-fought decision 13-7 to Isaac Reyes of Waukegan in the finals.

"He took advantage of Ed's only weakness," Skoog said.

The team standings were not in the picture for the Rams, Grant and Round Lake. Waukegan won the meet going away, with Antioch second. The two squared off in dual meet final Tuesday.

For Grant, the regional final started for the Northwest

Suburban Conference champs with Jason Alex and Ron Bogseth taking seconds at 103 and 112 pounds. Alex lost to Lucas Dyer of Antioch, Bogseth to Mike Kukla of Round Lake. Wally Reyes took third at 125 pounds, as did Aaron Butler at 145. Butler won a thrilling 3-2 win over Andy Kukla of Round Lake.

Shawn Powers was ill during the week, but still qualified at 189 pounds with a first-round win. He injury defaulted his title match to Chris Haag of Antioch.

Mark Schweiss switched weight classes, from 152 to 160, but still qualified with a 5-0 win over Antioch's Brian Maicke for third.

Becker's long-range shots leads Antioch to NSC win

Antioch High's boys basketball team overcame poor fourth quarter free-throw shooting, but then when one player scores 30 points, that usually takes care of any deficiencies at the charity stripe.

Such was the case for the Sequoias Friday. After 11 losses, seven by 4 points or less, the team broke into the North Suburban Conference win column with a 67-59 win over North Chicago.

Becker hit three 3-pointers in a 17-4 Antioch run in the second and third which put the game away.

Becker's sharp-shooting night was in part made possible by Eric Eckenstahler. The center scored 13 points, had 16 rebounds, six blocks and two steals and assists.

"He set some great picks for Becker. Becker would pop up and hit the outside shot," Antioch Coach Jeff Dresser said. "The kids are ecstatic they got the win. It will keep them focusing and ready to play."

Antioch had Saturday off to celebrate the win, but will be back in the double league weekend. Stevenson visits Feb. 11 followed by Lake Forest Feb. 12 for 7:30 p.m. games.

Antioch received key efforts from reserve Dave Lawrence. Lawrence had 7 points and gave Eckenstahler needed rests.

In rebounding, Antioch (5-16 overall) received 7 from the guards.

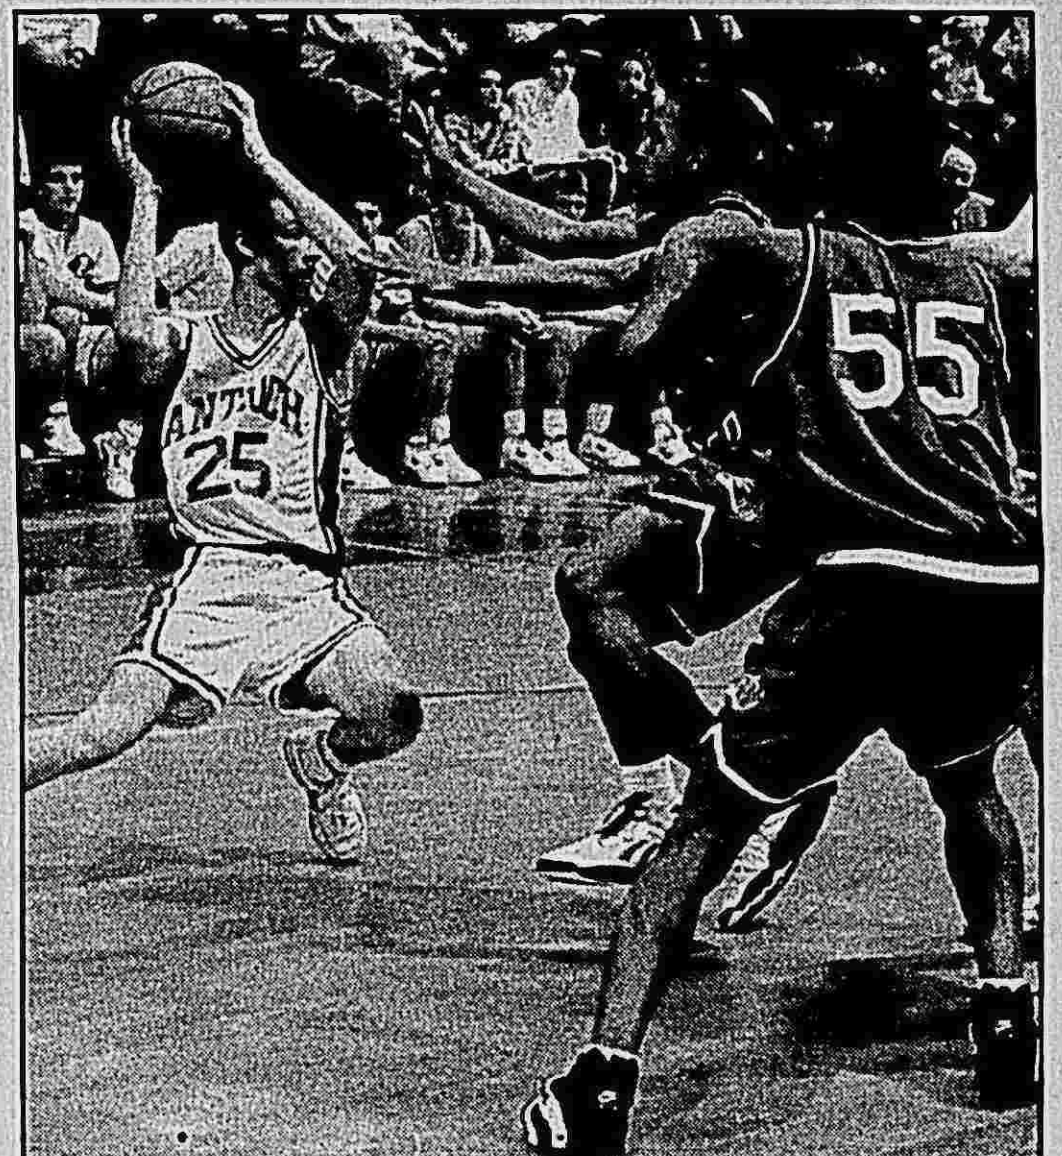

North Chicago (5-17, 3-9) was led by 18 points from Joe Walls Jr. "We wanted to shut everyone else down."

The visitors tried to pressure Antioch from starting its offense, but Tony Kucharski was ready.

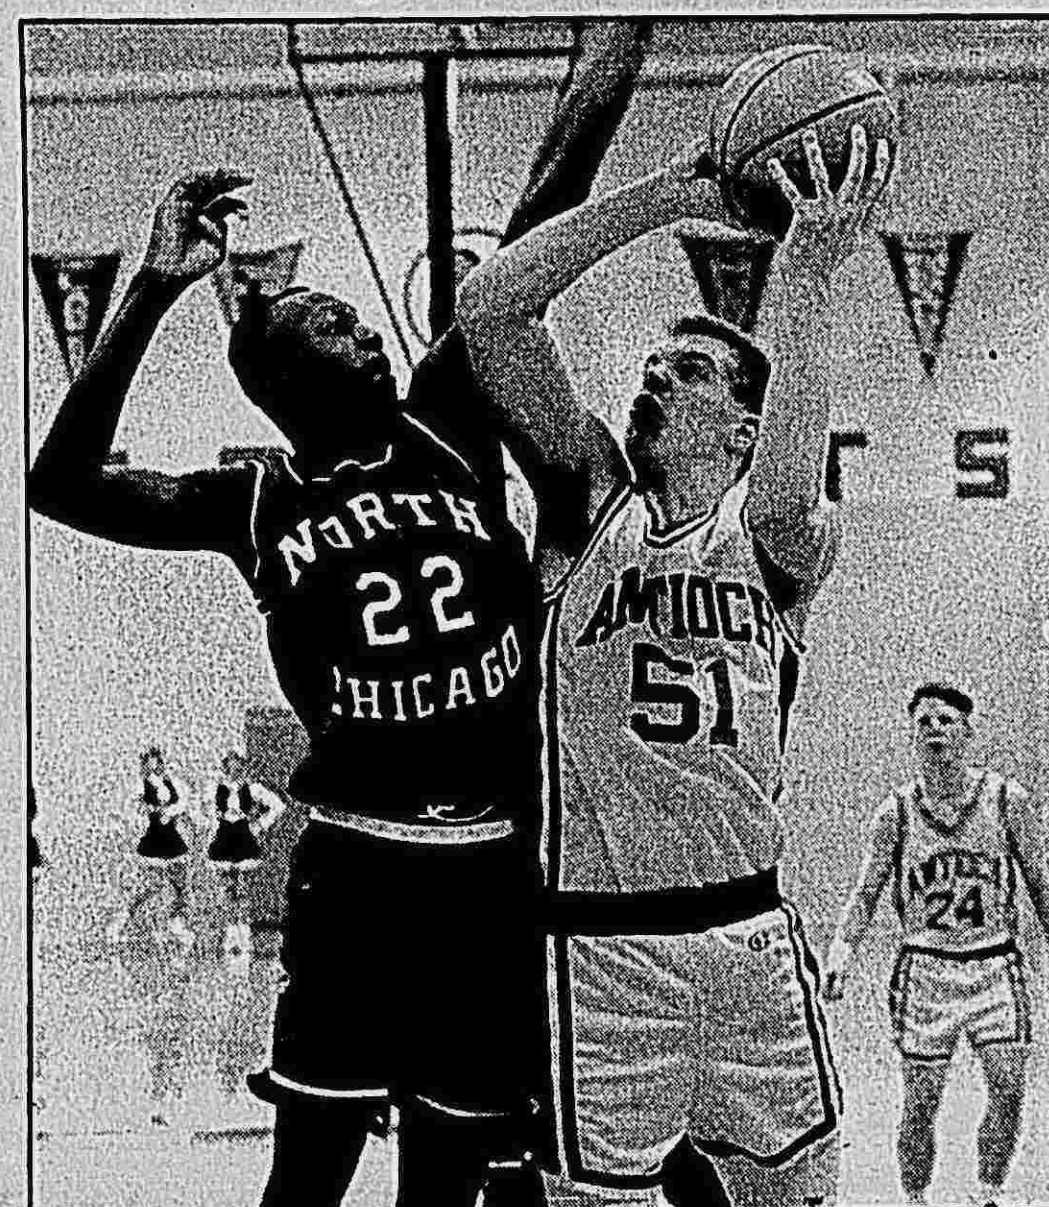

"Tony did a great job against their pressure. They were swarming defensively and the kids looked to get the ball to Tony," Dresser said.

Antioch is the last seed in the Waukegan sectional and will have the honor of playing Mundelein, the No. 7 team in the state, probably twice in one week. The Mustangs are the top seed.

But those games are Feb. 22 and Feb. 28, still enough time to have that first league win fresh in Antioch minds.

Nelson's return sparks Bulldogs to strong finish

For most of the last two months, Justin Nelson was a spectator on the Grant boys basketball sidelines.

He was a senior and could have given starters needed rests with his ballhandling and shooting. But instead, day in and day out, he was forced to watch.

Until Friday.

In only his second start of the year, Nelson scored 13 points as Grant played well in the second half for a 79-57 win over Marian Central.

Kurt Filiatreault led the effort with 18 points and Mike Ingram had 10, but it was Nelson who gave the team needed spark en route to its 14th win in 21 games, 7-4 Northwest Suburban Conference.

"That was his first start since the second game due to a broken hand. I am pleased he was able to get back into the lineup at the end of his senior year. He is very deserving," Grant Coach Tom Maple said of Nelson.

Nelson was sidelined with an injury to the hand he favors in his shot. He played some junior varsity games and practiced before he got the call against the Hurricanes.

Grant did not dominate the Hurricanes until a 22-10 third quarter spurt. "From there, we nurtured 15-point leads," Maple said.

Marian Central outscored the home team 15-6 at the free-throw line.

"The defense was OK. It was a solid effort," Maple said.

The Bulldogs are still in the running for second in the Northwest. A 72-67 upset of Johnsburg by Wauconda helps the cause.

Grant is at rival Round Lake Feb. 11. The Panthers (5-7, 9-11 overall) upset Grayslake 68-66 Friday.

Swanson, Panthers to relish night they stopped Rams

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

It was almost as if Bob Swanson desired to place an exclamation point after an already memorable contest.

Swanson started the fourth quarter with a monster dunk which helped keep the Round Lake boys basketball team in the lead against Grayslake. The dunk seemed to send a message to the visiting Rams that they were not going to go unbeaten in the Northwest Suburban Conference — that a certain 68-66 loss to Round Lake would put a blemish on their league title.

Swanson, a 6-foot 3-inch senior center finished with a team-leading 21 points, as the Panthers (5-7 NWSC, 9-11 overall) prevented a first sweep by Grayslake.

"I am so proud of the kids. We were diving for every loose ball, sometimes from 10 feet away," Round Lake Coach Bob Ward said.

The Rams, despite an off shooting night, made a gallant attempt at a comeback. They erased all but 2 of a 15-point Round Lake lead.

The Panthers considered themselves fortunate this one was settled in regulation. "We would have been spent if this had gone into overtime," Ward admitted.

The key to the contest between rivals as intense as the Packers and the Bears — even when the gym is not full — may have come earlier.

"We had a hellish practice for 45 minutes yesterday. We had an 11-point game and it was a blood bath. We have 9 to 10 kids who have been working their butts off in practice," Ward said.

The Panthers, No. 14 in the Waukegan sectional, played like a top four team. The home team received key fourth-quarter points from Chris Knauf (17 points) as they withstood a 24-18 Grayslake run. Ray Muellemann, little used early this year, had key rebounds and David Bass sparked the outside game with three 3-pointers for 15 points. John Leslie helped take the heat off Swanson inside with 9 points.

"Ray has come off the bench in three-quarters of our games this year. He has matured both mentally and physically," Ward said.

Swanson and Leslie both got off to good starts as the Panthers led 17-11 after one. Grayslake, the No. 4 seed at Waukegan and guaranteed of at least one home game, may have been celebrating the seed too long.

But the team had trailed early in previous wins over Round Lake, so the Rams faithful were not too concerned.

The concern grew as Bass scored 5 second quarter points in a 21-18 Round Lake run.

The high water mark for Round Lake came at 5:10 left in the third when Knauf drove for a basket and a 60-45 lead. But Grayslake would outscore the Panthers 23-6 in the remainder of the game.

Leading the comeback was Geoff Sponholtz. He finished with 21 points, second as Dave Mandralla hit his season average of 24.

"We were not very focused to start the game. I knew they would come after us. It is my responsibility to have the team ready," Grayslake Coach Greg Groth said. "We should have stayed with what got us here."

The Rams host Johnsbury Feb. 11 while Round Lake seeks to continue its winning ways against another rival - Grant at home in 7 p.m. games.

"I hope we can build on this," Ward said.

"This took a lot of heart out of the kids. They really thought they could be unbeaten in conference," Groth said.

Stars defeat Schaumburg 4-3

At Poplar Creek Sports Centre-Hoffman Estates, the Lindenhurst Stars (under 13) defeated the Schaumburg North Stars by the score of 4-3.

The Stars found themselves playing from behind most of the game. Goalkeepers Susan Gosciniak and Megan Rinkenberger turned away enough shots to keep the Stars close. The game was tied 2-2 at the half. With two minutes left to play and the score tied at 3-3, Megs Kotlarz fired in her second goal of the game to ice the win.

In addition to the two goals by Kotlarz, one goal each was scored by Samie Korbal and Amie Carlberg. Other standout players were Mandy Fasano, Katie Gofron, Emily Ayre, Sarah Rimkus, Becky Sosnowski and Natalie Richter. The Stars are now 4-1 in league play.

Shelton is inducted to the hall-of-fame

It's official.

Ron Shelton is among the best baseball coaches in Illinois.

Shelton took his place in the Baseball Coaches Hall of Fame Friday under memorable circumstances.

"It was a nice ceremony and the thing that made it special was Derek and Craig presented the award," Shelton said.

Derek plays for the New York Yankees farm system while Craig is at Southern Illinois University in Carbondale.

Tom Knauf, a Hersey High grad in the Twins organization, was also on hand.

Shelton had a 300-228 record in 20 years coaching Warren baseball.

Sequoits out hustle Mustangs

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Liz Earl may have arose to a pain in her face Feb. 9.

The Antioch High guard took an errant pass in the second half of Tuesday's battle at Mundelein. That, nor anything the Mustangs tried to do with strategy worked, as Antioch out hustled Mundelein 45-39.

"I was shaken up a little. I thought I saw stars," Earl said.

Earl scored 10 of her 14 points in the fourth quarter, including 8 of 8 from the free-throw line as Antioch improved to 6-9 North Suburban Conference, 10-14 overall.

"We played four good quarters tonight," Earl said.

Earl swiped the ball from Mundelein players several times and converted on layups. "We know their plays. They run the same offense we do, we call it motion they call it Kentucky or something. We knew were their passes were going," Earl said.

Earl, a senior, is pleased with her team's progress. "Coach (Dave) Woods has brought us far," Earl said.

Indeed, the Sequoits have now knocked off Warren and Mundelein.

"Liz has tremendous responsibility. She brings the ball upcourt and sets the offense. She always guards the other team's best offensive player. She never comes out of the game," Woods said.

The Sequoits began the fourth quarter down 28-22 after Kelsey MacCalum cut through for a put-back off a missed free throw. Coach Woods let his team and the small gathering at MHS on this snowy night know his thoughts about his team's efforts.

Also inspired, Maline Gooch opened the fourth quarter scoring with a hoop for a 28-24 deficit. Gooch finished with 11 points, 8 in the fourth.

Antioch's pressure kept the Mustangs from driving baskets by Lindsey Prezell (11 points, 3 in the second half) or Lynn T'Niemi.

"Last time they killed us inside," Earl said.

"We believe our defense can take us a long way," Woods said.

Earl began her free-throw efforts just two minutes after the pass hit her face. She made the first four and coupled with a Rachel Hauser (11 points) toss gave the visitors a 35-30 lead.

Mundelein rallied for a tie on a Tiffany Campbell (team-high 13 points) with 2:47 left.

Earl's steal and a layup proved to be the key play to spark a game winning 6-4 Antioch run.

Mundelein (9-14 overall) started strong on a senior night, up 8-0 at the outset.

"Our demise was we cannot afford to make those mistakes passing," Mundelein Coach Rick Foss said.

The Mustangs fell to a tie with Antioch at 6-9. Mundelein dropped a non-conference game to Lake Zurich earlier.

Mundelein finishes with NSC champ Stevenson Feb. 10 while Antioch is at Zion-Benton the same day. The Sequoits are the 10th seed at the Highland Park sectional and open tourney play at Deerfield Feb. 15. Mundelein, No. 8, hosts Grayslake Feb. 14.

The win followed an expected 54-20 loss to Stevenson. Amy Leiber led the Antioch effort with 8 points.

Lindenhurst Lightning gains big win

The Lindenhurst Lightning U-12 soccer team notched a big win over previously undefeated Trevian Blue to even their season record at 2-2. The Lightning fell behind in the first half, 3-1, with their only score coming on an unassisted goal by Peter Gedvilas.

The second half was all Lindenhurst as the defense shut out Trevian. Defenders Jon Mendelke, Mark Sanderson, Josh Boller, Andy Lyon and Jay Sturt closed off Trevian's chances, while Nick Placko picked up his play in the nets.

Quinn Gooch scored two goals with assists from Matt Nolan to tie the game, and Keli Owens scored the game-winner for the Lightning. The Lightning, coached by Ron Placko, plays in the Gold Division of the boys U-12 league at Soccer Enterprises in Highland Park.

Conference title clincher frosting on Rockets'

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Richmond-Burton High's girls basketball team had its cake ready to celebrate the Big Eight Conference championship. A few days earlier, Coach Tom Lay learned there may be another reason.

The Rockets clinched a Big Eight Conference title and gave their coach his 100th win with a 54-37 romp over Marengo at home Thursday.

"I was 80-99 going into this season, so now I am a .500 coach," Lay said.

He was reminded of the possibility of hitting the century mark when a reporter from Champaign inquired earlier that week.

The Rockets (20-1, 10-0) used a stifling defense to shut down a talented Marengo team which is battling for second place.

Half of Richmond's 34 first-half points came off Marengo turnovers.

On offense, Richmond used skip passes to move the ball around to Natalie Gambit (17 points) or Kathy Benes (13 points). The low score was due to Richmond holding the ball on offense.

"We were ahead by 18 points, and it did not matter if we won by one or 18," Lay said.

"We have made a lot of progress since the beginning of the year," he commented.

Youth hoopsters all learn in Grayslake Park program

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Grayslake will be the unofficial Youth Basketball Mecca next month.

For three days, more than 20 teams are expected to make the trip to Grayslake and compete in a park district organized event. Games for sixth-, seventh- and eighth-graders will be at Grayslake Middle School.

"Teams from as far away as Elgin and Homewood-Flossmoor have expressed interest," Shelley Majewski, director of recreation at Grayslake Community Park District, said.

Some 450 youngsters learn basketball skills each week in Grayslake, playing in either the "in-house" league or on competitive traveling teams. That is an increase from 300 players last year for the 4-year-old program.

"The coaches are doing a great job," John Wilson, executive director of the park district, said.

"When I was a kid, they did not have anything organized. We just played pick-up games on Saturday afternoons," Tom Sandberg said.

Today, Sandberg is coaching the fifth-grade traveling team.

"It is just getting bigger and bigger. The problem is space. The park district needs its own facility," Sandberg said.

"It started four or five years ago when a group of fathers got involved with the park district to organize a more formal basketball offering for kids. The idea was not to turn anyone away," Brad Burnett said.

Burnett said volunteer coaches, who attend clinics before the season, are a key. He has been involved with youth basketball in Grayslake for four years.

"It is tremendous satisfaction. We have people from Gurnee and Wadsworth who have registered. There is tremendous satisfaction," Burnett said.

Each league has a supervisor of coaches whose responsibility is to oversee the coaching quality.

Each player plays two quarters as per league rule, and there are no scorebooks, but there are scoreboards and officials.

"Parents enjoy it because there is a lot of stress on fundamentals," Burnett said.

Those with greater skills may play on more competitive traveling teams or feeder teams for sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

"The players are explained the time commitment involved and we do play to win," Burnett said.

Grayslake teams play squads from Stevenson, Buffalo Grove and Lake Zurich. A post-season tourney is held at Northern Illinois University. The season begins after the middle school season ends, so there is no conflict for players.

Kory Artlet is the sixth-grade coach, Dirk Skelley the eighth-grade coach.

Burnett's seventh-grade feeder team won 30 games as sixth graders.

Grayslake offers something so players will not "fall through the cracks" of skill levels.

Lake County Framework plan would delegate zoning authority

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Lake County Regional Planning Commission finished public hearings on the Lake County Framework Plan, and now local officials are beginning to study the details of the plan.

The planning commission updates Lake County's comprehensive plan every five years. The purpose of the plan is to provide policy direction for land use, public facilities, and social services. More significantly, it directly governs the unincorporated areas of Lake County.

In what could be the most controversial aspect of the plan is the suggestion that in exchange for the acceptance of the plan and its boundaries, the County would enter into an intergovernmental agreement that would delegate zoning authority of unincorporated lands to the local municipality.

In plain English, this means that a local municipality would increase its authority from a reactive power to a more directive power. At this time, a local municipality has the right to object, within a 1/12 mile radius of the municipality's boundaries, to a county zoning approved plan.

If the framework plan is adopted by the Lake County Board, along with this provision of the plan, the local municipality would have an opportunity to enter into an agreement with the county and be able to determine unincorporated zoning issues.

There are pluses and minuses to the proposed recommendation. While local areas would have an opportunity to maintain a common developmental plan within adjoining areas, avoiding spotty zoning, there are also some drawbacks to the idea.

First of all, the new state law authorizing this power has never been tested in this state. The law, which was enacted in 1985, has not been tried so far.

"Nobody has tried it yet," said Deputy Planner Bob Mosteller. "If it were legal, and the County Board and the municipality could agree, we could delegate zoning enforcement and authority."

Another problem is that zoning issues would be in the hands of officials not elected by the constituency they govern.

However, if the municipality, as required, accepted the framework plan, representation of the unincorporated areas would lie within the election of County Board representatives, who will be voting on the plan.

Mosteller, however, emphasizes that the proposed move is only suggested policy at this time and the framework plan must move through committees prior to a board vote.

The new plan represents an update on Lake County's third comprehensive plan. The first was completed in 1960, the second in 1975, and the third was the 1982 Framework Plan. The third plan established the notion of mixed land use districts implemented directly through a See FRAMEWORK page B7

A bit of history lost in fire

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

A bit of history was lost in the Feb. 2 fire that destroyed the three-story car museum on Gilmer Road in Grayslake. The extent of damage on some of the one-of-a-kind classic automobiles is not yet known.

The barn also housed a number of irreplaceable valuables. The Whites displayed a number of fine paintings, antique cash registers, and even a steam engine.

The building, owned by 28-year resident William White, was converted into a car museum to house his beautiful cars. White suffered an angina attack as a result of the fire, but has since been released from the hospital.

"He has restored cars for 40 or 50 years," said Marilyn White, his wife. "He is feeling much better, just a little depressed."

The jewel in his collection was the 1912 Silver Ghost. The car saw service in World War I. After it was completely restored, it won the Rolls Royce Award, a prestigious award.

Another classic in White's collection was his 1932 Lincoln that was leased to Desilu Productions. The car was used in the series, The Untouchables, starring Robert Stack. White then restored it.

White also had two Model A Fords. These cars date from the '20s. Three other Rolls Royces, which were kept on the lower level were also damaged.

Initial estimates of the damage were in excess of $1 million, but according to White, the damage is closer to $5 million. Not to mention, many of the cars are irreplaceable.

"We hope that some of the lower level cars can be saved. They suffered water damage and were then frozen," said White. "The remains have been lifted out and put into heated buildings."

The cause of the fire is yet to be determined. However, William White is out of the hospital, suffering no permanent damage to his heart.

New tree species found in forest preserves

A new species of tree, never before found wild in Lake County, was discovered in a remote section of Grant Woods, a Lake County Forest Preserve near Fox Lake.

The Kentucky Coffee Tree, also known as Gymnocladus dioica, was found by Forest Preserve Forester Al Westerman during a site assessment. This is the first natural occurrence recorded in Lake County in the 100 years that plant records have been kept.

While found throughout the southern part of Illinois, the tree is rarely found this far north.

The stand of trees includes five large individuals, some of which reach 75 feet in height and 2.5 feet in diameter, and several saplings which indicate that this member of the legume family will reproduce in the Forest Preserve.

Past historical evidence has indicated that the stand may have been the site of an Indian village, since the few stands of Kentucky Coffee Trees found in Wisconsin are all at the sites of former Indian villages. Some Indian tribes used the tree's large shiny seeds in a form of dice game. While no Indian village is known from this particular site, it is located between two Indian Trails that appear on a 1919 map by archeologist Albert Scharf.

Trails, picnic shelters, a fishing pond and other public use areas at the popular 778-acre Preserve are distant from the trees, and pose no threat to their survival. Forest Preserve staff plan to return to the area in spring to search for other unusual plants that would not be visible in winter. The Morton Arboretum was notified of the discovery and a sample of the tree's twigs will be sent to them.

The Kentucky Coffee Tree derives its name from efforts of early settlers to use the bitter seeds in a beverage.

Development causes concern

LINDENHURST—Westfield Homes will return to the Lindenhurst Village Board with a revised formal proposal after trustees discussed problems they had with a proposed 641-unit development on Sand Lake Road. The development is to be built on the Bonner property which is situated on 200 acres. Westfield Homes proposes the ratio between single family and multi-family be split evenly. Village board members questioned the density, the traffic problems, the ratio of single to multi-family homes and the impact on the school districts.

Cop accidentally shot

ROUND LAKE PARK—A Hainesville officer was shot in the leg with his own gun. The incident took place in Round Lake Park as the two Hainesville Police officers were attempting to apprehend a suspect at his residence. The police officer was wrestling with Martin Valadez of Round Lake Park when the officer got caught in the fence and the gun discharged. Valadez was charged with resisting arrest. Lake County Police were called in because the incident occurred in two jurisdictions.

ROUND LAKE HEIGHTS—At least 30 to 40 residents found a strange message in their mail. It read: "Mess with the best Guardian Angels. Die Like The Rest." Police Chief James Smith said his department is investigating the incident. Smith says there is no reason at this time for residents to be alarmed. Smith said he doesn't believe it was sent by the vigilante group. He said police are unsure of the motive or intent of the message. Also a message was called in to Lakeland Newspapers Lipservice which said: This message to gangs. There is a righteous order and guess who is the target. Signed G.A.

McRae standing on his record

MUNDELEIN—Former Mayor Colin McRae points to his record of accomplishments as a County Board member from District 10 in the race against newcomer Diana O'Kelly. "I'm running on a general platform of promises made, promises kept," he said. Those promises included a commitment of "leadership by inclusion," with members of both parties as part of his team. Another goal was to negotiate settlements on pending litigation in the Forest Preserve District. Finally, as president of the District, the former Mundelein mayor was determined to "lead a successful referendum effort to acquire land in a peaceful manner and improve existing facilities. I protected the taxpayers' money and did what I promised right down the line. The endorsement of the people is what I'm interested in," said McRae.

Senior housing rules set

GURNEE—Gurnee now has the rules and regulations in place for senior citizen housing. Village board members approved the measures at Monday's meeting. They followed recommendations from the plan commission and zoning board of appeals joint meeting. Village Administrator James Hayner said Franciscan Brothers and Dr. William Dam have proposed senior housing projects.

Fire claims area business

LIBERTYVILLE—TPI Air Freight Inc. was completely destroyed by an early morning fire Feb. 6. Libertyville Police Officer Chris Hein was cruising the area on a routine patrol when he discovered the fire at 5:20 a.m. Flames were already through the roof when the Fire Department arrived two minutes later. The 3,500-square-foot building, located at 530 North Ave., was a total loss, estimated at $300,000. Kaskor Industries, only 1 foot away at 510 North Ave., sustained between $2,000 and $3,000 damage to the coping around the roof. The cause of the fire is still under investigation.

Kids found in filthy apartment

GRANDWOOD PARK—Lindenhurst Police went into an apartment on a warrant arrest and found children living in squalor. Police found soiled clothes all over the floor, half-eaten food and a reeking smell from garbage bags which were left and not taken out. Two girls, 9 and 11-years-old lived there. The children were put in the custody of their grandmother pending an investigation by the Department of Children and Family Services. Grandwood Park is a subdivision between Lindenhurst and Gurnee. Patricia Patten was placed under arrest for theft charges from Four Star Video in Lindenhurst.

Purse-snatching women nabbed

ROUND LAKE BEACH—Two Grayslake women were arrested after they had a scam going throughout the area. Michelle Dix, 19, of 27 S. Whitney St., and her partner Virginia Hughes, 20, of 147 Westfield, allegedly snatched women's purses on at least two occasions at the Jewel parking lot in Round Lake Beach. Usually the crimes occurred when one of the offenders would ask a customer, "Where's Hainesville?" or something similar. While the lady would explain, suddenly the subject would grab the purse and run into a getaway car. Police have charged the two with several different offenses, and are asking for anyone with more information to come forward.

Problems with flooding

FOX LAKE—At least 50 Fox Lake residents attended the village board meeting hoping to hear some answers to problems with flooding, and broken sewers. One woman said she has been suffering with the combined stormwater and sewer problems for four-years. The woman who lives on Tweed said she filed a lawsuit against the village three years ago for the damage caused to her home. The board said they would hold a special meeting with the head of the water department sometime next week.

SAVE YOUR FAMILY TIME AND MONEY

Do you know what "probate" is? It is the court process by which debts are paid and assets are distributed to heirs.

What can you do now so that your loved ones can avoid the costly and frustrating probate process? You can attend a FREE ESTATE PLANNING SEMINAR and learn how a living trust can work for your family. A living trust can be defined in simple terms as a will substitute, one that allows your heirs to avoid meeting a probate judge. As the trustee (financial manager) of your trust, you can continue to do the same things you did before the trust existed, such as buy, sell, or give away the trusts' assets. You set up your living trust according to your desires. You are in complete control.

When you consider the cost of a will and the fees involved in probate, as compared to setting up a living trust, the trust is a much more reasonable choice. It saves not only money, but time. Your heirs will not have to wait six, nine, or twelve months to receive what you have left them.

In Illinois, probate is required when the assets total over $50,000. The probate process can be quite costly, reducing the amount of assets that heirs receive. Attorney's fees, court costs and executor's fees can reduce assets that go to the heirs by as much as 10%. There is also a time delay, because the minimum amount of time that an estate would be tied up in probate court in Illinois is six months, but normally probate takes nine to twelve months, and sometimes longer.

Sponsored by: The Law Firm Of Polster And Associates

A FIRM YOU CAN TRUST. Polster and Associates has prepared hundreds of estate plans for families in Illinois like your own. We invite you to attend one of our Free Estate Planning Seminars. We'll explain the disadvantages of wills and holding property in joint tenancy. You'll learn about the advantages of living trusts and how they work. You'll be informed so that you can make the best decisions for your family. Seating is limited, call (708) 223-9200. Do your friends a favor and invite them to join you.

Sea Cadets seek volunteers

The U. S. Naval Sea Cadet Program Unit 911 is now forming and there will be an open house on Feb. 12 at Drill Hall 800 from 1 to 4 p.m., on Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes. The Navy League Cadets and the Naval Sea Cadet Corps are programs for young men and women, ages 11 to 17.

Cadets learn and practice nautical skills such as knot tying, water safety, swimming, first aid, and even fire fighting. In meetings, they discuss naval history, customs and traditions, and leadership. Cadets wear modified

Navy uniforms with patches, rank insignia, and ribbons. There are opportunities to visit ships, military bases and other interesting places.

Acceptance is based upon ability to participate in strenuous physical activity and the absence of illness that will or is likely to require medical care or restrict participation.

A school endorsement is also required for acceptance. For further information, call LCDR Kathryn Serbin at 688-2511 or 3356, during normal working hours.

CLC seminar covers financial strategies for retirement

Wise money management practices for retirement will be reviewed in a four-part seminar offered by the College of Lake County. "Financial Strategies for Successful Retirement" (GSP 050) will be held from 7 to 9:30 p.m. on Tuesdays in the Area Vocational Center in Grayslake. The class will be repeated at the same time and location beginning April 5.

The seminar will be led by Bob Yarosz and Rich Babjak, vice-presidents of the Bedford Group, Inc., a local financial planning firm specialized in the needs of the pre-retirement and retirement market. The program is designed for retired individuals and couples and those planning to retire in the next five to 10 years. Subjects covered in the seminar include how to generate a steady income, protect assets and minimize taxes to provide for a secure retirement. Also discussed are investments, social security, Medicare and long-term health care plans. Participants will also receive a confidential personal plan, workbook and home study materials. No products or services will be promoted or offered at the seminar.

The cost is $30 per person, plus $25 materials fee payable the first night of the class. To register, call 480-7170 or 223-6601, ext. 2573. For course information, call 223-3616.

Traxler's Choral Dynamics seeks Vaudeville acts for spring show

Gerry Traxler's Choral Dynamics will bring back Vaudeville in the 26th annual spring show to be presented June 11 and 12 at Libertyville High School.

The 70-member chorus has a long history of entertaining Lake County residents with their musical talents. Their most recent production featured a multitude of "Timeless Love Songs." Proceeds from all shows are donated to charitable causes.

The plans for the spring show include as many Vaudeville acts as possible from comedy to tap and soft shoe dancing. Singers with these talents are particularly needed.

Auditions can be arranged by calling Gerry Traxler at 362-3348.

The Choral Dynamics singers rehearse each Sunday evening at the Community Protestant Church in Mundelein. The group produces two shows a year. Members also enjoy cast parties, dinner dances, a summer picnic, Oktoberfest and video parties. The cast includes married couples and families, high school students to senior citizens.

Communications scholarship available

Catholic students in Cook and Lake County interested in pursuing a communications-related college degree in the fall of 1994 should apply now for the 1994 Cardinal's Communications Scholarship. Applications are due Feb. 25.

One scholarship, a $3,000 tuition grant renewable for three additional years based upon maintenance of a "B" average at an approved college or university, will be awarded on the basis of merit and a project submission.

To qualify, a candidate must be a projected 1994 graduate of a Catholic high school in Cook or Lake County or must be a Catholic senior in a Cook or Lake County high school who can demonstrate consistent participation in a Catholic religious education program. Applicants should rank in the scholastic upper-half of the senior class and should be able to demonstrate serious involvement in communications through extracurricular activities and/or coursework.

Application packets may be obtained now from Catholic high school guidance offices or from the archdiocesan Communications Office at (312)751-8227.

Dean of students speaking in Mundelein

Dr. Ronald H. Miller, dean of students and religion professor at Lake Forest College, will be speaking in Mundelein on Saturday morning, Feb. 12 at a breakfast meeting of the Presbyterian Men's Club.

The public is welcome and Miller's topics will include discussing the history of the so-called "Fifth Gospel" of St. Thomas, the historical Jesus and Jewish-Christian relations.

The breakfast will be from 8 to 9:30 a.m. at the Kirk of the Lakes Presbyterian Church, 1500 W. Hawley St. just west of Mundelein High School. For information call 362-6454 or 566-8371.

CLC accepts higher education grant

The College of Lake County board of trustees last night accepted a $99,970 grant from the Illinois Board of Higher Education to participate in establishing a live, interactive distance learning network using videoconferencing technology.

The new network is scheduled to begin in fall, 1994. Through a videoconferencing site at CLC, students will be able to enroll in classes offered by the network and by the participating colleges and universities.

The CLC grant is a portion of a $1.3 million Higher Education Cooperation Act (HECA) grant awarded to the North Suburban Higher Education Regional Consortium, in which CLC is a member. Other participating institutions in the consortium and the distance learning network are DePaul University (O'Hare and downtown campuses), Illinois Student Assistance Commission, Oakton Community College, William Rainey Harper College and Northeastern Illinois University, the fiscal agent of the consortium grant.

"This technology is similar to videoconferencing in business, except we will be using it for instructional purposes. It is a live, two-way system where the teacher can see and hear students at the other remote sites," said Dan Petrosko, director of educational technology at CLC, who will oversee the operation and maintenance of the network at the college.

"The use of this technology will increase educational opportunities for Lake County residents," Petrosko said. "Students will be able to take undergraduate and, possibly, graduate courses not offered at CLC. Likewise, CLC courses will be offered to students at other colleges."

In other business, Chairperson Barbara Oilschlager reported that the state legislature passed House Bill 1032 giving community college boards legal authority to conduct self evaluation in closed session.

In other matters, the board adopted strategic goals and objectives for fiscal years 1995 to 1997. The college added a new goal of "productivity and accountability" to the already existing four goals of quality education, community leadership, workplace development and equal access.

"The fifth goal was established to increase institutional effectiveness and reflect the state's emphasis on Priorities, Quality and Productivity (PQP) initiative," said CLC President Daniel J. LaVista.

As part of this goal, LaVista noted that the college will promote efficient and cost-effective practices in its operations and pursue new revenue-producing initiatives for alternative funding.

The college's emerging capital campaign will be part of this initiative.

The board revised its regular meeting schedule, approving the second Wednesday of the month, except for September. The new meeting dates are as follows: Feb. 9, March 9, April 13, May 11, June 8, July 13, Aug. 10, Sept. 21, Oct. 12, Nov. 9 and Dec. 14, 1994.

In other action, the board approved a contract with the Adult Learning Resource Center (Des Plaines) to provide training and technical assistance in developing basic skills curricula for CLC's Workplace Literacy Project at a total cost of $26,547.

The board also approved revision of two college policies: tuition reimbursement plan for specialist employees at the college and residency status of students. Under the revision, allowable tuition reimbursement for specialists has been expanded to include coursework not directly related to their current jobs. The revised residency policy classifies international students (holding visitor, transit, student or temporary work visas) as out-of-state students.

In personnel matters, the board accepted the early retirement of Art Kent, vice-president of administrative affairs, effective Jan. 16, 1996. Finally, the board approved an updated articulation agreement with McHenry County College.

Don Huff endorses Skoien for Congress

Don Huff endorsed Republican Gary Skoien's candidacy for the United States Congress from the Eighth Congressional District. Huff is a former candidate for that seat and his remarks were made at a press conference in Grayslake.

"I am pleased to announce my support for Gary Skoien for Congress," Huff said. "My support is based on the knowledge that Peter Fitzgerald and Phil Crane are from the same extreme right wing mold. The issue of gun control that surfaced in recent days made the point very clearly. Fitzgerald supported legislation to allow people to carry concealed weapons, Phil Crane supported legislation to legalize plastic guns capable of evading metal detectors. Fitzgerald, Crane and I disagree. On this and other issues they are simply too extreme."

Huff called on Peter Fitzgerald to clarify his stance on the entire gun issue by releasing his 1992 NRA Questionnaire. He stated that he hoped voters would be able to know where Fitzgerald really stands on this issue of extreme importance to many voters.

Huff is a businessman and Republican activist from Grayslake. He recently published an article in the Chicago Sun-Times on the need for tighter restrictions on the accessibility of guns.

"Don and I have spoken a great deal over the last few weeks and months. We have come to realize that we agree on a number of important issues. Prominent among those issues is the whole area of gun control," Skoien said. "Peter Fitzgerald and Phil Crane are NRA sponsored extremists. In this day and age, the notion of permitting people to walk around carrying a concealed weapon is extremely irresponsible. Similarly, I have no idea what Phil Crane was thinking when he voted to allow the sale of plastic guns. In both instances, the legislation was just plain kooky."

Huff said that Gary Skoien had taken a consistent and responsible stand on gun control.

Hess seeking state post

Lake County Linda Hess announced she is a candidate for election in the March 15 General Primary for a post at the State Democratic Party.

"The State Democratic Party is governed by a managing committee comprised of one man and one woman elected from each of the state's 20 Congressional Districts," Hess said. "These offices are called State Central Committeemen and I am a candidate for the female post in the 10th Congressional District."

The male post is currently held by Highland Park Mayor Daniel Pierce, who is Hess's running mate in the March 15 primary.

"While Dan Pierce is unopposed in his race, I am opposed by LaRouche candidate, Barbara Goudeaux of Zion," Hess noted. "It is vital that the candidates, who are followers of extremist Lyndon LaRouche, be defeated since they do not represent the interests of the State Democratic Party."

Of the 40 candidates running statewide for State Central Committeemen, 14 are opposed by LaRouche candidates: "Five of these races are targeted by the State Democratic Party and my race is one of them," said Hess.

The 10th Congressional District is comprised of the Lake County Townships of Benton, Zion, Waukegan, Libertyville, Shields, Vernon, West Deerfield, Deerfield and the Cook County Townships of Wheeling, New Trier and Northfield.

Lake Animal Hospital 'Have a Heart' campaign to benefit United Way

The Lake Animal Hospital in Libertyville is hosting its fourth annual "Have a Heart" campaign Feb. 16 in observance of Valentine's Day. Proceeds from the campaign will be donated to the United Way of Lake County.

Dr. Robert Weissman and his staff invite anyone who has a dog or cat to bring it into the animal hospital for a full health screening for five dollars. The price reflects a considerable savings from the normal $19.50 exam cost. The "Have a Heart Day" campaign runs from 9 a.m. to noon, and 2 to 7 p.m. at the Lake Animal Hospital, located at 30000 N. Milwaukee Ave., across from Pizza Hut. Appointments are necessary, and can be made by calling the office at 362-5560.

"The 'Have a Heart' campaign has continued to grow each year. It allows pet owners to give a Valentine's Day gift to their pets, by detecting any health problems at minimal cost," said Weissman. "In addition, the local community benefits through the contribution we make to United Way of Lake County."

Refreshments will be served throughout the day, children will receive free stickers, and the animals will receive treats as well. Anyone who stops by on Feb. 16 will be eligible to win a $50 gift certificate for services at the animal hospital. Everyone is invited to attend.

United Way of Lake County funds 106 programs offered through 51 local agencies. One in three area residents depend on these services annually. For more information call 816-0063.

Bank travels to help serve seniors

At the invitation of NAHRO (National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials), Lake County Housing Authority's Board of Directors approved submission of an application for an award in program innovation.

The application proudly details a joint effort between Lake County Housing Authority and First of America Bank in Grayslake.

In 1992 when a First of America closure threatened the security and convenience felt by many residents of the Housing Authority-owned senior citizen building across the street, First of America responded. Bank representatives met with Hawley Manor residents and Housing Authority staff to work out a solution to the problem. The end result was on-site banking at Hawley Manor.

In today's competitive retail financial services market, the practice of on-site branch operations at retirement facilities is becoming commonplace. Typically however, these communities are larger upscale developments marketed to a more affluent segment of the population. The on-site banking at Hawley Manor is unique in bringing banking services to a smaller project inhabited by lower income elderly persons.

The bank provides regular banking services twice per month for their customers at Hawley Manor. Kelli Martin, Manager of

First of America bank in Grayslake says that "the employees really enjoy providing this service to the residents at Hawley Manor," and it is a well-known fact among Housing Authority staff that the residents appreciate the service.

In November at their annual meeting, The Northwestern Illinois Area Agency on Aging honored First of America Bank with the Distinguished Business Award for meeting the needs of older people. Kelli Martin stated that they "are very pleased that Lake County Housing Authority cooperated to allow the service to be provided," and she commented further that they "look forward to providing this service for many years to come."

Money saving coupons could also be the ticket

Today's Music, HOT 102.3 in Lake County in conjunction with H&D Direct Mail will be giving away four trips for two to Miami, Fla. this winter. Coupon books called "The Winter Meltdown of Values" are being mailed this week to more than 50,000 Lake County households and contain dozens of money saving coupons.

Each money saving coupon has an entry blank for the trip give aways on the back. Lake County residents who receive "The Winter Meltdown of Values" can enter the drawing for the free trip to Miami by filling out the entry on the back of the coupons and dropping it in the registration box at each of the businesses in the book. Entries can be made after redeeming the coupon or without purchasing anything at all.

Two qualifiers will be chosen at random from each registration box. All the qualifiers names will be entered in the final grand prize drawing which will take place at 7:13 a.m. Monday, March 7 with Mike and Susan in Morning on HOT 102.3 FM. Further instructions appear in the coupon books and are repeated periodically on HOT 102.3 during the contest. A complete set of contest rules can be obtained by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to: HOT 102.3 Winter Meltdown of Values, 3250 Belvidere Rd., Waukegan, Ill. 60085. Contestants must be at least 18 years old to enter. Contest ends March 4. For advertising details call H&D Direct Mail at 336-6040.

Conservation district to hold annual meeting

The 37th annual meeting and election for the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District, (SWCD) will be held Feb. 11 at the College of Lake County (Conference Room C003), 19351 W. Washington Street in Grayslake.

Hors-d'oeuvres will be served at 6 p.m. followed by a short business meeting, election of three directors, and guest speaker, Victoria Ranney, vice-president of Prairie Holdings Corp., which is developing an innovative conservation community in Grayslake.

There will also be an opportunity to meet new Resource Conservationist Cyndie Wilhelm. She was born and raised in Illinois, but has returned after living 11 years in Alaska. She has a B.S. in Biochemistry from the U of Minn-Mpls and an M.S. in Environmental Science from the U of Alaska-Anch. From May to December 1993, Wilhelm worked as a wetlands biologist at the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Office in Barrington. With her personal commitment to conservation and the co-existence of development and natural resource protection, we look forward to her tackling the many challenges of this position.

Soil and water conservation districts were established by State law to address natural resource concerns throughout the state. A SWCD does not have taxing power. Director responsibilities include program development, addressing land protection, erosion control, flood control, drainage, and natural resource planning.

The current Board of Directors includes Sharon Buckneridge, Michael Mieszala, Roy Triveline, Alfred Westerman, Jr., and Daniel Brouillard. The terms of Buckneridge, Mieszala and Triveline will expire this year. The election will fill these positions for a two-year term.

All persons, firms or corporations who hold legal title or are in legal possession of any land lying within the boundaries of the District are eligible to vote at the election, which includes lessees, renters and tenants. Only such persons, firms or corporations are eligible to vote.

Since space is limited, reservations can be made by calling the district office at 223-1056, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Framework

performance zoning code. The focus of the updated plan has been to modernize the land use district concept so that it reflects current county conditions.

Villages, cities, and established unincorporated areas within the county would retain their own characters distinct and buffered from one another by a countryside zone. Community areas would have established boundaries and all significant development would occur within them. The community area growth boundaries would be mutually agreed upon by neighboring towns and the County. Municipal annexations would occur within these boundaries but, even prior to annexation, communities would play an active role in reviewing and approving development proposals.

Developers would be unable to "shop" for the best deal, pitting town against town or the County. One of the policies of the plan includes working with municipalities to establish consistent methods for determining developer donations as part of the annexation and subdivision approval process.

The development fee system would take into account the true costs of land use. Considerations include transportation, sewerage, stormwater drainage, public school facilities, and other public services. The actual costs of development would be factored in at the time of development instead of "catching up" with residents in the form of property taxes after they have established residency.

The plan provides policies to be implemented through ordinances as well as through various grant sources. The Framework Plan provides for a much greater direct role for municipalities. The idea is that Lake County communities can directly implement the policies of the plan while continuing to exercise local autonomy. In exchange for acceptance of the plan and boundaries, the County would enter into intergovernmental agreements that delegate zoning authority for unincorporated lands to the municipalities.

In addition, the updated plan includes a discussion of the expanded use of Local Land Resource Management Planning Committees in an effort to further the goals of the plan.

Sindles impatient for change, job

BILL SCHROEDER

Publisher

Running for sheriff was a matter of timing for Ed Sindles, the crew-cut, no-nonsense lawman who has taught police supervision for 18 of his 28 years as a professional in law enforcement.

Now or later?

As a trusted aide and recognized architect of Lake County's model jail, the long-time resident of Mundelein for years has been looked upon as a "comer" both in political and police circles.

Why did the University of Illinois graduate with two degrees choose 1994 to challenge a popular incumbent with an unblemished record of more than 40 years service extending back through the Libertyville Police Dept. and continuing to the post of chief law enforcement officer for a county of nearly 600,000?

Sindles answers the question curiously, guarding what he knows is a reply that could be interpreted as arrogant and sarcastic. Only people who have worked with Ed or are acquainted with him know that Sindles is all seriousness, not given to flights of fancy.

"I finally decided that the department couldn't wait." Oh?

Campaigning now for almost a year, Sindles recounts in a low-key manner ways he feels the sheriff's department of more than 300 employees is deficient or behind-the-times. Sindles offers what amounts to a laundry list why the department needs new leadership. Count the many reasons.

According to the challenger, department morale is low, manpower allocation is weak, turnover is high, strong leadership is lacking, methodology is 30 to 40 years old in some cases, there is insufficient liaison with other political leaders.

Is there anything good he can say about the department? "Sure," Ed replies easily, pulling himself erect. "We've got dedicated personnel. There's an unbelievable pool of talent in our department," emphasized the former deputy superintendent of support who officially is on leave for the campaign.

Sindles has fixed the time and place where he detailed his view of the shortcomings of the current administration and asked incumbent Sheriff Clinton "Clint" Grinnell to step down, not run for reelection and accept a high ranking post in the department until reaching retirement age of 65 in 1996. Sindles said the proposal was made Dec. 16, 1993, during dinner at the Crossroads, Ivanhoe.

Grinnell scoffs at the proposal, explaining that he would be no part of "an arrangement." Sindles shys away from characterizing the encounter as a deal session, preferring to describe the dinner as an honest assessment of his evaluation of the Grinnell administration and a graceful way to handle an embarrassing situation.

No alternatives to water agency

Through a quirk of politics and the legislative process, residents on both sides of the upper Fox River and northern Illinois have been thrust into the role of deciding the fate of the waterway management agency, a non-tax supported governmental body charged with improving water quality and safety on one of the most heavily traveled recreational waterways in the nation.

Their role changed from advisory to binding when Gov. Edgar signed legislation Jan. 26 lifting the decision on whether the 10-year-old agency should continue from the General Assembly and placing it squarely on the shoulders of electors in balloting March 15.

The law creating the Chain O'Lakes/Fox River Water Management Agency is one of the most interesting legislative acts to create a governmental body ever adopted in Illinois. The law effectively turned over the husbandry of a vast natural resource—the 64,000 acre Chain and the Fox River running from the Wisconsin stateline to Algonquin—to an elective body with representation from Lake and McHenry counties. Interestingly, the agency was not granted taxing powers.

The agency's main source of income necessary to accomplish awesome tasks such as flood and erosion control, and improving water quality of a polluted and over-utilized waterway is user fees charged boaters—the overwhelming majority of whom are spread over the entire Chicago area and are not legal voters in the management district.

If ever an agency was doomed to failure it was the Waterway Management Agency. Dogged by critics all sides, agency leaders who serve without pay plunged into the sea of red tape posed by overlapping jurisdictions and environmental restrictions to clean up the waterway, improve navigation and make it safe for thousands of users who vary from luxury cruiser owners to modestly powered outboards.

With high quality leadership embodied in the original chairman, the late Atty. John Soffiotti, and the current chairman, Dr. William Dam, the agency has persevered undaunted over countless obstacles, mostly out of stubborn belief in its mission, and the support of a remarkably knowledgeable citizens advisory committee whose members understand such complex problems as securing dredging permits, finding approved storage sites and satisfying an understandably impatient and frustrated public.

Not the least of the agency's problems has been unbridled criticism from special interest groups, all but a small part of the distractions coming from jurisdictional antagonisms or petty jealousies. With the critical March 15 juncture nearing, the latest criticism to surface is the baseless argument that the agency has been biased toward tourism interests.

Brushing away all the minor irritants, the fact remains that there is no alternative to the Waterway Management Agency for preserving and improving the Chain O'Lakes and upper Fox River. The agency, really in its infancy despite nearly 10 years of existence, has performed yeoman service coordinating the involvement of the nearly one dozen other bodies with jurisdiction. In fact, some of the agencies like the Army of Corps of Engineers and Dept. of Conservation, are allies of the waterway agency in the battle to preserve and improve the priceless natural resource.

Eligible voters can rest assured that they will be making the right decision March 15 by voting for continuance of the unique agency just as the vast recreational user constituency can take pride in supporting the agency and its work.

Affairs of the Heart

Corridor residents fight land swap

JACK TINDALL

The real issue of the Grainger dispute is whether there will be offices, shopping centers or any commercial development in the area that is called the Des Plaines River Corridor, an all-residential area bounded approximately by Rte. 176, Rte. 22, the I-94 Tollway, and the Des Plaines River. So far the citizens are winning.

It has been over five years since Grainger purchased their residential land, and still, no office zoning has been granted in the Corridor. Korhumel, another would-be office developer, was turned down 22 to 0 by the County Board, and is now in court trying to overturn the County Board decision.

It is not just the 341 Mettawa citizens or a group of NIMBY (Not In My Back Yard) neighbors who oppose Grainger. The 1,700 plus citizens living in the Des Plaines River Corridor, including 550 unincorporated Lake County residents, 650 citizens of Lincolnshire, 150 of Libertyville and 48 of Green Oaks, have overwhelmingly opposed development of this type.

The three governments of Mettawa, Lincolnshire and Lake Forest support the current all-residential zoning in the Corridor to provide a buffer between the high density commercial and office development of Conway Office Park to the east and Vernon Hills to the west. They have entered into a Local Land Management Plan and Boundary Agreement to provide for planned development in the unincorporated area between their borders, and to prevent developers from shopping their zoning requests among the villages and the Lake County Board.

The county has refused to participate in the local land management planning which the County Board and their Framework Plan have long endorsed, and they are fostering the process which they could condemn, that of allowing a developer to shop his zoning change among several governmental units.

The new Grainger plan offers open space land to the county in exchange for office zoning. Some call it an inducement, some a carrot, and some "a buy-off attempt."

The citizens of the Corridor stand in opposition to trading office zoning, which is likely to result in 12 million square feet of additional office construction inside the Corridor, for several hundred acres of open land.

Such a trade will not result in a net gain to those who favor conservation and open land and fear traffic gridlock. The net result will be hundreds of acres of forest, wetlands and natural wilds—that which makes up the Des Plaines River Corridor land—sacrificed to more and more unwanted development. And for whose benefit?

Editor's note: Jack Tindall is a director of CASS (Citizens Against Suburban Sprawl). He is a resident of Mettawa.

COMMENTARY

PARTY LINES

Busy Bob leaves chair job dangling

Supervisor Bob Grever of Ela Township ticked off a crowded list of political, family and employment obligations and left the question dangling:

Does a busy guy like Bob Grever have time to devote to the demanding and thankless job of serving as chairman of the Lake County Republican Central Committee?

"I don't know where that story started," remarking Grever, speculating on the speculation that he might be induced to succeed County GOP Chairman Bob Churchill, who has decided not to seek another term in the unpaid party post.

Grever, who is pushing tickets these days in addition to everything else as host of a party fund raiser and candidate forum Tuesday, Feb. 22, says his current commitments include three County Board committees, two Forest Preserve committees, membership on the County

Building Commission, the third vice presidency of the GOP Central Committee, and a job as building commissioner of the Village of Hawthorn Woods. Breathless by now, Grever added that he's married, has four children and likes to work in an occasional game of golf.

By the way, the Feb. 22 fund raiser will run from 5:30 to 8 p.m. at Fritzl's on Rte. 12. And he didn't say no.

More support—Fresh from her unexpected vote of confidence from the regular Libertyville Township Republican organization, County Board Rep. Carol Calabrese will be getting all-out backing from the embattled residents of the LML Corridor who share the independent Republican's opposition to W.W. Grainger.

Calabrese represents the Des Plaines River Corridor sector north of Rte. 60. Corridor residents have labeled Calabrese's primary opponent, Martin Paulson, a "hand-picked" supporter of County Board Chairman Robert Depke, who backs Grainger. Who said the politics of open space no longer is viable?

Remembering Willard—Possibly not to conflict with contested races, backers of Willard Helander for county clerk chose a date late in the primary campaign to officially launch her campaign. The transportation lobbyist and fledgling Republican will be feted at a kick off party Friday, Feb. 25, at Lamb's Farm, just a couple of weeks before primary balloting where Helander is running unopposed.

Unwavering—Sticking to his story all the way into the election booth will be Ed Sindles of Mundelein, who insists that Sheriff Clinton Grinnell has "made deals" to step down if reelected and handpick his successor. Sindles has adopted the purported resignation as his campaign slogan, "Full Time, Full Term." At least it fits nice on bumper stickers.

Unsinkable—Frances Wilkens, Vernon Township Republican chair, hopes to get out of rehabilitation in time to do some last minute campaigning before the March 15 primary.

Fran suffered pre-holiday injuries when struck by a passing vehicle while crossing the street to a Diamond Lake restaurant, greeting the new year from a bed in Condell Hospital where she was confined before being transferred for rehab treatments. Vice Chairman Frank Wolowic will be filling in for her. The Vernon GOP streered clear of endorsement entanglements by reaffirming central committee selections.

Wilkens is recovering at Americana Healthcare Center on S. Milwaukee Ave.

Good memory—Judy Martini, making an unprecedented third-time run against the entrenched Antioch political powerhouse, Jim Fields, Martini says she has no difficulty remembering when she made up her mind to run.

December, 1992.

That was when Fields spoke out at an anti-riverboat casino hearing, "I don't care what you people say," Martini recalled. "I knew right then that I was going to run again." The two-time loser to Fields insists that the issue in the three-way Republican tussle for a County Board nomination is representation. "Fields simply doesn't represent the people," exclaimed Martini, who regards her other opponent, antique shop owner Ken Dumancek, a Fields "ringer."

Dumancek waffled on the casino boat question, Martini stated.

Likes his job—Newly appointed Ela Town Clerk Bill Donnan likes his job so much that occasional overtime is no problem. Ideal way to enjoy retirement, exclaims Donnan, a veteran teacher who opted for early retirement. Donnan was familiar with the clerk's job from service as a township trustee.

LETTERS TO THE Editor

Big bucks for Bob

Editor:

People leading the opposition against the Yorkhouse Road Extension are typical of the "Rip Van Winkle Sleeping Public." I suspect that more than 70 percent of that group has never voted in a Lake County Board primary. Until their ox was gored, they didn't know who represented them. Now they are eager to blame everyone but themselves.

County Board members Neal, Depke, McRae, Fields and others are not at fault. Everyone of them has a long and predictable pro-development record. Everyone of them has been heavily financed by special interest money, and the "voting public" elected them while most of those Yorkhouse Road protesters stayed at home.

Building roads, sewer and water lines are synonymous with development. What did they expect?

The public record shows that Neal has received $100,000 from special interests, and it is certain that Depke's bankroll is even bigger. Whose interest did they think would be protected? The public's or the people who shell out big money for their political campaigns?

Neal has opposition in the March 15 primary. It will be of interest to learn how many dollars and hours those protesters are willing to contribute toward Neal's defeat. If history is a true indicator, very little!

It's certain the political smart money is putting their bankroll on Neal and Depke. There is a rather vulgar saying often times linked with politics, "money talks and bull—t walks." Neal will tapdance around Yorkhouse Road until March 15, hoping to fool the voters one more time.

As the former chairman of the County's Public Service Committee during those curb-over-development years between 1988 to 90, the Yorkhouse Road issue never surfaced, because we didn't allow it to surface due to justifiable environmental concerns involving the Wadsworth Wetlands. It is surfacing now only because Neal and Depke want it to!

The bottom line is this: The public gets the government they deserve.

Sindles doesn't mind talking about the dinner meeting because he feels he was acting in a forthright manner with the best interests of the department in mind. He continues to hew to an early campaign theme that Sheriff Grinnell will not finish out his term, despite the sheriff's heated and repeated denials.

With little over a month remaining in a campaign the challenger admits is "uphill," Sindles says his drive for the Republican nomination is in high gear. He said his biggest obstacle is the "nice person" syndrome.

"Everyone says Clint is a 'nice person.' So am I." Sindles sees his job as convincing voters that a sheriff should be selected on the basis of qualifications and determination to do a good job rather than being a good guy in office.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY — Grandchild Number two arrived in a snowstorm at 2:30 a.m. Tuesday, all eight pounds, 14 ounces, and all boy. He'll be known as "Little John," a family name from both sides. Daughter Jill is doing fine. Son-in-law Ralph DePasquale took several days to get rid of the jitters.

Bill Schroeder offers editorial commentary every Tuesday on Lake County Live presented by STAR Channel 3/ U. S. Cable at 5:30 and 7:30 p. m.

We have a limited amount of trails available in Lake County, and some years are unable to use them at all due to limited amount of snowfall, but in other years such as this one, people are out there in force. It really makes me angry when you see or hear of someone who abuses the trails or someone's property. Unfortunately this is not the only season that this occurs. We seem to be the group that is under fire now, though. What about during the summer and the no wake areas of the lakes, or just on the highway going to work?

Our season in Illinois is short, but in most cases enjoyable. Not all of us abuse private property, get drunk, go at high speeds or think only of ourselves. Education and awareness are the key to safe snowmobiling.

Area ideal for riverboats

Editor:

To our knowledge, no applicant for a riverboat gaming license has "a lock" on a license. In fact, it is our belief that each of the Lake County sites under consideration (Fox Lake, North Chicago and Waukegan) have much to offer. We remain convinced that Lake County, in fairness, deserves two riverboat licenses, one on each of the county's two major waterways, the Chain-O-Lakes and Lake Michigan.

Far from a belief that the question of morality is "irrelevant," our position always has been that gambling is a personal issue to be decided by each individual when he or she decides to seek this form of entertainment, play the lottery or attend a charitable gaming event.

We remain greatly appreciative of the support we have received from the elected officials of Fox Lake and Lake County. They believe, as do we, that the Lake County Riverboat Project would bring much needed jobs, economic development and tourism, as well as substantial tax revenues that would benefit all the citizens of Lake County. The proposed Fox Lake license being backed by Lake County is the only one which would provide needed tax benefits to the entire county.

Snowmo code of conduct

Editor:

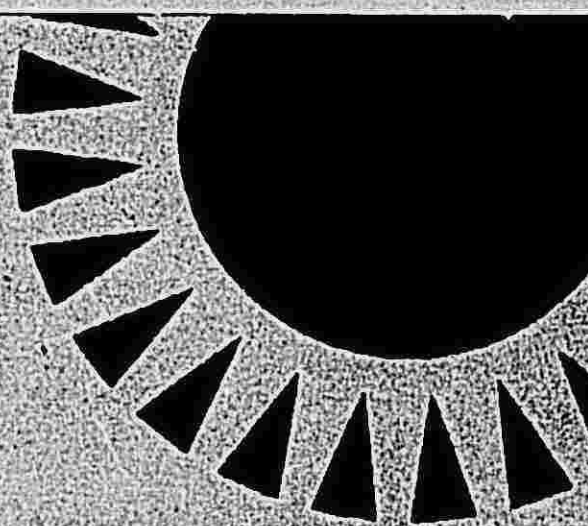

I am a snowmobiler, not a very popular thing to be these days, but never the less, I am.

I enjoy being able to ride my sled, but I also enjoy life. Common sense will tell you that operating a snowmobile under the influence of alcohol is as deadly as driving a car after having been drinking.

I am not opposed to a breathalyzer test, but that alone will not cure the real problem. The problem lies with the availability of trails and uneducated drivers. As with a boat or other recreational machinery, you do not have to show ability to operate it prior to taking it out on your own.

Love still apparent for couple after all these years

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

Ah, Valentine's Day. The holiday honoring lovers in which gifts and greeting cards express affection.

The heart-filled day is derived from the ancient Roman feast of Lupercalis for which young Roman men and maidens drew partners for the coming year by lottery.

Gurnee residents Evelyn and Al Zelent, married 49 years this March, didn't have to use such a plan to win each other's adoration.

Still sweethearts after all these years, the couple met in grammar school in 1935. The families of both Al and Evelyn relocated to different areas out of their hometown of Norridge, at that time known as Norwood.

Accidentally, or miraculously you might say, the two were reintroduced after their parents, the Barretts and the Zelents ran into each other one day in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Zelent told the Barretts of their son's whereabouts in the U.S. Navy, and it wasn't too long after that Evelyn began sending letters and little gifts to her old classmate.

Evelyn casually dated Al's brother once or twice, but soon was dating Al when he came home to the U.S. on a 30-day survivor's leave.

Miss Zelent left her job and traveled to San Diego with a girlfriend so she could meet with Al in person. Apparently taking a preference to Al over his brother, she knew this was the man she wanted to marry.

Evelyn recalled the first time she heard the proverbial wedding bells. It happened "towards the end of the 30-day (leave)," said Evelyn.

"When I was stationed in California, we started dating every chance I had," said Al.

Al did ask Evelyn to marry him, and he never went back out to Chula Vista, California. Instead he stayed with his love.

Streets Scenes— take an entertaining world tour

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Come take a trip to exotic ports of call in the winter months without leaving the county.

The 20th edition of Carmel High School's "Street Scenes" will thrill audiences through song, dance and comedy on Feb. 11 and Feb. 12. An international theme creeps into all the entertainment.

This long-running entertainment event features talented professional and amateur singers, dancers and comedians performing original skits and routines. It is a special two days of music and acting for this area.

"Some of the people are professionals who try out new material," Father Bill Harry said. "People get to see a variety of entertainment, comedy, singing and dancing."

The shows are produced, directed and acted by local volunteers. The performers make fun at Lake County perceptions of famous places and the world of travel.

"People who have never gone to Carmel still realize how important it is to the school. They just want to be a part of it," Harry said.

"Performances include 'Wish You Were Here,' with Carmel alumni as postal workers reading post cards from the edge and other locales around the world; 'Class Reunion at IHOP,' where catty remarks about receding hairlines, crows feet, fading virility and limping libidos are the order of the day.

Residents can come out and enjoy blues in one room, and, two doors down, enjoy rock.

"For $12.50 you can't get that kind of variety if you drove down to the city; it's just a great time. It's just a good place to get out of the cold and have a good time," said Jennifer Brusenbach, a member of the organizing committee.

Each Carmel-area city has a skit. Libertyville has tourists at an International Airport with The Kirk Players who run a travel agency called "Tour Dejour" or "Wherever you go; There you Are." The Mundelein show has a wayward ship called S.S. Guppy which sails again and the Vernon Hills show is called the "Transylvanian Transformation."

Some singing highlights are local professional Susan Becker and the quartet "Chicago Gear and Transmission." Also featured are

"Jazz Spectrum," "Ben Jamin," and "Natchez" and the improvisational group "Manic Impressive."

There are about 1,000 volunteers who work on the event. The two-day festival draws close to 6,000 people, according to Brusenbach. "It's become a community event."

The food is also international. The entrees include such items as pizza, egg rolls and corned beef, to name just a few.

Doors open at 6 p.m. both nights. Entertainment rooms and refreshment areas are available throughout the evening. While on-campus parking is limited, additional parking is available at marked lots along Hawley Street in Mundelein. Free shuttle service will be provided. Designated drivers drink free non-alcoholic beverages all night.

Admission is $12.50 per person. Tickets are available at the door or by calling (708) 566-3000. Patrons must be 21 years or older to enter.

Fred and Teddi's Lil' Cow Band to perform Feb. 12

Popular children's entertainers Fred and Teddi Koch and their five-piece band will perform a concert at Gorton Community Center, 400 E. Rollins Road, Lake Forest on Feb. 12 from 10:30 - 11:15 a.m.

The second in Gorton's "KidStuff" performing arts series for children, the concert will feature favorite and original songs from the group's albums "Children's Songs," "This Little Cow," and "Did You Feed My Cow?" which spotlights the singing voices of several local children and the famous Ella Jenkins.

Tickets, priced at $3 (general admission), are available at the Gorton office. The concert has always sold out, so tickets should be purchased in advance. For further information, call 234-606 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., weekdays.

Apple Tree presents 'Roll of Thunder, Hear My Cry'

In celebration of Black History Month, Apple Tree Theatre presents Mildred Taylor's "Roll of Thunder, Hear My Cry" as a Theatre for Young Audience production. Designed for students in grades 4 through high school, the production open Tuesday, Feb. 1 and runs weekdays through Friday, Feb. 18. A weekend performance will be held Feb. 12 at 1 p.m. Weekday performances are at 9:15 a.m. and 11:15 a.m. All tickets are $5.

"Roll of Thunder" is the story of conflict between race and culture, set in 1934 Mississippi. It centers on the problems of a young black girl and the harsh treatment she and her family receive from the white community.

Apple Tree Theatre is wheelchair accessible. Parking is available in the City lots surrounding the theatre. For reservations, call the Apple Tree Theatre, 595 Elm Place, Highland Park. Call at 432-4335.

Papai Players presents classic 'Cinderella'

A classic musical fairy tale, will be performed by the Papai Players Feb. 25 at 10:30 a.m. Performances will be held at Cutting Hall in Palatine, 150 Wood Street.

Tickets are $5. Advance group purchases of 20 or more are $4 each. The theatre will be open one-half hour prior to showtime for seating. Advance ticket reservations requested. For further information please call 359-9556.

The Papai Players is an adult professional theater company that has been performing for children over 17 years now using various theater locations or their productions.

Walt Disney on Ice

Walt Disney's World on Ice featuring Aladdin will be staged in the Chicagoland area through Feb. 13 at Chicago Stadium.

A magic carpet flies through a diamond-studded night and leaves viewers wondering: How does one simulate desert sandstorms and sunsets and create a giant genie who exploded onto the scene in a swirl of smoke? Transforming a bare ice arena floor into an opulent Arabian fantasy was a challenge that faced the creative team of Walt Disney's World on Ice—Aladdin.

Working closely with the Walt Disney Company, the memorable scenes from the motion picture were magically transformed. "We had to rethink the film, how to get the flow and feel of the action when translating the ice arena," said Robert Little, set designer. Under his direction 306 props and 22 wonderfully detailed scenic curtains and pieces were created for this extravaganza. The production also features a new bi-level stage set design. The split-focus plan offers two, performance staging areas: one on the ice and the other 154-feet high atop the proscenium.

Tickets prices are $10.50, $13.50 and $17.50. To order tickets contact the box office at Rosemont, 635-6600 or Chicago Stadium at (312) 733-5300. Tickets are also available through Ticket Master.

CLC sponsors children's program

A musical production of the story of Ben Franklin and his pet mouse Amos will be held at the College of Lake County Sat. Feb. 26 at 12:30 and 3 p.m. in the auditorium at Graylake.

"Ben and Me" will be performed by Face to Face productions, Ltd., a professional theatre group in Chicago. This family entertainment and educational program will highlight music of the era while illustrating the history through costumes.

My Favorite Hawaiian Side Trips

PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

With six very unique islands, Hawaii offers enough different adventures to guarantee something for everyone.

The following are a few of my favorite, listed by island.

Kauai, my favorite Hawaiian Island, is known for its luxurious vegetation and natural beauty which is most evident on the north shore. I'm speaking of the awesome Na Pali Coast, featured in many movies, most recently Jurassic Park.

The best way to experience this spectacular, but remote, area is by a Captain Zodiac raft trip where you will stop at remote beaches, snorkel into sea caves and much more.

Moving on to Maui, the top adventure has to be whale watching.

Every year between about December and April, these giants head for the warm waters of Maui to make baby giants. There are many, (maybe too many) whale watching excursions operating from Maui. For an educational, as well as entertaining, cruise, sail with the Pacific Whale Foundation and its team of whale researchers.

Oahu, home to Honolulu, Waikiki Beach and Don Ho, has everything a tourist could ask for. Sometimes there's just too many tourists, though. However, there is a place seen by virtually every tourist in Waikiki, but is visited by very few. I'm talking about the famous landmark, Diamond Head.

You can get to the top of Diamond Head for a spectacular look at Waikiki, and you don't have to be a mountain climber to do it! Just take Diamond Head Road to the inland side of the crater. There you'll find a tunnel leading inside to an Army Base. Signs will direct you to a gentle path leading to an old artillery bunker. Climb the stairs, step through the opening where the guns used to be, and the view will take your breath away.

I'll save the jeep ride through Waipio Valley on the "Big Island" and Molokai's famous mule ride for another article.

'Cloud Nine'

The Barat College Performing Arts Center continues its 1993-94 season with Caryl Churchill's play "Cloud Nine." This biting, satirical farce is set in darkest Africa in the 1880's and in London in the 1980's. Performances are Feb. 25, 26 at 8 p.m. and Feb. 27 at 3 p.m. at The Drake Theatre, 700 E. Westleigh Rd., Lake Forest.

Volunteers needed

Experienced singers and string players are needed for an AIDS Benefit Concert sponsored by Lake Forest College's Music Dept. and the Office of the Dean of the Faculty. The 3 p.m. concert on Feb. 27 will be held at the First Presbyterian Church of Lake Forest and will feature a Requiem for choir, soloists and orchestra composed by LFC alumnus Joe Vest entitled "Requiem." Performers to this project include soloists from the Lyric Opera Center for American Artists and instrumentalists from North Suburban Symphony. For information call Joy Sanford at 735-5021. Say hello to 'Goodbye Girl'

For lovers of Neil Simon's works, the production of the musical version of "The Goodbye Girl" now playing at the Marriott Theatre, is a must.

Marvin Hamlisch's music, played in top-drawer style here under the musical direction of Michael Duff, is pleasing, if not memorable in the Rogers and Hammerstein way.

Marriott chose one of Chicago's brightest stars, Kathy Santen, our very own Mary Martin, for the title role. It is no surprise that she again does everything she does on stage with perfection, from the commanding way she covers the boards, to her resounding voice, to her fresh acting ability.

James FitzGerald, who plays her subleasee, is a new face to us and for the most part a pleasing one. He employs so many medlocre imitations, including saying many of his lines with Richard Dreyfus inflections, that we really aren't certain when he himself is performing. The collage's total is a good one.

This is the story of a gal who always gets dumped on by her guys so she becomes love-shy, especially where actors are concerned. That's when Elliot, another actor, sub-leases her apartment.

She tries to dodge a relationship with him and, after both admit they are in love, he gets a part in a movie in the South Pacific and the typical final goodbye scene is about to take place with the question on everyone's lips being, "Do they love each other enough to straighten things out?"—by GLORIA DAVIS

Kathy Santen and James FitzGerald star in Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre musical version of Neil Simon's "The Goodbye Girl," running through April 3. For ticket information call the box office at 634-0200.

Captain Guido's offers Valentine's Day treat

For an extra special Valentine's Day, take your sweetheart to Captain Guido's Restaurant at 476 Liberty (Rte. 176) in Wauconda. Owner Lou Buccelli has planned an extraordinary eight-course banquet for the evening.

The menu begins with a choice of shrimp cocktail or fried calamari as an appetizer, followed by cream of shrimp soup and Caesar salad. The next course features linguini with either marinara sauce or tomato basil sauce. Diners may select from three entrees: fresh lobster tail with filet mignon, tender lean prime rib, or mahi mahi with Chablis sauce. Dessert is rice pudding a la Chef Angelo, with coffee or tea. This elegant feast is capped off with a glass of champagne. The Valentine's Day special will be served from 4 to 10 p.m.; the price for all is only $29.50 per person.

Captain Guido's is a treat any time of the year; there's no place like it for the freshest in seafood, everything from trout to salmon. For those who can't decide, the Fisherman's Seafood platter offer shrimp, scallops, oysters and a fish fillet. Shellfish lovers will also find a combination of lobster tail, medallion of sea scallops and shrimp. Many seafood entrees come with pasta. Shrimp a la Captain Guido features a black pepper and garlic cream sauce with fettuccine.

For landlubbers, Captain Guido's has an extensive selection of steaks, veal, and chicken, as well as a large assortment of pasta entrees and sauces. Entrees are priced from $7.95 to $11.95 and include all-you-can-eat soup and house salad with breadsticks. Meat and seafood dishes come with potato, rice pilaf or pasta. Daily specials are offered as well.

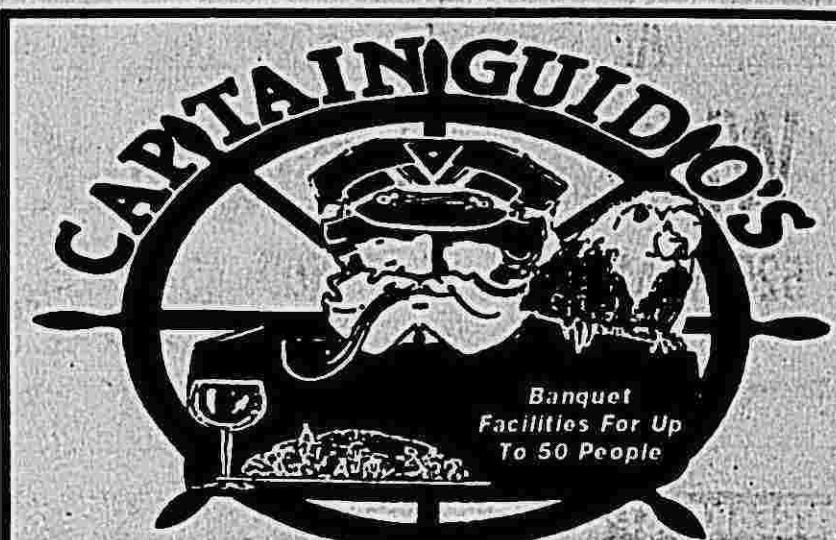

Captain Guido's is open for lunch at 11 a.m., offering the same great tastes in smaller portions, most priced around $6.95. The dining room is open until 10 p.m. during the week and closes at 11 p.m. on the weekends. The lounge features two big screen televisions and is open until midnight.

For Valentine's Day reservations or a special meal any day call Captain Guido's at 526-0606.

WHERE TO EAT OUT

FEATURE OF THE WEEK

It's three squares and more at White Alps

Whether you want breakfast, lunch, dinner, or even a late night snack, White Alps Restaurant in Lake Zurich is the place to go. Open seven days a week from 5:30 a.m. to 11 p.m., this family-style restaurant will please the most particular palate.

With 11 different three-egg omelettes to choose from and six different breakfast specials, White Alps can start the day off with a bang. The combination breakfast special includes two eggs, any style, and two strips of bacon, pork sausage, or ham. Corned beef lovers will be in heaven with corned beef hash topped with two eggs any style. By the way, the breakfast menu is available any time of day!

Lunch, served from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., offers regular and deluxe sandwiches. The deluxe includes soup, French fries, lettuce, tomato, and a pickle, not to mention one great sandwich.

Luncheon specials include the gyros sandwich served on pita bread, French dip, Reuben sandwich served with sauerkraut on rye, chicken breast on pita bread served with green peppers as well as onions and mozzarella cheese, a croissant club, and a Philly beef sandwich.

Don't overlook the salads. White Alps offers chicken Caesar salad, Julienne salad, Greek salad, and taco salad. Best of all, the lunch specials are under $5.

Dinner specials are delicious as well as economical. Choose the broiled lobster tail, filet mignon, or even the chicken picante. All dinners include soup, a 21-item salad bar, potato, rolls and butter, and dessert. The dinner menu includes Italian dishes, Grecian specialties, seafood, as well as treats from the broiler.

Let Chefs Spiro, Tony, Frank and John create that special Valentine's Day dinner for you and your love. White Alps also has full alcohol service to make that all important toast.

But don't leave out the kids. White Alps also has a children's menu. With the variety of the menu, even the most difficult child will enjoy White Alps.

The restaurant has been on 572 W. Main Street in Lake Zurich for 25 years, and Spiro has been the host for the past seven years. Parking is no problem, so stop by for the best Lake Zurich has to offer. For more information or reservations call 438-7005.

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)

Cooperative efforts in business aren't especially favored. You and a co-worker don't quite mesh this week. This week and the coming months should be very favorable for a partnership interest. The weekend accents romance.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)

Though this week is likely to bring you new opportunities in business, you may have trouble staying on top of immediate tasks. You could easily fall behind now. A new assignment will be right up your alley. Romance may also come through work situations.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) The week brings fun opportunities, yet there may be some last-minute changes in plans. In romance, keep your feet on the ground. Also, guard against foolish expenditure. A cycle begins this week that promises more fun outings in the coming months.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22)

Family celebrations are favored, yet staying on top of household duties may be difficult now. There may be some confusion due to a mix-up in communications. In the coming months, you will be entertaining guests more often at home. This is good if you are looking to move.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Good news comes by phone or letter and weekend plans fall into place now. However, the unexpected could throw you off course where job interests are concerned. Partners are a great help to each other this week.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Money opportunities are certainly present this week, yet you must guard against careless expenditures. Extra expenses may arise in connection with parenting. You are efficient and industrious on the job this week. Income improves in the coming months.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22)

Though you are optimistic and in a happy frame of mind this week, others could keep you waiting. Mix-ups in signals could occur between family members as well. You will enjoy a visit to a familiar haunt this weekend where you renew some friendships.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You may get a confidential tip this week that will benefit you financially. However, interruptions could make it difficult to accomplish as much as you would like now. Romance will be rewarding.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Though you are sought after socially now, friends who can't make up their minds make it difficult for you to put your own plans in final shape. Others seem to be unreliable. You will do an old friend a favor this weekend.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You may have a minor disagreement with a friend this week. Business prospects look good at the moment, yet your independent attitude may not sit well with some you deal with. Many of your ambitions are soon to be realized.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You will receive conflicting advice this week, so you might as well rely on your own judgment. Last-minute changes make it difficult for you to make up your mind about plans for travel. You will be expanding your horizons soon.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Though this week brings welcome financial developments, it's not the best time to make decisions involving the use of joint assets. A friend is hard to pin down. You are beginning a cycle that promises overall improvement in your life.

'Blink' better than the average fare

Madeline Stowe

"Blink," an unusual murder mystery shot right here in Chicago, deals with the syndrome of retroactive sight, reportedly often found in blind people who have just gained their eyesight. According to the script of "Blink," it sometimes takes an image 24 hours to register in the brain in such instances.

In other words, a recently blind person might not remember a sight they have seen until almost a day later. And so it is with Madeline Stowe, who plays a blind folk musician who sees a murderer leaving the scene of the crime after a corneal transplant.

Michael Apted, who directed Sissy Spacek in "Coal Miner's Daughter," spearheads this tale of blind people in peril, which usually makes for suspenseful hide and seek scenes. Surprisingly, he handles the suspense in this one as well as he did the personal relationships in both films.

Aidan Quinn plays the amiable cop who tries to help solve the murder and find the man she saw, while he's also trying to make time with the pretty witness. Quinn and Stowe have a lot of chemistry going for themselves in this one.

This is as much a story of relationships as it is a mystery thriller, and the one that develops between Stowe and Quinn is probably the best part of the picture.

Lots of good shots of different parts of Chicago make the film even more interesting to the home folk.

Good Food

CLAUDIA M. LENART
Regional Editor

I'm about to divulge my most asked for recipe and it's guaranteed to transport you to someone place warmer and wilder, New Orleans.

The first time I tasted Jambalaya was in its birthplace, New Orleans. My husband and I had stopped at a noted music club, Tippetina's, in the afternoon and the club was serving complementary jambalaya during happy hour. Both of us love spicy food, so we thought it was the best thing since the first time we tasted Mexican cuisine as children. We returned later that night to immerse ourselves in the Cajun music of Buckwheat Zydeco, and although the jambalaya was gone, it was not forgotten.

When I returned home, I was hoping to figure out how to make jambalaya. I sort of knew what was in it, but needed a little more direction. About a year or so later, I stumbled across a recipe in a cookbook. It gave me the idea of how to create jambalaya, but I added, subtracted and modified a lot. First I tried it out on my husband. He loved it. Then I tried it out at a summer party. Everyone loved it.

So before long, friends started asking for the recipe. But, I never really used a recipe, I just added a little of this, a little of that and so on. And, every time I make it, I change it somewhat. Anyway, considering that it is Mardi Gras time when people start getting a taste for New Orleans, I managed to write down my basic recipe. So here it is.

Jambalaya

5 cups of water
3/4 of a 16 ounce box of brown rice
2 large chicken breasts
1 lb. bulk Italian sausage
1 lb. shrimp (cooked and peeled)
1 medium onion (chopped)
1 large green bell pepper (chopped)
1 small Hungarian (or other mildly hot) pepper
1 14 ounce can of diced tomatoes
1 28 ounce can tomato sauce
3 cloves of garlic
1 tsp. thyme
1 tsp. parsley
1 tsp. oregano
1 tsp. basil
2 tps. Cajun seasoning
1 Tbl. oil

Boil chicken breasts in water in a large soup pot until cooked, remove chicken breasts and let cool. Add rice to water and continue to cook on medium heat. Meanwhile, place onions, green pepper and sausage in frying pan with oil to brown. When meat is about halfway cooked add pressed garlic, thyme, parsley, oregano and basil. When most of the water is evaporated from rice, yet rice is still crunchy, add tomato sauce, diced tomatoes and cooked meat mixture. Continue to cook on medium and add Cajun seasoning. Cut chicken into small strips and add to pot. Cook for about 45 minutes, stirring often, until liquid is evaporated. Just before liquid is evaporated, add shrimp.

Jambalaya can be served as a side dish or as a meal. Enjoy.

Critic's Choice

'Mad Forest' ultimately disappointing

Remains Theatre has opened with a political drama, Caryl Churchill's "Mad Forest," in which in an 11-member cast, portraying some 40 characters, looks at the tension before and after the Romanian revolution in 1989.

Acts I and II of this sparse three-act production set the stage, first in a series of vignettes (each introduced in Romanian and English but then tediously repeated in Romanian) and then in soliloquies.

A bleak picture emerges of oppression under the communist dictatorship of Nicolae Ceausescu in which people queue up to buy meat in lines that don't move and are afraid to speak in their own apartments without the blaring of a radio to muffle their voices.

A father is demoted when his daughter takes an American for her husband. Other family members suffer as well. A priest is afraid to confide in an angel that appears in his church.

When the cast is all assembled on stage at the Theatre Building, 1225 W. Belmont Ave., Chicago, to tell stories of where they were on Dec. 21, 1989 and in the days following the overthrow of Ceausescu, "Mad Forest" is at its best.

The playwright should have stopped there. Act III returns to a series of contrived vignettes, including a bizarre wedding reception that gives new meaning to the word cacophony. Ion Iliescu's ascension to power brings to mind the truism about the more things change the more they remain the same.

Though "Mad Forest," which runs through Feb. 20, touches some universal truths, it does so didactically and often without heart. And for that, it's ultimately disappointing.—by TOM WITOM

Couple

Although this Valentine's Day the couple may just exchange cards, the spark is still apparent.

The love between the couple who are growing together like an intertwined vine shows. "She's my love. She's the one who keeps me going, and she's really a great gal," Al says with deep sincerity for the woman who's always been behind him.

Evelyn explained that both of them have a lot in common, and sometimes will even begin speaking about the same things at the same time. "Sometimes we're on the same wavelength," Evelyn said of her longtime love.

"He's really a good partner," said Evelyn.

It's quite clear that the couple really likes being together a lot. Traveling is one of the ways to be close, explained Evelyn. A big event both of them get involved in is when Al meets with all of his old Navy buddies who once sailed the oceans on the U.S.S. Princeton during WWII, at an annual reunion. Originally from Deerfield, the couple has been in Gurnee now for the past five years. Al and Evelyn had four children who all grew up in Deerfield. The Zelents are also proud grandparents of 11—one grandson and 10 granddaughters.

Sadly their eldest daughter died last year, yet their love never failed or was even hindered by the tragedy. "That brought us closer together," said Evelyn.

When asked of Evelyn, if the torch she holds for the man she first met 59 years ago still burns, with a twinkle in her eyes and a smile on her face, the simple answer was, "Oh definitely."

Happy Valentines Day to the Zelents and to all other couples!

An Area Guide to Home Design, Remodeling and Real Estate

Grayslake home combines variety of styles, colors to add sense of warmth

Her home is a shining example of how color, wall coverings and window treatments can bring a friendly sense of warmth into a person's home.

By occupation, Barbara Bertler is an interior design decorator. Armed with a four-year degree in interior design from the University of Wisconsin, Madison, she has been working as an interior decorator of some sort for the past 13 years.

In 1989 she established Window and Wall Concepts, located in the new Piggly Wiggly Center in Grayslake. She caters to the interior design needs of homeowners in the Grayslake, Gurnee and Libertyville areas.

Her home stands in a typical suburban neighborhood in Grayslake, where the tracked homes are roughly the same size, roughly the same shape and, generally speaking, roughly the same.

But once you walk into Bertler's home, you are greeted with anything but sameness. By mixing a variety of traditional, contemporary and Southwestern motifs to her walls, furniture and windows, her home warmly welcomes all those who enter.

Bertler said she has "always been creative and always had an eye for color," as one would surely notice in her mix of reds, light blues and light browns.

Every wall in the house, she said, is wall papered, which gives every room that added personal touch. Each room expresses her own creativity, using a dose of different artistic styles.

"My house as a whole, stylewise, is eclectic," Bertler said.

Let's just see what she means.

Beginning with the living room, she combines a Southwestern style with hues of brown and splashes of contemporary colors in what she called a "Faulx finish."

The windows are draped on their tops with an "informal swag." The two-inch aluminum blinds provide privacy and insulation. The furniture, too, is a mix between the traditional and contemporary as the honey-oaked furnishings are all white-washed.

The warm, gentle colors make the room appear larger than it actually is.

The dining room is where she remains traditional throughout. Red and blue flowers on a brown background make their presence known without being obnoxious. The floral patterns on the walls coordinate with the custom-made fabric on her dining room chairs, which are whitewashed wood.

Again, her window treatments add a little pizzazz to the typically formal room.

The light brown wall covering in the kitchen and the powerful afternoon sunlight enlarge what is actually a small seating area in the kitchen. A Southwestern theme prevails by using a smaller scale print pattern on the wall covering.

The long, vertical blinds are topped with a bubbled heading which matches the wall covering. A green, ruffled fabric covers the chain connecting the ceiling to the light fixture.

"Chains on light fixtures are nice places to cover up with fabric," Bertler said.

Her favorite room in the house, she said, is the basement because she and her husband spent more than a year refurbishing it. She said a basement can be a real "functional" room in the house and not just place to store boxes.

The basement is the most contemporary of all rooms in her house. Blacks, whites and grays predomi-

"It makes the room feel like your are not in a basement," Bertler said.

Pieces of custom-made art are carefully placed on the walls. The art is all contemporary by a California artist who created the pieces according to samples of color sent by Bertler.

The bedspread matches the red floral pattern on the back wall. A red and green covering follows along the ceiling of the room. In addition to the matching window fabrics, the window shades cover the bottom half of the window, allowing for the sun to shine while still maintaining one's privacy in the master bedroom. -Photos by Gene Gabry

From page 22 blocks the lower half of the window, allowing for personal privacy in the bedroom while still having the sun shine through the top half of the window.

Morgan, Bertler's 9-month-old daughter, didn't escape her mom's creativity either.

A rose-tone, choral fabric hangs as the window treatment. The fabric has a sheared balloon base with a lace overlay in the ruffle and pocket. The same scheme is on the crib.

"My house makes me feel comfortable," said Bertler, adding that warmth can be achieved by the colors you use.—by KEVIN HANRAHAN

Discover easy decorating tips, ideas for every size home

Step one in decorating

So, you've just moved into a new home and although you like the layout, it's not you. Or maybe you're just tired of your living room. Where do you begin?

First of all, determine how much you can afford to spend on your decorating. That figure will guide you in your decisions about buying new furniture, flooring, draperies, or working with what you've already got.

Once that is established, walk through your whole house, and look at every room individually and also how it relates to other rooms and passageways. This is important to help you determine a color scheme for the whole house. Decorating is, above all, expressive. Color and design create a specific sensation in each of us. Choose a color you feel comfortable with. Complement it with two other colors which coordinate. These colors can then be used in varying proportions throughout the whole house.

Next, prioritize the rooms you want to decorate. If you're not sure where to begin, ask yourself in which room your family spends the most time. Many times it is the family room. Makes sense, doesn't it? Start with the number one room on your list and consider its present furnishings. Ask yourself if each item is something you're going to want to keep or eventually remove from the overall plan. Your decorating plan should be made with the future in mind. In the meantime, if there are pieces you can't get rid of yet, there are ways to camouflage them or at least minimize their importance in the room.

What will the room be used for? Will it be used for formal or informal activities? How much traffic does it get? What are the current traffic patterns? Is it working well or does it need to be altered? Such questions are important ones to consider before you begin to select product and treatment.

Sound like a lot of work? Well, you're right. It is! But it is the foundation upon which rests any good decorating plan and will give you the results you want.

Smaller homes call for creative planning

With the exception of the master bedroom and bath, most new homes today have smaller rooms than in the past. This means efficiency is necessary in the use of space, and careful planning is a must.

The first step in planning such a space is to evaluate how it will be used, and decide upon the essential needs. Let's take a family room, for example. Generally, you need seating for four to five people. The "media center" is probably on the list of needs—some people still call it the television! Then, of course, you will require an end table or two for lamps, magazines, etc. Those are the basics. Here's the trick—minimize! If you only need seating for four, use a loveseat instead of a sofa, and add two upholstered chairs. If you need a fifth seat, a smaller occasional chair made of wood will suffice and take less space.

Drawing a floor plan to scale helps when the arrangement needs extra thought. Cut out pieces of paper scaled to the sizes and shapes of the furniture and see what arrangement works best on graph paper first. Allow 12 to 18 inches for pathways between tables and chairs, and three feet for a major traffic pattern.

In a small room, avoid a lot of clutter. Keep accessories to a few interesting pieces. One larger picture will be more effective on the wall than a grouping. If you're trying to keep the space open. Remember that color can work for you too. Bold colors will stand out and should be used in limited amounts. Light colors work best in small rooms.

Bring as much light into the room as possible. Use extra lighting and add to the usual number of lamps in the room. But lights on the pictures, add an "up" light on the floor behind a large corner plant. Use track lighting on the ceiling to accentuate interesting items in the room. This type of indirect lighting not only adds interest but subtly introduces additional lighting.

With so many options, a small room can still be a "great" room. —by MARY LEBEN

Victorian narrow lot offers two story plan

A front porch runs the full width of this beautiful Victorian home. Upon entering the front door, the open rail U-shaped stair provides access to the second floor as well as to the basement. Both linen storage and a coat closet are indicated here as well as access to the single or double garage.

On the front of the home is an all purpose room. It can be used as either a bedroom, study, office or formal living room. A full bath is provided as well as ample closet space behind bi-fold doors.

The foyer leads directly to the large activity room with fireplace. This room is open to the dining area of the home, which includes a picturesque bay window. Direct access is to the U-shaped kitchen with built in appliances and a laundry closet as well.

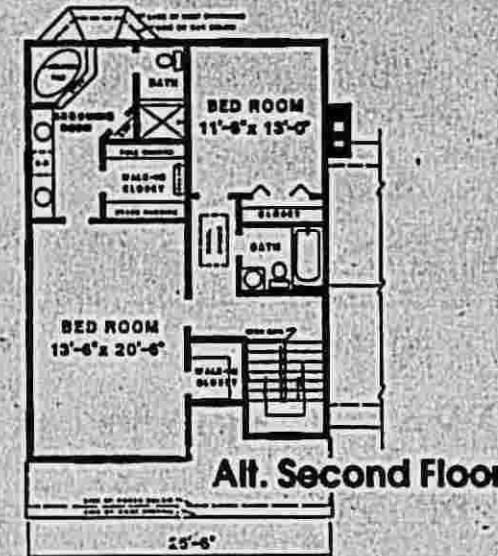

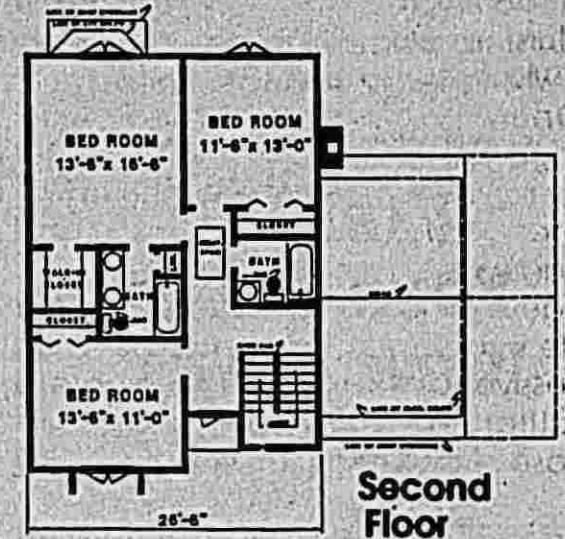

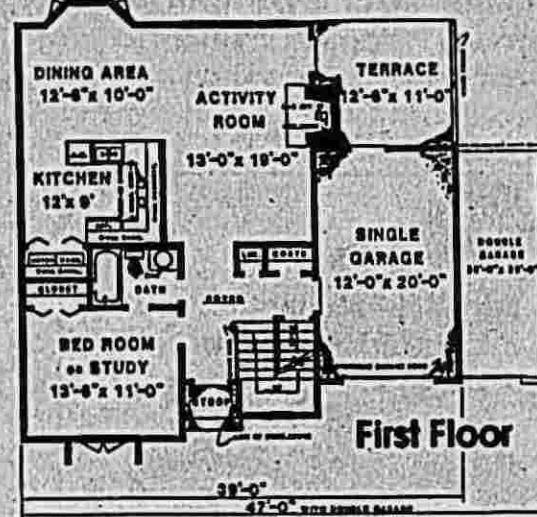

There are three bedrooms and two baths up. Closets are large and the master bath has twin lavatories. A disappearing stair is shown for attic storage. An alternate second floor is shown with two bedrooms, the master bedroom being more than just a bedroom and bath, but a real master suite. There are two large walk in closets, one off of the master bath and one off of the bedroom. The master bath features a long vanity with twin lavatories and a knee space. The corner whirlpool tub with step, separate shower stall and commode compartment and a corner linen cabinet complete the suite. A second bedroom and hall bath are furnished with the alternate second floor.

Plan 885B is available with three exterior elevations. The Victorian elevation shown, combines horizontal wood siding a long covered front porch and square tower with multiple roof lines to create a true "gingerbread" look. The other two elevations are contemporary and European. Front wall changes necessary to accomplish the Victorian and European fronts are shown on the actual working drawings. The plans are drawn in accordance with FHA and VA requirements.

For further information on plan 885B, write W.D. Farmer Residence Designer, Inc., P.O. Box 450025, Atlanta, GA 30345.

Windows shrink heating bills, creates feeling of openness

The dramatic visual effect created by stacked floor-to-ceiling thermalpane windows and full walls of windows that make small homes look and live larger have been hallmarks of today's homes.

Cost-conscious buyers find the energy savings these sealed and insulated windows provide are even more important over the long term, and eventually add to the resale value of their home.

During Lake County's cold winter months these double-glazed windows create an energy efficient environment by allowing in free solar energy. And during the summer months these insulated windows lower energy costs by preventing both heat and damaging ultraviolet rays from penetrating the home's interior.

Insulated windows

reduce the amount of furnace-generated heat lost through a single glazed window by 50 percent, while blocking more than 63 percent of the ultraviolet rays that fade carpets and fabrics.

In the past, a brick wall was seen as the most thermally efficient product and windows were considered energy sponges. But today just the opposite is true and an entire wall of thermally insulated windows is considered just as energy efficient as a brick wall.

With today's technology, homeowners no longer have to choose between beauty and function. All out double-glazed windows are thermally broken which means there is a break in the part of the window that separates the exterior for the interior metal. This means the glass stays warmer which reduces condensation and drafts created by colder glass.

Sealed insulated glass windows also act as natural sound barriers and deaden certain frequencies of sound such as noise from annoying traffic.

The extensive use of windows is especially important on affordable homes providing an elegant interior focal point and also have a dramatic, drop-dead impact on the exterior.

Round up old newspapers in handy storage unit

Now you can keep your old newspapers neatly corralled until you're ready to bundle them up for recycling. With its simple styling and natural wood finish, this handsome storage unit will look right at home in your living room, family room or den.

And by laying twine across the bottom of the empty container, it's also easy to tie and remove the papers when the bin is full. The unit will hold up to a month's supply of newspapers.

The container is made from standard size western softwood lumber and requires no special woodworking skills or tools to build.

For the top and bottom frame, you will need four lengths of 1x2, each 15 in. long, and four more lengths 16-1/2 in. long. Assemble the frames to form two rectangles 15 in. wide by 18 in. long. Glue the joints and secure with 1-1/2 in. screws.

Cut 14 lengths of 1x1's for the sides, each 14-1/2 in. long. (for a more finished appearance, you might want to cut the tops of the posts at an angle.) Mark the location of four 1x1 posts at each end, allowing approximately 3 in. between posts. To be certain the posts will be vertical, transfer the marks to the upper frame. Glue and nail the 1x1's to the inside of the frame so the bases of the posts are even with the bottom of the lower frame. Position the tops of the posts 1/2 in. below the top of the frame.

To complete the base, cut four lengths of 1x1, each 15 in. long. Space the 1x1's evenly across the base as shown, then glue and nail to the bottom frame. Finish the wood with one or more coats of polyurethane varnish.

Optional: To keep the twine in place as you load the newspapers, make small saw cuts in the outer edge of the upper frame. Make the cuts approximately 1/4 in. deep in the center of all four sides. Then, before you start putting in the papers, lay two lengths of twine across the bottom and secure the ends in the slots.

Handy container stores newspapers in style until recycling. Made from standard-size lumber, requires minimum woodworking skills to complete.

Choose carpeting wisely

Carpets are a major investment, and as with most things, it is wise to buy the best quality you can afford.

To save money choose less expensive carpets for bedrooms which do not receive a lot of wear, and buy better, more densely woven carpet for hallways, stairs and living rooms.

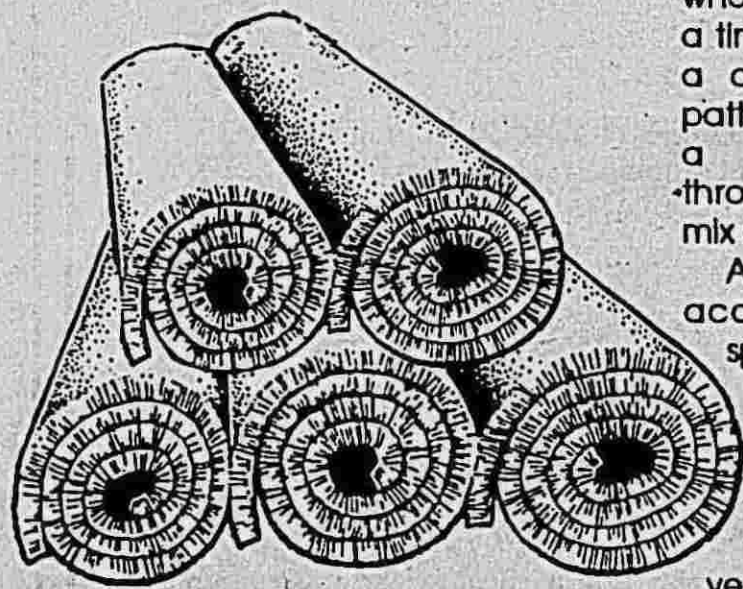

The right carpet can transform your room. It can make a small room appear larger, a large room seem smaller and a cool room seem warmer.

Pastel colors are a popular choice for bedrooms. A more practical choice elsewhere might be a richer color or a pattern which would help hide soiling or staining. Rugs and carpets can also be treated to be more stain-resistant.

Initially carpets "fluff" and shed their pile. This is normal. Don't vacuum for the first week or so, and then give a light vacuum each day. With regular care a carpet should only need deep cleaning after prolonged use.

If you use a wet shampoo, try a test on an inconspicuous corner first. If the color runs, use a dry shampoo or call in a professional. Rinse off all detergents and dry thoroughly. If you don't, casters or metal furniture legs may cause rust marks. Over-wetting can also lead to shrinkage. Synthetic fiber carpets are often easier to clean than pure wool but for wear and quality, a mixture of wool with nylon or acrylic often achieves the best of both worlds.

Rugs are good alternative to carpets, particularly if you have parquet or wooden flooring. Oriental rugs and carpets capture the beauty and mystery of the East and are the perfect way to enhance the home. With proper care and attention they can last up to one hundred years or more! For everyday cleaning, an Oriental carpet can be vacuumed, but be careful. The vacuum can catch the fringes and cause the edges to rip.

Vacuum in the direction of the pile and hand brush the fringes.

No matter how careful you are, accidents happen. However, dry cleaning solutions can turn a domestic disaster into a memory. One teaspoon of detergent added to a pint of water is effective on spills, and can prevent staining if used quickly.

A teaspoon of ammonia added to a cup of warm water also removes stains. If the carpet is treated immediately. With any stain, a quick response is essential.

Test any solution on a small area for colorfastness. Tackle the stain by working into the center from the edges.

Coffee and other liquids are among the most common stains. Remove as much of the liquid as you can with a sponge. Work with the cleaning solution as suggested and follow up with a dry cloth frequently.

To remove blood, chocolate, egg, fruit, glue or grass, first scrape with a blunt knife. Then, starting at the outer edge of the stain, use the detergent solution, sponge dry and follow with ammonia solution.

Chewing gum, fats, grease, lipstick, nail polish, solids, tar and wax are also first scraped with a blunt knife, after scraping, use a dry cleaning solvent, follow it with the detergent solution and blot dry.

While sponging milk and soft drinks, use the detergent solution. As always, start the outer edge and work in toward the center of the spill. Blot dry. Follow with ammonia solution and finally dry the area again.

In cold weather months, the soft deep colors of Oriental rug offset the chill of dreary days, making them ideal Christmas presents. You'll find rugs in a wide variety of designs and prices.

If you can't afford to carpet a whole house at once, do one room at a time. If you choose this route, select a commonly stocked color and pattern. This is the best way to achieve a coordinated color scheme throughout your house, and avoid a mix of patterns and colors.

A carpet is a thing of beauty, but if accidental damage causes burns, splits or holes, don't despair. Carpets can be repaired and re-woven, often invisibly.

Take your time when choosing a new carpet or rug. With proper care, you'll be enjoying them for years to come.

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

While on Monday most Lake County residents will be thinking about wearing their hearts on their sleeves for Valentines Day, Baxter International of Deerfield is testing a "wearable" heart which may allow potential heart transplant patients to wait at home for one of the 2,000 donor hearts which come available every year.

The wearable left ventricular assist system (LVAS) has been implanted in 33 recipients since 1984. The LVAS is currently being tested by the Food and Drug Administration.

This system is implanted in the abdomen and connected to the left ventricle of the wearer's failing heart. The patient then wears an electronic controller and battery on a waist belt. The system can also be carried in a shoulder bag.

While still in the research stage, Baxter's LVAS is touted to be the only heart assist system designed from inception as a long-term alternative to heart transplants. The wearable heart is an improvement on the former air driven systems since it can be miniaturized and fully implanted, which should improve the recipient's quality of life and reduce the risk of infection.

For the first time, a patient supported by the LVAS was discharged from the hospital at University of Pittsburgh Medical Center. The 50-year-old patient, John Doran, was implanted with the device while he waits for a suitable donor.

"This is an FDA-controlled trial and the patient is the first of a series that we hope to do," said implant surgeon Robert Kormos, who is an associate professor of surgery and director of artificial heart and lung research at University of Pittsburgh Medical Center. "Clearly this is the first step in the ultimate goal of being able to treat terminal heart failure with a fully implanted mechanical heart, which allows patients to stay home and maintain an active lifestyle with an appropriate quality of life."

The LVAS is self-regulating, adjusting instantaneously to the recipient's changing heart beat and body's circulatory demands. Synchronizing with the natural heart beat, the pump takes over.

"We are extremely pleased that Dr. Doran's discharge from the hospital will enable him, his wife, son, and daughter to be together," said Peer M. Portner, Ph.D., developer of the Novacor system and president of Baxter's Novacor Division. "This event underscores the freedom our wearable system offers, and is another significant step in the evolution of this technology from a temporary, in-hospital therapy to an at-home, long term alternative to heart transplantation."

EHS exhibit highlighted at nursing colloquium

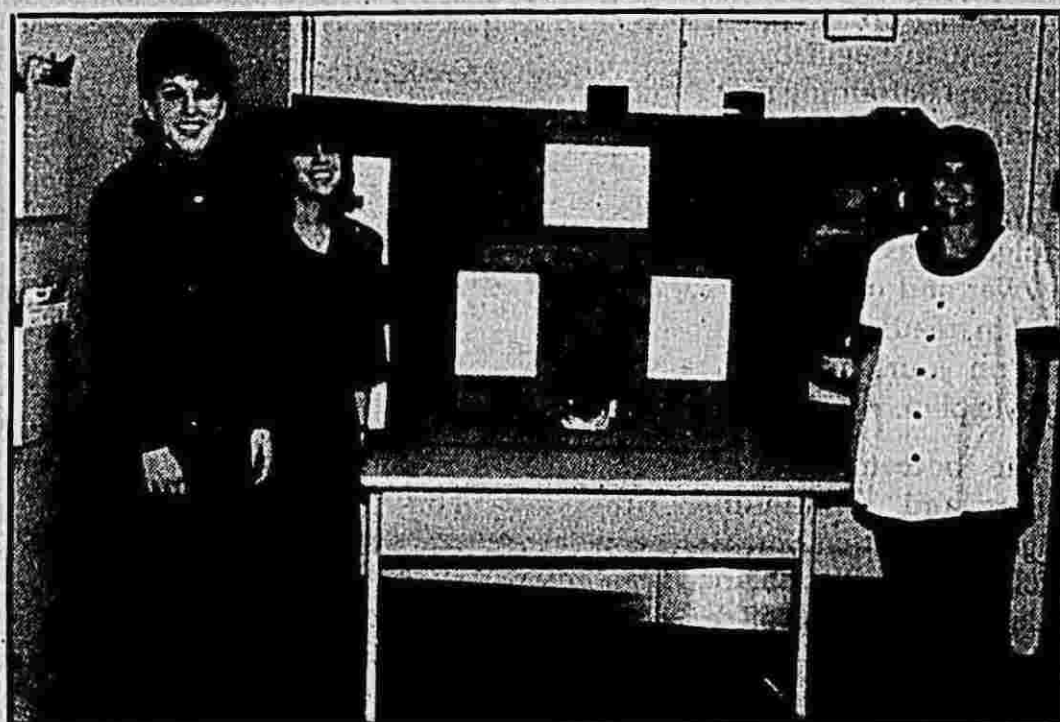

An exhibit developed by a team of clinical nurse specialists from EHS Good Shepherd Hospital was featured at the Fifth Annual Nursing Research Colloquium held in Fort Wayne, Ind.

The theme of the Indiana University/Purdue University-sponsored colloquium was "Creating a Research Climate."

Bonnie Schleder, of Kildeer, Marla Long, of Lake Zurich and Teresa Godfrey, of Barrington, clinical nurse specialists from EHS Good Shepherd's intensive care, orthopedics and obstetrics units, presented a "From Continuous Quality Improvement (CQI) to Research" display at the event that focused on a new method of drawing blood from patients.

"The idea was developed by the intensive care unit's Clinical Nursing Practice Council," explained Schleder. "Previously when blood was drawn through an arterial line, we had to discard a measured amount to insure specimen integrity for laboratory See EXHIBIT B 31

This presentation will review how we presently define ADHD, how to properly assess for this disorder, and the impact of ADHD on the individual and his or her family. We will discuss the causes of ADHD and discuss treatment—including those forms of treatment which have been popularized but never proven empirically to be effective. Special emphasis will be given to medication management, parent and teacher approaches. There will also be a discussion of Attention Deficit Disorder without Hyperactivity (ADD).

Condell volunteer hospice to register new volunteers

The Volunteer Hospice Program at Condell Medical Center, 900 Garfield Ave., Libertyville, will begin registering new volunteers this month according to Susan Peters, RN, Hospice coordinator, and Mary Francoeur, director of Volunteer Services. People interested in volunteering are invited to call either Peters at 816-8848 or Francoeur at 362-2905, extension 5268, to make an interview appointment.

The Condell Hospice is now into its second year of providing service to terminally ill patients and their families. Peters said that there are 30 volunteers who support patients in a variety of ways from just talking and listening to making phone calls and writing letters.

"Caregivers find that providing primary care for a terminally ill loved one is a role that no one can be fully prepared for," observed Peters, adding that the daily mental, emotional, physical, spiritual and financial obstacles that a caregiver encounters may seem overwhelming.

"This is where our Hospice volunteers play a very important role by providing supportive and respite care not only for the terminally ill patient but also for their families. Caregivers need all the help they can get," said Francoeur. She explained that a hospice team offers support that ranges from the high tech provided by physicians and other professional personnel to the emotional support given by the clergy and volunteers.

Start out small and accomplish a lot

Already having trouble keeping those New Years Resolutions? Maybe you've started out with a goal too difficult to reach.

Those of you that have set your New Year's resolution on losing weight or stopping smoking, need to begin by making a small goal pertaining to that resolution, any small goal, and then letting the fulfillment of succeeding with that goal blossom. If you indulge occasionally, don't just say over and over that you were bad. Instead, enjoy it and get back on your successful healthy lifestyle plan.

The bottom line of losing weight and maintaining that weight loss is that you will need to follow a healthy, balanced diet (at least 75 percent of the time) and exercise regularly. Unfortunately, there are no miracle cures for losing weight. Overall, we are looking at lifestyle changes. These gradual changes can't just be for today, but a healthy lifestyle for always.

In addition to losing weight, many people want to quit smoking for the New Year. Unfortunately, for some individuals, smoking may relax the smoker and may increase the ability to concentrate. Therefore, in order to quit, smokers need to find substitutes for relaxation and stimulation. Deep breathing and physical therapy can help. Nicotine replacement therapy can eliminate physical withdrawal and is available through prescription. Support groups can be utilized. Quitting smoking is "doable." Like losing weight, it is a lifestyle change. It should be made a number one priority for six weeks for the new habit to be learned.

Free help is available on both of these subjects from the Lake County Health Department. For a brochure on Diet Smart, contact the Community Dietitian at the Health Department at 360-6753. For a free guide to stopping smoking, contact our Health Educator at 360-6716.

analyses. We now maintain the amount of blood that used to be discarded in an attached syringe and are able to return it to the patient.

"Following a one-year research project, we discovered we still could get accurate lab results by handling the blood draw in this manner. The new method not only saves the patient's blood, but reduces staff exposure to the sample."

A display illustrating the new method of drawing blood was exhibited at the colloquium and examined by university professors, nurses and nursing students involved in research classes.

Schleder said the new blood draw procedure has been initiated at EHS Good Shepherd and the research results have been shared with other critical care divisions of EHS Health Care, the hospital's parent company.

Also involved in the research project were Joan Biddle (of Cary) and Carolyn Hren (of Fox River Grove) from EHS Good Shepherd Hospital's intensive care unit, along with Leslie Buck (Crystal Lake) and Laura Campbell (Arlington Heights), registered medical technologists.

EHS Good Shepherd Hospital, which is part of EHS Health Care, is located north of Barrington on Highway 22, two miles west of Route 59.

Northern States earnings up

WAUKEGAN—Northern States Financial Corp. of Waukegan, holding company for the Bank of Waukegan and First Federal Bank, reported an increase in fourth quarter earnings of 5.9 percent to $1,133,000 or $1.28 per share, compared to $1,070,000 or $1.21 per share for the quarter ended a year earlier. For the quarter ending Dec. 31, 1993, the provision for loan losses was $406,000 as compared to $442,000 a year earlier. For the year ended Dec. 31, 1993, net income increased 6.34 percent to a record level of $4,434,000 or $5.01 per share, from $4,170,000 or $4.71 per share, last year. The provision for loan losses for the 12 months was $1,481,000 compared to $1,475,000 last year. The company's total assets as of Dec. 31, 1993 were $416 million as compared to $412 million a year earlier. Northern States had on Dec. 31, 1993, non-performing loans of $8.4 million, or 3.81 percent of loans, up from 2.27 percent of loans on Sept. 30, 1993. Three loans totaling $2.6 million became contractually 90 days past due on Dec. 31, 1993, therefore, the company placed these loans on non-accrual status. Since Dec. 31, 1993, approximately 30 percent of the categorized non-accrual loans have been brought current.

Advantage Bancorp up 15 percent

KENOSHA, WIS.—Advantage Bancorp Inc., parent company of Advantage Bank, FSB, reported earnings of 60 cents per share for its first fiscal quarter ended Dec. 31, 1993, a 15 percent increase over earnings of 52 cents per share for the same quarter last year. Net income for the 1993 quarter was $1.8 million, an 8 percent increase over net income of $1.7 million for the 1992 quarter.

Mil-Park completely leased

LIBERTYVILLE—Childs Realty Group Vice President Stuart B. Lenhoff announced Mil-Park Shopping Center in Libertyville is fully leased. The 42,700 square foot shopping center is located at the corner of Milwaukee Avenue and Route 176. One of the center's largest tenants, Tuesday Morning relocated from its existing Libertyville location to Mil-Park Shopping Center. The new store is 5,085 square feet. Other Mil-Park tenants include Blockbuster Video and The Baby's Room.

Brown named to HBAI

LIBERTYVILLE—Representing the Home Builders Association of Greater Chicago, Douglas Brown has been named a state director of the Home Builders Association of Illinois. The senior vice president of Cambridge Homes based in Libertyville was sworn in at the meeting in Springfield and will serve through 1994. He is the immediate past chairman of the Sustaining Builders Council of the Home Builders Association of Greater Chicago and currently serves on the HBAGC executive committee, the board of directors and the nominating committee.

Columbia finds home at Cherry

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

A new college, boasting the most affordable baccalaureate degree program in the county, opened its doors at Cherry Electrical Products Corporation in Waukegan.

Columbia College of Columbia, Mo., established its third Illinois site and its first Lake County site last fall and is offering registration for its March 21 session beginning Feb. 7.

"We're doing Lake County a favor by coming in, so people have an affordable alternative," said Dee Bittman, director of the Waukegan branch.

"There are no reasonably priced four-year schools in Lake County," Bittman said. "The other schools are wonderful, but not everyone can afford them."

Hollis Earnest, total quality leadership manager at Cherry Electrical, said the corporation's interest in Columbia College stemmed from its focus on increasing the quality of education of its own employees.

"It was a community effort on Cherry's part to offer a site to bet-

The electronic manufacturer produces electronic devices for the computer and auto industries. It has nine locations worldwide.

Of the 1,050 employees at Cherry, approximately 125 are currently pursuing further education at various colleges in the Chicago and Milwaukee areas. Twelve attend Columbia College.

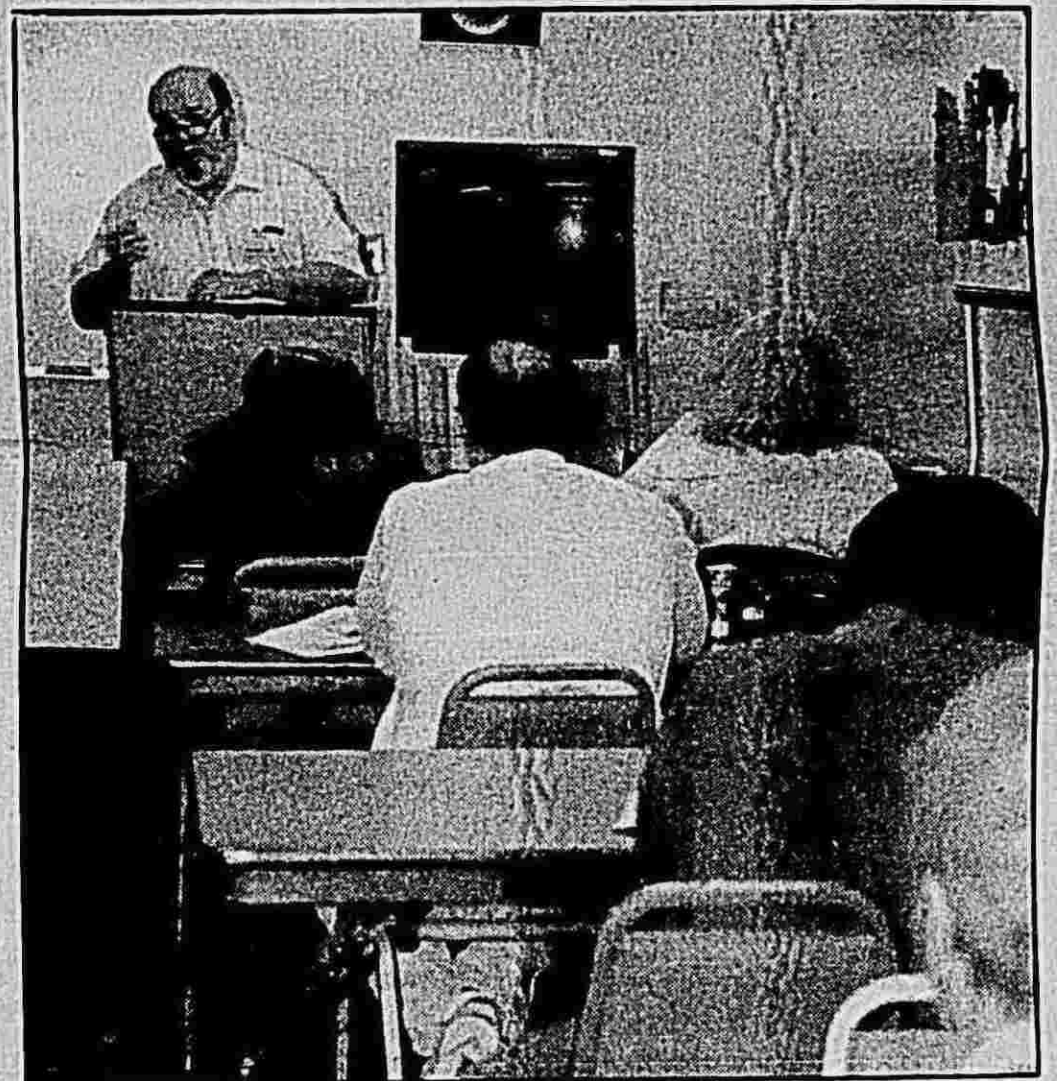

"We are very strong in the education of our employees," said Earnest, adding that Columbia College provides the opportunity to "work here during the day and then go to school at night."

Of the 22 branches the school offers nationwide, the two other Illinois branches are located at McHenry Community College in Crystal Lake and at the Naval Air Station in Glenview.

Bittman said Columbia's $270 per course or $90 per credit hour is the least costly four-year college in the county.

Bittman said the location in Waukegan is ideal for Lake County residents because it

New formula relieves infant diarrhea

The Ross Products Div. of Abbott Laboratories has introduced ISOMIL®DF, (Diarrhea Formulation) the first infant formula shown to shorten the duration of loose stools during mild to severe diarrhea.

Despite ongoing improvements in water treatment, sanitation, education and medical care in the United States, diarrhea remains one of the most common childhood illnesses. During the first three years of life, a child will probably have one to three severe episodes of diarrhea.

"Proper management of infants with diarrhea is extremely important," said William C. MacLean, Jr., M.D., vice president, pediatric nutrition research and development, Ross Products Div., Abbott Laboratories. "With its added dietary fiber, ISOMIL DF has been shown to reduce the duration of loose stools," he added.

Moderate to severe diarrhea can be dangerous, particularly for infants and toddlers, as it can lead to dehydration. In the U. S., approximately 200,000 children younger than five years of age are hospitalized each year due to dehydration associated with diarrhea. Dehydration occurs when the body loses fluids and, therefore, vital nutrients, such as sodium and potassium. Sixty-five percent of these hospitalizations occur in the first year of life.

Outbreaks strike annually with greater regularity during "diarrhea season," the period from October to March, with infant diarrhea outbreaks peaking in February. Diarrhea is common during the winter possibly because people tend to stay indoors and are in close proximity, which allows germs to spread.

ISOMIL DF is indicated for the short-term feeding of infants and toddlers with acute diarrhea.

The formula should be given under the direction of a physician and may be recommended for up to seven to 10 days. Once stools become regular, infants who are lactose-intolerant or who otherwise require milk-free feeding can be switched to ISOMIL Soy Formula with Iron, under a physician's guidance.

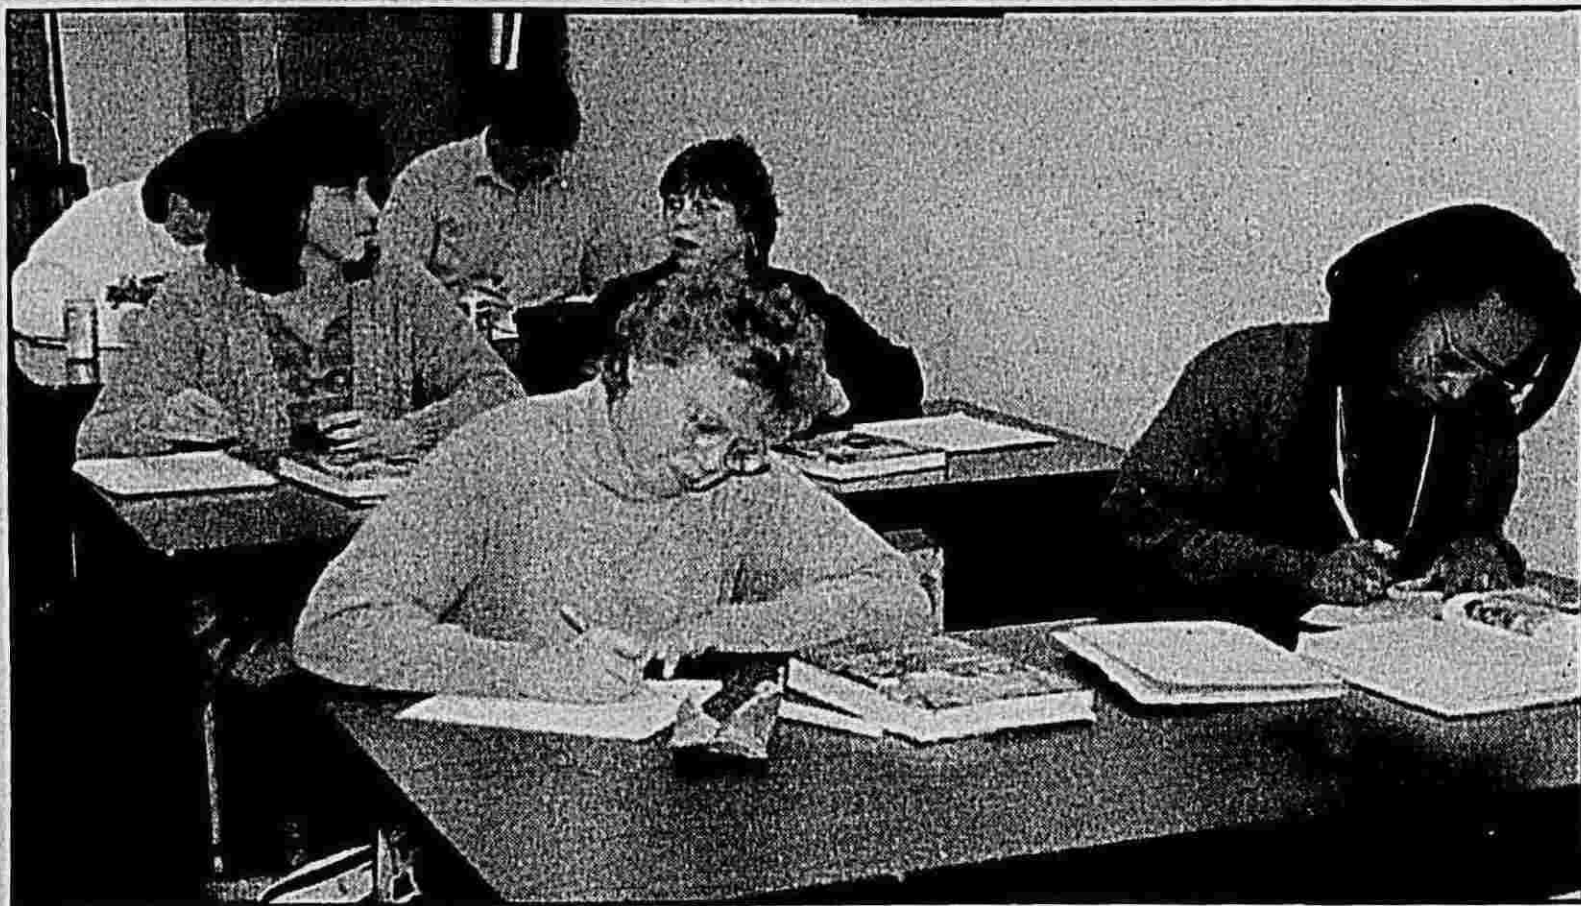

ISOMIL DF contains added dietary fiber. The source of this dietary fiber is soy fiber. ISOMIL DF is milk-free and lactose-free. In a randomized, double-blind clinical feeding trial of 34 infants and toddlers between 2 and 24 months of age, 94 percent of infants fed ISOMIL DF ceased having loose, watery stools within six days. In contrast, loose stools persisted in 55 percent of infants fed a standard soy formula without fiber for six days.

From a practical viewpoint, diarrhea in infants and toddlers is inconvenient and messy. Infants and toddlers attending child care centers are especially susceptible to diarrhea, with a 30 percent greater incidence than children who are cared for at home. In child care centers and home care settings, viruses and bacteria that cause diarrhea are spread by frequent handling of babies and items such as communal toys.

An episode of diarrhea is also stressful for parents, who must juggle work schedules, change more and messier diapers and alter child care arrangements to properly care for a sick child. A shorter duration of diarrhea may facilitate an earlier return to day care and normal activities.

ISOMIL DF was developed by the Ross Products Div. of Abbott Laboratories. Ross is the manufacturer of Similac®, the leading brand of infant formula in the United States.

Cherry

offers undergraduate degree programs right here at home.

"Many people have to travel to Milwaukee or Chicago to obtain a college education," Bittman said.

The school offers an associate degree program and bachelor of arts or science degrees in business administration or individual studies with an emphasis in accounting, finance, management, marketing, criminal justice, computer information systems and psychology.

The academic schedule is based on eight-week sessions. The five sessions begin in January, March, May, August and October. Evening and weekend classes are offered.

"Columbia is geared toward to non-traditional students who are juggling a lot of things (families and work), and, for whatever reasons, they think it's time to get a degree," Bittman said.

She also said that Cherry Electrical, in what she considered as an unusual move by a private corporation, openly offered its facility to Columbia College.

"Cherry Electrical is looking to do things to help Lake County. They know the community and they invited us to use their facility," Bittman said.

Although the school shares a common history with the University of Missouri at Columbia, Bittman said the school is not affiliated with the university.

Established in 1851, Columbia College originally was an all girls school, while the University of Missouri was the town's all boys school.

The school accepts CLEP or DANTES exams, life experience portfolios and military credits. Need-based financial assistance is also offered.

All faculty members have master's or doctoral degrees in their areas of teaching, Bittman said.

"We tap the best in each field in not only theory but also in practical experience," Bittman said.

The school was also given a 10-year accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. The 10-year accreditation is the maximum the NCACS offers.

With an enrollment of 50, Bittman said the school will accommodate the needs of students as enrollment grows.

"The more students we get, the more classes we'll offer," Bittman said. "We can grow to meet the needs of the community."

Satellite Seminars on total quality leadership

The center of Economic Development at the College of Lake County in cooperation with the Zion and the Greater Lincolnshire Chambers of Commerce will sponsor seven satellite seminars on "Quality, Leadership and Organizational Change." The program, offered from Feb. 24 to May 24, will be broadcast live at noon from the U.S. Chamber's Washington, D.C. studios.

Seminars offered at CLC will include "Global Paradox" Feb. 24, "Rapid Learning, Rapid Improvement" March 1, "Personal Total Quality Management" March 8, "Building a Customer-Focused, Quality-Based Organization" May 17 and "Quality at the Crossroads" May 24.

Two seminars will be held at Marriott Lincolnshire: "Beyond Principle-Centered Leadership Empowerment" April 5 and "Thinking about Quality: The Deming Philosophy" April 19.

The cost of the seminar series is $245 per person or $55 per seminar. Registration cost includes lunch and seminar materials. To register, call 223-3615 or fax 223-9371. Payments may be made by Visa, Master Card or Discover.

Brunswick reaches agreement with IRS

Brunswick Corp. announced that it has reached an agreement with the Internal Revenue Service regarding a dispute over the deductibility of approximately $500 million of intangible assets. The dispute had arisen over a revenue agent's report which proposed to increase substantially the U.S. taxable income of the company through the reclassification to non-deductible of virtually all of the deductible intangible assets acquired in the company's acquisitions of Bayliner and Sea Ray in 1986.

Under the terms of the agreement, the IRS agreed to allow deductions for the acquired amortizable intangibles, and the company agreed to increase the amortizable lives of most of the assets. The revised lives create an initial obligation by the company to pay the IRS approximately $55 million, representing taxes and net interest for the years 1986 through 1993. This initial obligation will subsequently be reduced due to dispositions of the acquired assets, including dispositions during the 1986 to 1993 period. Since the interest will be charged to existing reserves and the taxes paid represent timing differences which will benefit future periods, the agreement will have no impact on the company's consolidated results of operations.

Headquartered in Lake Forest, Brunswick Corp. is a multinational company with leadership positions in marine power, pleasure boating and recreation. Its stock is traded on the New York, Tokyo, London, Pacific and Chicago Stock Exchanges.

Knowing your social security benefits

Many middle-income retirees are being assaulted by the 1993 tax bill - and they don't have anywhere to run for cover. If you're receiving social security benefits and have significant income from any other source, your taxes are probably going up.

To determine how much of your benefits will be taxable under the new rules, you must first calculate your "provisional income."

Provisional income consists of (1) adjusted gross income plus tax-exempt interest and dividends, (2) certain foreign income, and (3) half your social security benefits.

If your provisional income is between $32,000 - $44,000 for marrieds and $25,000 - $34,000 for singles, up to 50% of your social security benefits may be taxable, as under the old law. If you're under the $32,000 or $25,000 thresholds, none of your social security benefits are taxable.

Beginning in 1994, the rules add a second, more expensive tax bracket for social security recipients. If your "provisional income" exceeds $44,000 for marrieds, $34,000 for singles, and $0 for those married filing separately, up to 85% of your social security

Unfortunately, there aren't many ways to reduce your exposure to tax on your benefits. You might shift your investments into growth instruments that don't generate dividends, or invest in Series EE savings bonds which don't pay out interest until redemption or maturity. Of course, this strategy works only if you don't need current investment income to live on.

As with the old law, if you receive a lump-sum payment of social security benefits in 1994 that includes benefits for prior years, you may elect to treat those benefits as having been received in the year to which they relate. This enables you to use the more favorable pre-1994 rules.

If you are already receiving social security benefits or if you are planning to apply in 1994 for these benefits, you should work with your financial advisor to determine your potential increased tax liability. You may need to adjust your estimated tax payments and may also wish to review your investment portfolio to determine if a shift of these assets would benefit your tax situation.

All material presented is general in nature and should not be acted upon without professional assistance. If you would like our help in applying the general information to your specific situation, You may call Greg Seidler at (708) 680-0095.

INVESTMENT TRENDS

Local companies offer potential

SUZIE REED

Staff Reporter

Lake County shoppers descended on the nearly 200,000-square-foot Super Kmart store last week. The store opened quietly Jan. 28 and the official ribbon-cutting ceremony was held Feb. 1.

Vernon Hills Village President Roger Byrne offered a welcome to the giant retailer, accompanied by Trustees Donald Hook and Steve Henley, Village Manager Larry Laschen, Village Clerk Kathy Ryg, Public Information Officer Susie McCall, Police Chief Gary Kupsak and Village Attorney Sen. Adeline Jay Geo-Karis.

"We were there to lend our support and welcome Kmart to the Village of Vernon Hills," said McCall.

The Grand Opening was Feb. 3, when customers found the ultimate in grocery shopping as well as the familiar retailer all under one roof with several service-oriented businesses. The grocery section offers an in-house bakery, USDA fresh meats, fresh seafood delivered daily, hot and cold deli items, a cookie kiosk, a cappuccino bar, in-store dining, a carry-out salad bar and an Oriental-To-Go section.

The layout also includes a video rental, pharmacy, portrait studio and optical services. An international food court offers American, Oriental, Italian and Mexican cuisine for both dining in and carry out.

The opening of the 24-hour Super Kmart in Vernon Hills adds more than 600 jobs to Lake County and is also the parent company of the new Builders Square in the center.

This week we take a look at two well known companies, Motorola and Peoples Energy.

Motorola

The

Schaumburg-based electronic giant has rewarded investors handsomely the last several years. With record fourth quarter results announced, the stock has hit a high of $103 1/4. The 96 point sell off in the market on Friday created an excellent opportunity for investors looking to invest in MOT. The stock lost $4 a share to close down at 95 1/4. Year-end earnings were up 69 percent on 28 percent higher sales which accounts for the stock's doubling in value during the course of 1993.

Although Motorola is churning out these record earnings and are certainly considered a leader in their field at this point, some on Wall Street still aren't convinced MOT is a good buy now. The main reason for this is that the stock is trading at 22 times the projected earnings for 1994, which are $4.50 a share. In addition, the stock is hardly undiscovered on the street, which is exemplified by the run-up in price during 1993.

The dividend is meager at $0.44 a share for a yield of about 0.5 percent, although the company has just raised the dividend significantly and further increases may be expected if the company continues to grow their earnings as they have been.

On the recent price weakness, Motorola may be a buy for long-term investors looking for growth as earnings continue to rise. For investors looking to buy a round lot (100 shares, or multiples of 100), the announced stock split may provide the stock at a more affordable level which should put 100 at less than $5,000 at current levels. The stock split is to take place on April 18.

Peoples Energy

In this area, the stock might be more familiar by one of the companies they hold (own), which is North Shore Gas, our local gas company. One of the nice things about owning utility stock is that there is a higher degree of safety because of the monopoly they have. Every month when you, your neighbor, and local businesses want to have heat or to cook, they must pay their gas bill. Obviously, this creates a certain amount of certain business for the company as compared to a company that sells a particular retail product that depends on the consumers wanting what they have and at a price they are willing to pay.

Another advantage of utilities is that they usually offer very good yields. PGL is no exception, with a current yield of about 5.8 percent. This compares very favorably to bank CDs currently paying in the 3 percent range.

In addition, most companies that pay dividends will try to increase the dividend every year. PGL has just announced the latest increase, although minimal, which puts their dividend at $0.45 per share per quarter. The increase for 1994 is a continuation of what the company has done every year for more than 10 years now.

This situation presents an excellent opportunity for investors seeking growth of principal and current income to own shares of Peoples Energy, cur-

Easing Your Tax Burden

New tax law changes may result in refunds

The new tax law signed by the president on Aug. 10, 1993 has several retroactive provisions which could allow many of you to apply for refunds by amending your 1992 tax returns from last year. The new law reinstates for all of last year some tax benefits which had originally expired on June 30, 1992.

These benefits are the health insurance deduction for self employed; tax free employer educational assistance; repeal of some luxury tax items; and the treatment of charitable contributions of appreciated property as a tax-preference item for determining the alternative minimum tax (AMT). I can touch upon them only briefly in this column. For complete details and assistance, call toll-free at 1-800-829-1040.

If you are self-employed, you may be able to claim a larger 1992 deduction for health insurance premiums. To qualify, you must have had a net profit from self-employment or received wages from an "S" corporation in which you were more than a two percent shareholder. You also must not have been eligible for coverage by health plans sponsored by your employer or, if filing jointly, your spouse's employer. This deduction ended again at the end of 1993.

If you are eligible to claim this deduction for the second half of 1992, you can use the worksheet on page 21 of the 1992 Form 1040 Instructions. You should substitute your full-year payment total for the half-year figure on the first line and use 100 percent instead of 50 percent on line five of the worksheet. You should then refigure your tax and claim any refund by filing Form 1040X, "Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return."

If you received financial assistance for education from your employer in 1992, you may also be entitled to the refund of income and social security taxes paid. The exclusion from income of up to $5,250 of such benefits applies retroactively to July 1, 1992. If you are entitled to a refund of income taxes for 1992, you can claim your refund from the IRS by filing a Form 1040X. You will also need a copy of Form W-2c, "Statement of Corrected Income and Tax Amounts," from your employer showing the corrected wages. The financial assistance for education provision is also in effect for all of 1993 and 1994.

Recognizing the unique circumstances surrounding this retroactive extension, we have made it easier for you to get your refund on an expedited basis. Under these special procedures, many of you will only have to include your name, address, social security number and "1992 tax year" on the Form 1040X, sign these amended returns, and write "IRC 127" in the top margin of the form. Our service center employees have been trained to look for the Form 1040X filings with the "IRC 127" designation, and quickly complete them.

Some of you with a Form W-2c showing corrected wages of $22,370 or less for 1992 may now also qualify for an Earned Income Credit (EIC). If you meet the qualifications of Part I of the 1992 Schedule EIC, you should complete it and attach it to Form 1040X. If you already received EIC in 1992, you do not need to complete another Schedule EIC. We will automatically re-calculate the earned income credit and make the appropriate adjustments.

You should ask your employer for a reimbursement of any overpayment of social security and medicare taxes which you may have paid.

The new legislation also repeals the treatment of charitable contributions of appreciated property as a tax-preference item for determining the alternative minimum tax (AMT). This means that for AMT purposes, you will not be limited to deducting the property's cost rather than its current value.

For tangible personal property, this repeal is retroactive to July 1, 1992, and could result in refunds for 1992. For intangibles and real property, the change is retroactive to Jan. 1, 1993. Those of you who included this tax-preference item in computing your 1992 AMT should refigure your tax and claim any resulting refund by filing Form 1040X.

Business people can apply for refund of luxury tax paid by filing Form 853. If you paid the tax you should return to the retailer for a refund.

I know this is a lot of information, so if you have any questions, call us toll-free at 1-800-829-1040. If you need copies of Form 1040X, Form 853 or any other form or instructions, call our forms center directly at 1-800-829-3676 and we will mail them to you.—by Marilyn W. Day, IRS District Director for northern Illinois.

Frank R. Ballwanz

Age 80 of Cape Coral, FL, formerly of Antioch and Libertyville, IL passed away Friday, February 4, 1994 at his home. He was born July 15, 1913 in Chicago, IL and had lived in Antioch and Libertyville before retiring to Cape Coral, FL in 1975. Mr. Ballwanz worked for Commonwealth Edison of Chicago for 43 years and served as President of the I.B.E.W. Local #1399 of Chicago for 12 years. He was also a member of the Moose Lodge #2199 in Cape Coral, FL, the Izack Walton League in Des Plaines, IL and had served on the Grass Lake School Board in Antioch. On July 18, 1936 he married Eleanor Rose in Crown Point, IN.

Survivors include his wife, Eleanor; two sons Roy P. (Dorothy) of Salem, WI and Howard (Gerri) of Lakewood, NJ; one daughter Donna (Donald) Lessard of Antioch, IL; one brother Roy P. of Cape Coral, FL and two sisters Ruth Lanigan of Chicago, IL and June Miller of Tacoma, WA. Grandmother of eleven and great-grandmother of ten.

Funeral services will be held at 1:00 pm Saturday, February 12, 1994 at the Strang Funeral Home, 1055 Main St. (Rte. 83), Antioch, IL. Interment will be private. Friends may call at the funeral home from 11:30 am Saturday until time of services. In lieu of flowers, those desiring may make contributions to the Hope Hospice, 8290 College Parkway, Suite 100, Ft. Meyers, FL 33191-5124 in her memory.

Eleanor G. Jones, nee Gerski

Age 75, a Lake Villa resident for the past 32 years, and a former resident of Oak Park and Berwyn, IL died on February 6, 1994 at the Condell Memorial Hospital in Libertyville. She was born on June 26, 1918 at Chicago, IL, the daughter of the late John and Edna "Schaeffer" Gerski. Mrs. Jones was a secretary for many years and was associated with the Preferred Business Service in Oak Park, IL.

Surviving her is her husband Harry A. Jones with whom she was united in marriage on August 1, 1941 at Berwyn, IL; three sisters Harriett (Raymond) Muzik of Westchester, Gertrude (George) Zack of Missouri, and Geraldine (Charles) Otto of Minnesota; many nieces and nephews survive, and a host of friends.

Sybil Brewer Ramsing

Sybil Brewer Ramsing, 92, died Feb. 1 at Towne Hall Care Center, Wauconda, Ill. near her daughter's home.

A native of Losantville, Ind., she attended Losantville School and Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, Mich. She taught English and home economics at Green Township School, Ind. and at Buda, Ill. where she also coached the boys' basketball team.

In the 1920's, to pursue her love of travel, she worked in the tea rooms of the Lincoln Hotel in Indianapolis, the Sinton Hotel in Cincinnati, in the dining rooms of the Ormand Beach Hotel, Fla., and Buck Hill Falls, Penn. and as a Harvey Girl in Chicago and Bright Angel Camp, Grand Canyon, Ariz. She also was a proofreader for the Dayton Beach, Fla. Journal.

She was preceded in death by three sisters, Julia Beeson of Farmland, and Mildred Fisher and Martha Johnson of Losantville. She is survived by her brother Robert Brewer of Southgate, Mich., her daughter Cynthia (Mrs. Lewis) of Wauconda, Ill. five grandchildren, Dr. Cynthia Lynn Ward-Franklin of New York City, Lewis Ott Ward III of Portage, Mich., Christopher Friis Ward of Easton, Penn., Matthew Rogers Ward of Scottsdale, Ariz. and Nathaniel Brewer Ward of Wauconda. She is also survived by one great grandson, two step great grandchildren and a number of nieces, nephews, grandnieces and grandnephews.

After cremation, burial will be private. There will be a memorial service with written and oral remembrances, to be arranged later this year.

Books in Sybil Brewer Ramsing's memory may be donated to Union School, Highway 36 West, Box 148, Modoc, Ind. 47358.

Thank You

Thank You

I am deeply appreciative of the assistance and support shown me by the many firefighters and countless strangers in the loss of treasured antique cars and other valuables in a fire at my home. The cars are only memories now, but so are the acts of kindness and devotion to duty displayed by fire-fighting professionals from Lake and McHenry Counties. You all are wonderful. I shall never forget you. Thank you from the bottom of my heart.

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: Our company V-P asked me to be one of a five person committee to put together our annual Christmas Party. It was at our first meeting, where he felt we should poll the employees (over 100 of them), to get new ideas. We felt it would be a morale booster for employees to give their input and thereon we would decide as a committee what would fit into the budget we were given. We sent out a survey to be filled out anonymously and were pleased to receive almost 75% return. The survey started out explaining our intentions to put together this celebration for employees and their spouses. At our recent meeting we split the surveys among the five members and were to present different ideas the following week. Among the responses were more than a few who felt, the word "spouses" was discriminating and thereby took offense to it. We realized that in the work place there are those who are not married and once realized that in the work place there are those who are not married and once realizing our mistake, passed out a memo correcting ourselves so as to clear the air. All was fine until an anonymous note was circulated to the committee members spelling out that there are several employees within the company who are gay and are offended by the term "employees and spouses" as being discriminating. It was stated that the term spouse refers to one's husband or wife. It is incredible in today's work place you have to watch everything you say and do. Someone somewhere seems to take offense to something. It's nuts! By the way, it was mentioned to have a "black and white party", where everyone can come dressed in any appropriate attire in black or white... wouldn't you know someone took offense to that too? Where does it end? N.W. - Vernon Hills

A: Dear N.W. You have actually raised two questions. First, get your intentions across by inviting employees and a guest or employees and significant other. You will always find someone somewhere who will take offense to something in and out of the workplace. It helps to have your eyes open and take a look around. We sometimes get so tuned in to a method, idea or expression, that we fail to see the way it may affect others. This may be an opportune time to utilize some of the things that you have found may be offensive to others within your company. I would bring them up to the same V-P who initiated the poll and committee. These are the 90's. Things have changed and employers need to deal with equal rights in every aspect. Use this to the advantage of your company. Your group initially set out in a morale boosting effort. This can help to make your workplace a harmonious one. You have set the foundation for honest input... keep it up! Employees want to feel they are a part of a team. What better way then to offer them a voice.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 5101 Washington St., Gurnee, IL 60031.

APRICOT

A striking entry courtyard welcomes family and friends to the Apricot, a basically C-shaped home that makes good use of natural light throughout.

Chest-high brick walls on both sides of the walkway give an enclosed feeling to the entry courtyard. A gate could be added for full enclosure, if desired. Combining potted plants with artistic landscaping here will create a colorful and inviting outdoor environment that can be enjoyed walking through it, or while relaxing on the covered porch.

Stepping inside, you notice a long display case, naturally illuminated by skylights -- an ideal showcase for a collection, be it books, sculptures, coins, miniatures, antique dolls, or what-have-you's. A large walk-in closet is to the left of the door.

Dining room and living room flow together, with a wide hearth spanning the angled corner. This bright open area is great for entertaining. Sliding glass doors open to the rear deck or patio.

The family room/kitchen is large and full of light. It's big enough for a ping-pong or pool table, if either strikes your fancy. A wide closet provides storage for games, card tables, folding chairs and the like.

A curved eating bar supplies generous counter space and minimal separation between the kitchen and family room. Range and oven are built-in. Other amenities include a walk-in pantry, garden window, broom closet, and space for an upright freezer next to the refrigerator.

The master suite is a sumptuous adult retreat, well-isolated from the hustle and bustle of daily activities in the family room. Luxuries here include a television ledge over one corner of the walk-in closet, a skylit spa tub, an oversized shower, and a second vanity with basin outside the private bathroom. The den could be a home office, or a sitting room.

Secondary bedrooms are at the opposite end of the house. The guest suite has a walk-in closet and private bathroom, while the main bathroom serves bedroom two. Utilities are at this end of the house, convenient to the kitchen and two of the bedrooms.

For a study kit of the APRICOT (333-230), send $9.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number) For a collection of plan books featuring Landmark's most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

Happy Valentine's Day!

To My Beautiful Wife Diana,

We live together, we rest together, we eat together, we build things together, we drive to work together, we brush our teeth together, we even play together, but most fun of all, we will love together for eternity.

Happy Valentine's Love,
Gregory

Jim

From your loving wife

After 21 years how could I love anybody else but you! I'm sorry I hurt you. From Jan. 31 on, the past is dead. No more hurt, just love, love, love.

I love you with all my heart

Debra

Babe I,

Let's meet at the bench on Valentine's Day. Sounds like a date to me!

I LOVE YOU!

Babe II

To My Fisherman-

HAPPY VALENTINE!

Love Ya!

Skitch,

We'll laugh with the kids, we'll ride with your bros, we'll dream about owning a Harley & Home. The ride has been rough; your heart has been true. It's you loving me that makes me love you.

BEST OF

Loving husband

I live in Ingleside. I would like to praise my wife. We have been married for 17 years, and her name is Joyce. I just want to say in black and white that I love her very much. I know I could not have done better if I picked her myself, but I know that God picked her for me.

Looking for love

For those of you single people looking for that special someone, consider Northlake Singles. We meet at the Antioch Country Club on the second and fourth Fridays of the month. We start at 8:30 and have a DJ and free appetizers. For more information, our activities hotline at 265-1387.

Happy wife

I am married to the most wonderful man in the world. I appreciate him and his talent more than he can ever know.

Very lucky couple

How about a little sunshine for your Lipservice? Poppa and I are celebrating our 60th anniversary and doing well. Living in one of the old remodeled one-room school houses, we have been in Mundelein for years. My daughters and son-in-law live only a mile away, with three beautiful granddaughters, and three wonderful great grandbabies. Thank you, God.

Love advice

This is to my neighbor. You are dating a married man who also has a girlfriend in Lake Villa. Watch out!

Strange love

Dense love of my life. Forget the hairdresser and get to the dentist. At the rate you are going you will be toothless and bald in four years.

How romantic

I would like your lips to do the talking.

Forget it

Let's just forget about shopping in Fox Lake this winter. Apparently, they were unable to remove the snow and ice. The sidewalks are clean but you can't get to any of the stores. Thanks Fox Lake. Another job well done.

Too long

I would like to make a comment on the situation at Warren High School. I think it is pathetic that it has taken this long for someone to finally speak out. The destruction of spirit, reputations, friendships, and the pleasant working atmosphere is indicative of what one man has done. It is unfortunate that the problem has existed this long. Board members, open your eyes.

Racism charges

In Lipservice last week there was a note entitled "What's the problem." I have often wondered the same thing. If white people had all white commercials, television stations, radio stations, all white beauty contest, or even a college fund for the advancement of white people can you imagine what an uproar it would cause? Why is it okay for black people to discriminate?

Traffic jam

All commuters who use Route 60 and go past St. Mary, would like to thank the Sheriff of Lake County for doing nothing about directing traffic. It is backed up over two miles. Thank you Sheriff.

Roof stayed up

I walked into Warren's gym last week to watch my daughter play basketball and I almost puked. There was Dr. Pat who never has had an interest. So, while I was waiting for Chicken Little and the roof to come down, I figured it out. Are the intentions purely political?

Got his vote

To Republican candidate for sheriff, Ed Sindles, you have my vote. If not for you, the scandal of poor leadership and money wasting would have gone unnoticed. Grinnell is out of touch and out of date. This was obvious when a representative of his office told a group at a public meeting that there is no countywide gang problem.

New to CB

My handle is the Rambler and I am new to the CB. I have a question. I keep hearing things about Sniper and Radio Pilot, but no one will tell me what they do that is so bad. Please call and tell me.

Sick of praises

I am calling about the Hawthorn School District. I am sick of the praises of these schools. It is not what it is cracked up to be. People, wake up. Parents should start checking things out.

Still rock and rolls

At the tender age of 40, I grew up with the best of rock and roll. I still enjoy it today. What does age and the volume of music have anything to do with each other? The bottom line is that you are not alone in this world. It is called consideration of others. You are obviously immature and uneducated. You are lucky you do not live next to me, moron.

Teachers are mad

When are Dr. Schley and Principal Radakovich going to respond to the teachers as well as the general staff? It is time for the silent majority, the residents of Antioch, Lake Villa, and Lindenhurst to start talking to these people. Ask them when they are going to address the concerns of teachers.

Pride for all

Perhaps the races do not say anything against the black racism is because they are afraid they will be accused of racism. It is a double standard. We should all have a degree of pride for all of our races.

Coffee's gone

Hey people of Fox Lake. Wake up. It is too late to smell the coffee. They already closed the counter at Woolworth's. I hope the store is not next. If we lose the store, we are dead. Wake up.

Sacrifice his family

I have just listened to more rhetoric from Clinton about three major crimes. Why three Willy? Is he willing to sacrifice his family to be the first two?

Clean center

The Wauconda Fitness Center is really clean, despite the commissioners opinion. I have been to a lot of fitness centers and believe me this is clean. Also, the staff is very qualified. Obviously, the board does not know this.

Manners classes

Lake County Sheriff's Department officers should get some classes in etiquette. While I was driving to work on Jan. 31 from Antioch to Waukegan, at 173 and 131, another driver hit me. The officer treated me like I caused the accident. He would not offer me a lift to get back home or even to a phone booth so that I could get out of this mess.

Parents wake up

Warren High School superintendent rules by fear. The board has heard stories and does nothing. Why don't parents wake up.

Could be you

How many lives will it take before East Loon Lake residents get railroad crossing arms installed at the railroad crossing? The next victim could be you.

Get gates

It would be wise for the resident of East Loon Lake to get a crossing arm with gates and lights at the Lake Shore crossing. This is from a person who has to live with the loss of a loved one.

Gang questions

On Saturday, Jan. 29, Mr. Del Re told Libertyville group that Lake County does not have a gang problem. Is this true? That's not the truth and you know it. I am going to vote for Ed Sindles. He is going to form a gang unit to get rid of these little animals.

Only the guilty

To the person who said, "God saved everybody," how do you know? Were you there? Not everyone needs to be saved, only the guilty.

Hats off

Hats off to Jim Semmerling and the public works department for keeping the roads clean. They were cleaner than the county, state, and other municipality roads. Keep up the good work.

Rock wash

First of all, if you believe in God and the bible, you would know that you must love your neighbor as yourself. You must not like yourself. Next, the people of Round Lake need some foundation for their lives because their lives are totally twisted. I thank God my "brain has been washed" by the Rock Church. Amen.

Other choices

I am calling about the treatment of people arrested for DUI or people who have alcohol or drug abuse problems. I moved up to Antioch and I want the AA route. It did not work for me, so I tried Rational Recovery. I would encourage anyone who has these types of problems to try this program. I learned to understand my behavior. I graduated from the program over two years. I would like the judges to look at some of the other programs besides AA when sentencing people. AA is not the only answer. It failed me.

Get shrunk

This is to the individual that cold bloodedly murdered those ducks. I feel that someone with your IQ, deserves a recommendation for psychiatric help. To pull a stunt like that! You deserve to hang.

Don't call her that

I am part of the unskilled workforce in Antioch. I am going to college to upgrade my skills. I would like to say to all those people who come up to me and call me honey, babe, toots, sweetie, etc... one of these days honey, babe, toots, your life may be in my hands. Don't take out your life frustrations on me. I am studying to be a nurse.

Tax and spend

The Lake County Republican stronghold, Ingleside, has turned into a Cook County Democratic tax and spend crowd. School boards, township offices, through to Mr. Depke, are happy to raise our property taxes for any so called emergency.

Thanks Val

I would like to thank a very special volunteer, Valerie Miller, of Antioch, has volunteered every single Sunday evening to the PADS program. She comes in early, sets up, and prepares the beds. Valerie will no longer be coming in, so, on behalf of the PADS staff and volunteers, we want to say thanks. We will miss you.

Likes Ed

I am a Republican Precinct Committeeperson who has been told not to provide campaign materials regarding Ed Sindles. I listened to him, and he is intelligent and listened to what people had to say. I am going to buck the party and vote for him. See LIPSERVICE page C20

Lakeland Newspapers

Wrong spelling

This is for the Lakeland Sports Department. Your spelling of a Grayslake basketball player was wrong.

Stirring things up

I think Lakeland people should consider the fact that Upservice stirs up a lot of prejudice when it prints things about Black History week. This just stirs up a lot of whites and Hispanics in the area. You should be careful what you print. I also think printing the note about the "old fart" at the end of the street was particularly edifying. When you say things like that you stir things up.

Editorial note: Dear reader, while some remarks in Upservice are particularly repugnant to us, we still feel that it is not our place to impose our opinions on others, particularly on a readers opinion page. Sorry if you were offended.

Praying for them

I would like to thank all the elected and the non-elected officials in Round Lake Beach. We are praying for them and we support them no matter what they do. That's why we elected them.

Filtering

I want to know why you are filtering what goes into Upservice. Years ago, you printed everything, no matter what it was. Lately, you seem to be filtering it. I put in a call about the Round Lake School District and the fact they are not spending money the way they should. We need a new school board. I am a senior citizen who has been hunting and fishing all my life. At 65 I got a free license. Now, they have changed the rules. They want me to pay a reduced fee. Just wait, Edgar, you are not going to get my vote.

He's sick of it

I so damn sick of seeing things like these 19 children being abandoned, left to live like crap, and Chicago being blamed. Why don't we just prosecute and put these damn people in jail when they make their kids live like this? It is pathetic and sick. Instead of blaming government services, let's do something about this.

Insulted

On March 15, the Waterway Agency will be on the ballot for a vote to continue or end the agency. Anyone who has had any dealings with them knows they are not very responsive people or service oriented. Now, the most recent insult. A $4 penalty for not using the preprinted renewal form or for new registrations. I think you guys just signed your own death certificate.

So there

To the person(s) complaining about the Round Lake athletic director, first of all, he is not a head coach. I should know, I hired him. We only hire coaches outside the district when they are qualified and the head coach feels they are more qualified than a person from within. I resent your implications regarding problems within the athletic department. If you have a problem, why don't you come to me. I am Jim Prault, principal of Round Lake High School at 546-5522, extension 3040. Thank you.

No absolutes

The person who called in with pet advice spoke in absolutes, and that is not fair. There are a lot of good pet stores around as well as breeders. But, you just can't look at that note and be sure you get a good animal. You need to do some research to determine what kind of pet you want and why. Regardless of where you get your pet, get a guarantee. Then take the animal to a vet to be checked. It is unfair to say all pet store animals are bad. They need homes too.

All by himself

There does not need to be a conspiracy to destroy Jablonski's reputation. The man is doing it all by himself.

Why?

I would like to complain about the asphalt plant. Why are they building it on side of 134 if the decision has not already been granted? I have been on the waterway for 14 years, and there have been trees on the water. They have been there all summer. When I called the Agency, they told they could do nothing because they have only two employees. In March, with the Waterway Agency on the ballot, I would be careful. While at the moment, tax dollars are not supporting it, it is only a matter of time. Let the Coast Guard and the residents take care of the waterways.

Don't just believe him

Hey Warren Township School Board members. Wake up and try to evaluate the superintendent. Try talking to the teachers instead of taking his word for it.

Change your mind?

This is a response to "Month of Morons." If I won a lawsuit against that radio station would you still call it Month of Morons?

She moved

I have recently moved out of the Round Lake Heights area because of the overpopulation, over destruction, and ignorance towards wildlife. I can't believe you want to slap up some ugly, clapboard, glue-it-yourself homes on 90 acres of beautiful land. I am not going to vote for the mayor. You have got to go, mister.

Good start

This message is for the person who called in "Pet Advice." You are on a pretty good streak there, trying to get people out of the pet stores and off to a reputable breeder of dogs and cats. But, let's go a step further and let's get the dogs and cats that are in the adoption centers/shelters out of there. I work in a shelter and we have plenty of pedigree animals. People get rid of everything.

We don't have to

I am calling about the person who said we should be tithing. I can't believe there are still churches out there trying to do this. Tithing was only set up for the Levitical priesthood who were not allowed to own anything. So if the church was to continue the practice of tithing, they should be living the life of the Levites. Under the new testament, we do not have to tithe.

His opinion

Lipservice my butt. Upservice is for people who have no life to call and talk to a recording.

Ha, ha

Just calling to report an Elvis sighting in a downtown Mundelein video store. Who says it is a ghost town?

Wants hockey

I don't care if you print this or not. I think it is pretty bad when the local newspaper does not print the weekly standings of iceless hockey. The kids and parents both look for it every week. Would it be too much to call someone and get the numbers?

Editorial note: Dear reader, would it be possible for someone in the organization to call us with the scores?

Rumors

I heard through the grapevine that a certain after school program was arrested for contributing to the delinquency of a minor by providing alcohol and was also arrested on a marijuana charge. I don't think he should be working with children. He should have been fired a long time ago.

Barking problem

Enough about cats! My neighbor leaves their dog outside, for hours, barking and barking. I can even hear it through my windows in the wintertime. When I called them, they said there was nothing they could do. I am calling from Island Lake.

More information

Except for those without a voice, I do mind my own business. You failed to tell the Upservice readers that your companion animal had become wrapped around a tree and could not get to his doghouse to escape the 70 degree below zero temperatures when the police arrived.

Good samaritan

I live in the area of "Blocked out", and would be happy to come by with my kids and help you out. If there is some way to get a hold of you? I was also upset about the person who was not allowed to use the phone at the police station. It makes me scared that I live in this area. I will leave my number with the paper, so please call back.

Pricey phone

I am very angry at a local business person who installed an Encore public telephone that charges outrageous prices. This is privately owned and charges over $4 for one minute of service.

Likes the paper

I would just like to call and praise the Antioch News Reporter for the changes they have made in their paper. I used to just buy the paper to read Upservice, but now you can actually read news. You have very good news coverage as well as the school news. Thank you for the changes.

Nepotism

The Round Lake High School Scrooge has been finding ways to create job openings in the school district. He does this by taking the derogatory remarks made by people who do not have a clue, and using them against employees to get them fired. The vacancies are then filled with family members and friends. The school board can see what is going on, why don't they do something about it. Maybe it takes an idiot to see what is happening.

Hates the paper

I hate the new format of your paper. The four sections come apart in the mail and when I sit down to read it, I am continuously fighting all the sections. It is a big hassle. Go back to the old ways of one big paper.

Not her store

I wish the "Bad deal" caller could have identified the store. I own a children's specialty store in Round Lake Beach and the possibility of being misidentified is horrifying. Our store is proud of our customer service and find it hard to believe that any merchant would treat a customer that way. Refund rules are to prevent abuse and should always allow for customer satisfaction. Even if it means having less than 93 cents in the till.

Editorial note: Dear reader, just to keep the record straight, it was not your store the shopper was complaining about. It was one of the chain stores. Hope this helps.

Thanks

Thanks Megan and Ryan for reacting so well after my little mishap. I am really proud of you and think you should know it. Love, Crash.

MICHAEL FOHRMAN
OF FOHRMAN DODGE

Here's an amazing fact...A team once won the national championship in college basketball even though--incredibly--they NEVER played a home game that season!...Holy Cross was the 1947 national champion but they had no gym or arena of their own... They played EVERY game on the road. Yet they were able to win 27 of 30 games, including 23 in a row, and won the college basketball championship of the nation.

Has any basketball player ever scored all his team's points in one game? This amazing feat happened once in a high school game in Alabama... A player named Walter Garrett scored 97 points in one game a few seasons ago, and the final score in that game was 97-54!

Which boxer held the heavyweight championship of the world for the longest time in history?... Answer is Joe Louis who was the heavyweight champ for a record-setting 12 years, from 1937 to 1949.

Carmel looks to end strong Patriot girls continue to dominate

Carmel High was not able to quite match its goal in the Waukegan sectional seeding, but did so on the road Friday at St. Viator.

The Corsairs escaped with a 45-44 win. Carmel is the No. 11 seed in the upcoming Waukegan sectional. Coach Ben Berg was hoping for the 10th spot.

"The kids are playing hard. We were ahead by 7 points but they made a run on us at the end," Berg said of the St. Viator game.

Carmel was led by 13 points from Landon Rose; Dan Stasiak had 12 and Tom Drennan 11.

Carmel led 43-36 into the fourth quarter. The home Lions had a chance to tie the game, but missed two free throws.

Carmel led 15-14 after one and the game slowed considerably in the second with Carmel (5-6 East Suburban Catholic Conference, 8-13 overall) with the visitors outscoring the Lions 5-4.

"We rebounded well against a bigger team," Berg said.

The Corsairs, after battling Wheeling Tuesday in non-conference, are off this weekend.

"It is too early to think about the Notre Dame game. In practice, it can be a bit of an overkill. You want to keep it interesting," Berg said.

Stasiak is maintaining his team scoring lead at 13.5 points per game. Rose is next, approaching 12.

Quiz question: which area girls basketball team beats its conference opponents by more than 20 points, uses subs in the second quarter, but still had not locked up the conference title until Tuesday?

The answer: Stevenson. The No. 1 Pats finally made it official with a 64-21 romp over Lake Forest which successfully defended the North Suburban Conference crown.

Maybe it was during one of those 25-point leads, for example against Lake Forest and Antioch last week, that gave Frank Mattucci the idea.

"We did not wrap it up until the last game last year. Warren and Libertyville still had chances to tie. The league race is like a 12-round boxing match," Mattucci said.

The coach of the state's top-ranked team offered a way to change the way 18 games are locked into each team's schedule.

"There should be two divisions and you play teams in your division twice and teams outside your division once," Mattucci said. "That would free up four games teams could play outside the league."

Stevenson, No. 1 at next week's Highland Park sectional, was paced by Tauja Catchings 21 points and 15 from sister Tamika in the clincher at home.

Tamika Catchings led the way in a 54-20 win at Antioch. Tauja Catchings had 13, Katie Coleman 10.

The Lake Forest game was the last regular season home game for senior Danielle Mall. Stevenson had runs of 16-0 and 21-0. Stevenson, hosts No. 16 Grant Feb. 14 in the first post-season game.

"Antioch is improved and playing hard, but does not have the weapons to play with us," Mattucci said.

Defense not enough for Lancers

College of Lake County's women's basketball team held McHenry's leading scorer to single figures, but enough other Scots more than picked up the slack.

CLC fell 73-43 as McHenry dominated the second half.

"In the first half, we played them tough, but we were not able to sustain the effort in the second half. They were aggressive," CLC Coach Don Zeman said.

CLC was led by Christy Zink's 14 points and Heather Ford had 10. Julie Frankowski had 6 points, but turned in a strong rebounding and defense game.

The Skyway leaders, playing on National Women in Sports Day, extended a 15-point half-time lead to 20-plus. Theresa Amore led the Scots with 19 points. Amy Nelson had 15 for the winners.

For CLC (4-16, 0-7 Skyway), the Lancers now are playing for pride. "We are still playing for pride. We have nothing to lose. Hopefully, we can go out playing some good ball," Zeman said.

Ball bounces go CLC's way

The 1993-94 basketball season will probably not be remembered as the one in which the ball bounced College of Lake County's way.

The men's team watched as close games slipped to losses in a 7-16 season. But that was before a 76-74 win over McHenry.

The Lancers used a basket by Chris Vaughn, a Grayslake grad and two free throws from Justin Hanlin, from Warren, in the final 30 seconds.

The Lancers host Milwaukee Area Technical College at 3 p.m. Feb. 12.

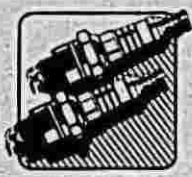

"The area we are most improved in is we are more patient with our offense," Smith said.

Lancer grapplers ready to make impact at meet

College of Lake County wrestlers have an opportunity to make up for a largely frustrating season when the Lancers compete at sectionals in Palatine Feb. 12.

The Lancers fell twice at home on Saturday, 50-0 to nationally ranked Lincoln and 41-12 to Triton. The Lancers' wins against Triton were both by forfeit.

Steve Fuller, 142 pounds, has provided the CLC wrestling fans with excitement this year.

"Fuller has had about seven close matches," CLC Coach Stan Pasiewicz said. "Fuller is a big, tall kid who is not afraid to wrestle."

Fuller, from Mundelein, brings a 10-16 record to the meet at Harper College. Fuller's latest close call came in a 9-8 loss to Triton.

Bubeck is 4-2 in two different weight classes after becoming eligible for the team in January. "He is a tough kid with a chance to go to nationals," Pasiewicz said.

The Lancers did receive good news last week. They upped their dual win total to three with a 34-11 win over Oakton and a 30-12 win over DuPage.

John Keaskowski, from Round Lake, is 4-3 at 134 pounds and has a "solid chance" to advance, the coach said.

Brian Grasser, from Antioch, earned his first pin and a fifth-place finish at 150 pounds. "Grasser works hard, but is overpowered at 150," Pasiewicz said.

Showing promise is Dan Benz, a 158-pounder from Warren.

With the North Suburban Conference title all but locked up, what is left for the seventh-best team in the state?

There is making sure of the top sectional seed at Waukegan, then going out and easily downing Fenton and Lake Forest. And maybe with an eye to a scoring record—that is what Mundelein High's boys basketball team accomplished last week.

Mundelein can wrap up its first NSC title in decades with a win Feb. 12 against Warren before another expected packed house at MHS. Game time is 7:30 p.m., but a word to the wise is to arrive in time for the sophomore game at 6 p.m.

Warren comes into the contest a winner in five of its last six games. The Blue Devils improved to 7-5, 13-8 with wins over Lake Forest and Stevenson.

Kyle Kessel scored 24 points in an 82-68 win over Lake Forest.

He is within 100 points of Lee Oler of Wauconda's all-time county mark of 1,789 points.

"That is the farthest thing from his mind," Coach Dennis Kessel said.

The Mustangs improved to 13-0 NSC, 21-1 overall.

"We played hard, but we did not have a real good week," Coach Kessel said.

Sean Stackhouse led the way with an 86-66 win over Fenton Friday. Stackhouse scored 25 points and Kessel had 16.

Against the Scouts, Thad Miller had 18, Brian McMahon 11.

The Saturday game before another hostile and packed crowd was very much in doubt for three quarters. Lake Forest led, in fact, by 4 before a 32-14 Mundelein run sealed the win.

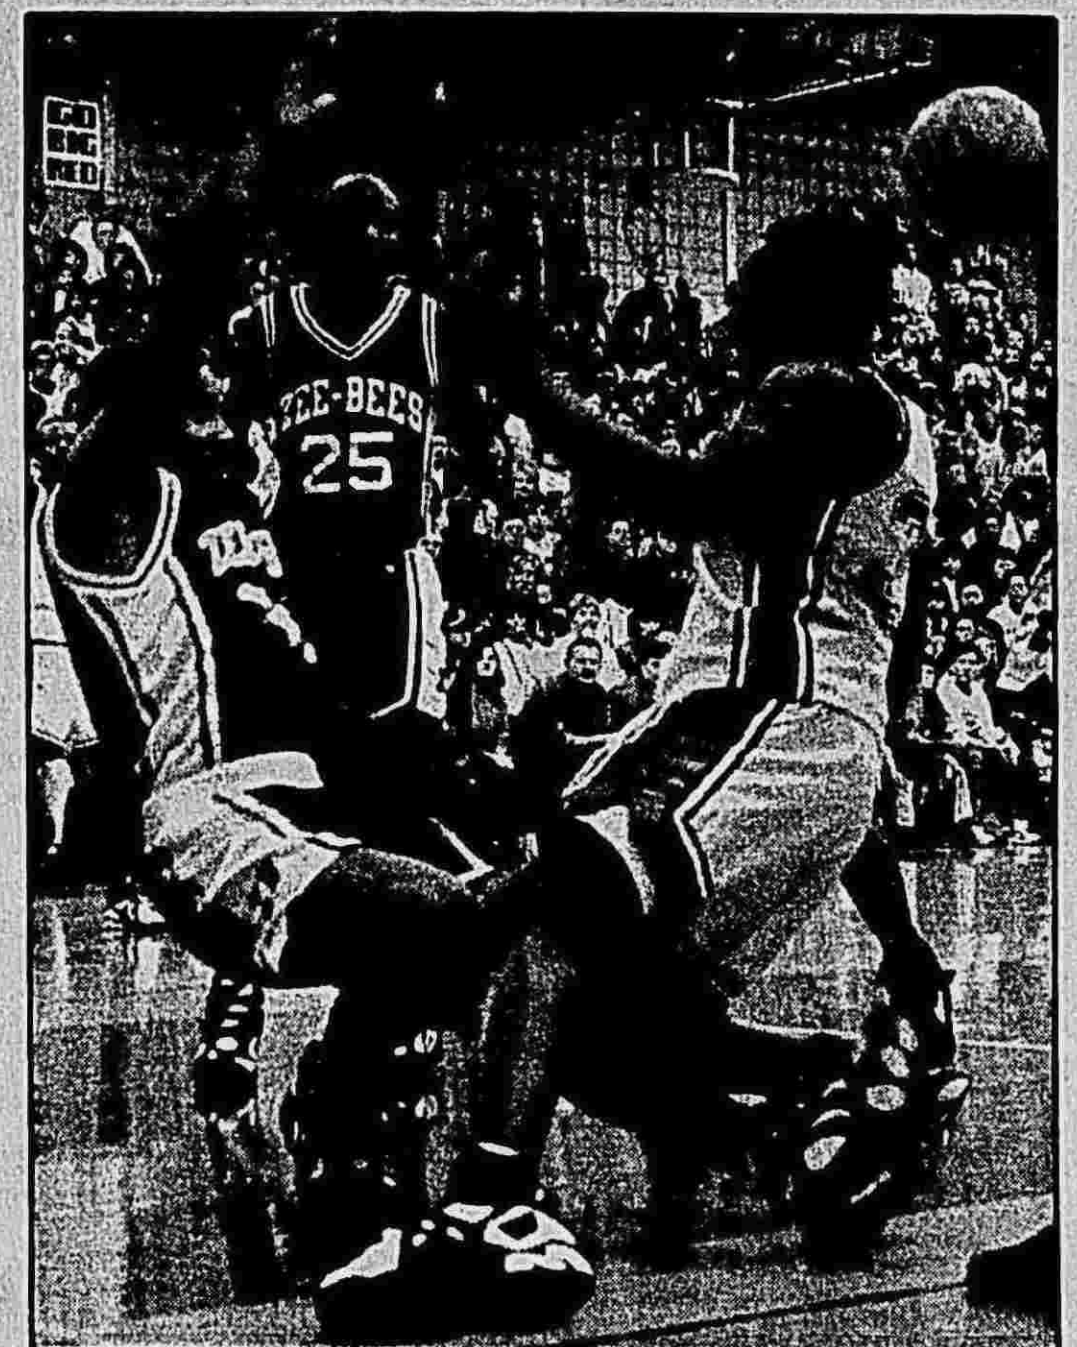

WKRS will air NSC contests

Radio station WKRS will broadcast two high school boys basketball games this weekend, both featuring North Suburban Conference tilts.

Libertyville at Warren will be the contest Friday, Feb. 11 at 7:20 p.m. pre-game, 7:30 p.m. tipoff.

Mike Moyer will handle the play-by-play, Lou Jacobs the color commentary.

Zion-Benton at Fenton will be the game Saturday, Feb. 12. Dan Coppola will handle the play-by-play, Joe Blakely the color commentary.

Lake Villa youngster sweeps Tae Kwon Do competition

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Although just opened, the "D's Martial Arts System has already achieved success.

Nine-year-old Terry Appel brought home three first-place trophies at a meet held at John Hersey High in Arlington Heights Feb. 6.

Appel swept all three categories in his blue belt division. He won first place in forms (a pre-arranged fighting technique), then first in board breaking, demonstrating powerful sidekicks to both the left and the right by blasting through two one-inch pine boards.

"What is unique about this is Terry has been competing in a relatively undisciplined open style of karate for a year and a half. Only a month ago did he decide to compete in the very disciplined Tae Kwon Do," Mike Dungjen, owner, said.

Appel, of Lake Villa, is in training for a March 6 competition at Illinois State Tae Kwon Do championship at Triton College in River Grove.

The Round Lake Park business opened in January. Dungjen, a decorated Vietnam veteran, believes martial arts teaches higher goals than just kicking boards.

Dungjen works at the North Chicago Veterans Medical Center as an ambulance operator and patient transporter. He graduated from Highland Park High and enlisted in the Marines.

"The true martial artist is, or should be, efficient at caring about others as well as efficient at the art of empty-handed defenses. A true martial artist has strong moral character and lives his life by a set of strong principles. Eventually the student of the martial arts builds a very strong structure of self-confidence and esteem that is unmatched," Dungjen said.

He said his goal is to "change society for the better. I firmly believe that our children can change things for the better," he said.

While the programs are geared toward children's classes, Dungjen enjoys working with adults as well.

Students may progress through the system from white belt to black belt. Tenets of Tae Kwon Do are stressed in every session. They are: courtesy, integrity, perseverance, self-control and indomitable spirit.
